Thread: Enterprise | Recruitment | 10 Members | 1 Week

~HF~ - June 8, 2014, 2:22 pm

Introduction:

Enterprise is a group of selected individuals that will specialise in Business, Marketing and Monetizing. We strive to help the community of hackforums, with help desks, tutorials and giveaways. Inside the sub-forum we will mainly adapt and create methods of making money online, along with many other things.

You will be required to pay $100 through commissions from what you earn from the group. One time payment. Must be paid in a month or less. Just confirming the money will only be taken from earnings from our own methods and anything else we do, and will only be made to pay the $100 once you earn your own money from our methods.

Only ten members will be accepted from this recruitment thread.

Seems like a cool group, good luck to all applicants.

Darkwin - June 8, 2014, 2:34 pm

Your experience in Business, marketing or monetizing:

I have a vast amount of knowledge in different business aspects, I have researched and engaged in almost all internet monetizing methods (EBay/Dropshipping & Reselling, PPD/PPI/PPC/CPA/AFF, eWhoring, Cold-Calling, Real Estate/Generated leads, crypto-currency, site-flipping, niche building etc.)

Example sites or products on hackforums and outside of hackforums:

I have owned/operated and/or financed many products within HF here are a few.

NetFlirts.net - eWhoring community established in 2010, However we sold the site to another member and wasn't until last month that me and my partner decided to take it over and re-make it.

CashBin - Pay-Per-Download site/community founded by our team in 2011 was around for 1.5 years and later discontinued.

eWhore.Pro - At one point the #1 eWhoring forum created after selling our previous one, This forum was composed of 3.5k+ members and VERY active userbase, We had our own line of products as well as tutorials/eBooks and unsaturated sources for the community.

Camtrix - As of 2013 this has been our company / brand name, We frequently release eWhoring products for the masses. Originally Camtrix was supposed to be our eWhoring tool found here, but it later on became bigger than that.

Release - A Movie site once operated by me and my former partner, It was eventually seized and well partner got into some legal problems.

NuVPN - An VPN targeted towards the eWhoring community, The project was sold to an fellow HF member i'm no longer involved but here is a overview of our earnings.

Affordable Premium VCW's - An service provided by Camtrix me and my partner create fresh eWhoring tools & products monthly , We have been in business for almost a year now and are constantly revolutionizing the eWhoring industry with new/unique products.

Information about yourself:

My name is Darkwin i'm 18+ am bilingual as well as in the process of learning several languages, I have former training in communications as well as in Marketing. Am always looking for new way of monetizing on the internet, I dislike anything that has to do with the sale of eBook's not that i find eBooks to be bad but i think HF members have given eBooks a bad rep. Business & Marketing are my life as cliché as that may sound, I enjoy everything about it from creating a brand to business planning/start-up calculations etc. #Supply&Demand

Provide proof of any earnings: That's a bit unorthodox, If you want to see my earnings PM me i don't plan on broadcasting it publicly.

Your skill set:

Branding / Min. Web-Dev/Design / Business planning & More.

Why you want to be in Enterprise:

Its exciting to find new methods of profiting and i'm always searching for hot niches and browsing for whats in-demand as well as being creative when it comes to marketing & branding of a product. It would be awesome to join this group since it would give me an opportunity to be active & share knowledge/methods with other fellow group members, Am looking forward to seeing which members got accepted looks like a great group & wish the leaders the best.

What will Enterprise gain from you being in it: Your group will gain a friendly, trustworthy, loyal & active member. I will be as active as possible and contribute vastly within the sub-forum as well as assist the members with anything they need.

Cyrus - June 8, 2014, 2:40 pm

I have a past experience in CPA (Adnooka + Adworkmedia), eWhoring, affiliate marketing + buying cheap then marketing things such as ebooks at a dearer price then selling the resale rights for profit.

For example I bought an ebook for 300 omc when omc was at $1:300 by convincing the person that it was going to become very profitable etc, he accepted it and I made around $240-260 BTC & Paypal. And a few thousand Omnicoin. I've also done it with another eWhoring ebook before etc.

I'd love to join the group and would be more than happy on paying up money that I earn with your methods, I would have done so even if it wasn't required if I was accepted into the group.

EDIT: Oh, I also got a load of Microsoft product codes before from #LulzVex and made mad bank and I didn't even get charged money by #LulzVex for the code. I made about $300+ from this. People tried to get refunds etc but that didn't happen.

Fizzie - June 8, 2014, 2:40 pm

Hello my name is Fizzie.

I have a lot of experience in currency exchange here on HF. I also just started to market my new book.

Apart from HF, I do business flipping cars on Craigslist.

As a hobby and skill set, I service appliances for customers. I can fix anything from washers and dryers to refrigerators and ovens.

