Thread: [\[Gaming Forum\] SNIPERS HIDEOUT ~ Community for all the sniper gamers out there!!!!](#)

olaola - June 4, 2014, 2:01 pm

Sniper Forums is a online sniping community where you can participate in active discussions, find various resources, earn awesome awards and so much more.

Everyone and anyone is welcome to join even if you don't know much about the community you can learn! If you are looking for a community where you are around snipers of your kind, join our community today. Together we can revive the sniping community!

Nothing too special, I know. However with more members and everyone spreading the, the forum will be filled with content and fun activities. There are some tweaks and what not we'll be doing, but decided to release it now. I think it's finished to that regard.

We will be hosting contests and gaming tournaments that will win you prizes and awards on the forum. Just go check it out! Thanks.

Some feedback would be nice as well :)

EDIT: Here's his website since he didn't link it in the OP, courtesy of Addiction.

Your niche forum may be too small of a niche to attract enough attention, you might want to revisit your plan a little.

Also, this thread is not a showcase of a website or asking for a review of a website, this is just a concept.

If you put a Link, that would be nice :)

I doubt he has a website up yet, this is clearly just an idea.

He's probably looking if anyone's interested in it before he begins or something.

He actually does have a website up, it is called snipershideout.com, he just didn't add it to the OP.

Thanks for clearing that up, I've added the the link to my first reply so people can see it if he doesn't add it.

Now, about the forum itself, it looks decent, I don't really have anything else to remark about it.

Doesnt look like a Bad site for maybe you and your Friends.

But i would rather Make a Gaming site and not Focus it to much on Snipers / Trickshooters...
