Thread: Beginners Hacking Group

kfhmad - May 27, 2014, 1:37 pm

Hey all, I was wondering if anyone wanted to start a beginners hacking group. I think this would be a great idea as it would stop people asking stuff about keyloggers, rats and defacing a site(seen too many of these threads), we would all get together and we can help each other out. There is not maximum number of places and all are welcome. This is probably not the first beginners hacking group, but I'm interested to see the results, if it helps or not. If you are interested pm me and I will send you my skype name or leave your skype name below and I will add you shortly. Thanks

Not trying to be rude but, you only have 44 posts and you want to start a group..?

And what experience do you have regarding hacking?

Not trying to be rude but, he's been on the forum longer than you. Why assume post count means anything?