I am also very knowledgeable with Minecraft server hosting. From experience, I have learned how to properly advertise, manage, and profit from running a server. Another skill set I have is auto body works. This summer I have acquired a job at a work shop where I will be working on cars, mostly body work.

I also work with architecture and I know how to design drawing plans / create model scales of buildings / new creations.

So I do a lot of stuff off of the internet, I have experience in many fields.

How ever just for the internet business, I mainly exchange currency / manage MC servers.

I want to join Enterprise because I see the potential in this group. I want to gain more experience with marketing / profiting and also be able to share my knowledge with others.

By being a member of Enterprise, I can share my knowledge with other members and contribute with anything that the group calls for ie; giveaways, things that apply to my skill sets etc.

I do meet all of the requirements and hopefully I am considered to join Enterprise.

Hope to hear from you guys soon!

I run multiple services on other forums that's are well popular, there's only one service that's the most popular of all of them. I well know how to communicate and deal with my customers the right way. And of course not make them disappointed. I make a good amount of money within a month. I have many experience with selling and knowing how to bring customers and there interest. I'd like to be in Enterprise because I think I have the rights skills to be apart of this group. I'll bring much activities and be apart of what other members of the Enterprise do. I will as well share my knowledges to teach other members. I'll as well do high quality presented give-aways in the regards of Enterprise I'll be active in the sub-forum as I browse HackForums daily.

I appreciate the read, thanks. ?

Hello. My name is Fa7e. I am 16 years old I am soon to be a Junior in High School. Over my time on HackForums, I have developed an interest in Business/Marketing. I feel that I can contribute a vast range of knowledge in all aspects of Marketing. In my Marketing career, I have only made around half of my earnings through HackForums. I have done service offerings such as Doxing Services, PPD/CPA, Niche Building, eBook Layouts, etc. I have also sold 2 high quality eBooks which have received very positive feedback as well. I hope that I can share my business knowledge with everyone in Enterprise. I would be honored to be accepted in to your group.

The Illusionist - June 8, 2014, 2:56 pm

Introduction:

I'm The Illusionist and joined HF back in 2012, in these 2 years my love for HF haves grown so much. The things I liked the most where marketing and the entire social aspect from this Forum.

General info:

I'm 17 years old currently doing this study "Human Technology" and I'm in time zone CET.

Experience in marketing:

Like I started in my introduction I liked the marketing part of HF and made many deals and trades here.

So I first started off selling Steam accounts, I've probably sold over 100 Steam accounts and make some fair amount of money doing this.

Than I joined the League of Legends OG names market, I've sold around 30 OG names all worth above 10$ some up to 20$.

Most of my earnings where spend here on HF on other products etc. Because I started to make money on HF I wanted to give back to the community because they made me money so it would be fair to give them some.

I've also made multiple MineCraft servers all of them had a decent ammount of players because of my advertising skills.

Here are some threads of giveaways and shops I've made.

Noticable thread: (10k views)

<https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=3627424>

I have a ton of threads me selling the League of Legends OG accounts to many to all list.

My skills:

Because I've been selling, trading and making deals for roughly 2 years I have quite some experience in all of this. I know how to set up a stable product and I know how to advertise it. Of course I've knowledge of all kinds of things around marketing.

What will Enterprise gain from you being in it?

A dedicated member. I really want to get up and help this group to the top. I have experience in different user groups and know how everything works. I have vacation in the next couple of weeks and this will give me so much time and I would be happy to spend a big part of this time in the Enterprise.

Why you want to be in Enterprise?

Because I will have so much spare time in a couple of weeks I want to use this on a wise way. Rather doing random stuff on the Internet and only playing games I want to make money and help other members to make money and share my knowledge. And earning money will of course allow me to do a ton of giveaways and this is something I always liked.

Thanks for giving me this chance to join The Enterprise.

Homeland. - June 8, 2014, 2:58 pm

Your experience in Business, marketing or monetizing: I am very experience in the League of Legends section / business aspect. I have been making money online since I was about 16 (currently 20 now) and have a lot of experience in customer service and marketing in general.

Example sites or products on hackforums and outside of hackforums.

<https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=4167543> My Pax skins sales, this made me roughly $2,000 in about a week. If you are interested in how I accomplished this please send me a PM.

<https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=4028858> My ebook on how to eWhore. This one made me roughly $400 in sales.

<https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=4017975> My ebook on Ebaying which made me around $900 in sales.

As far as proof of earnings, I can only go back to May for statements in my paypal. As you see in this picture, when I first started selling my skins I only had $21 in my paypal and managed to turn that into about $2,000.

Here is some earnings through my paypal. Half of my sales were through Hackforums and the rest were through Ebay.

Information about yourself. I'm 20 years old, college student study Criminal Justice. I've been on Hackforums for a little over a year and have learned many things about business through a few specific users (almost like an apprenticeship). I am on a computer almost all the time and am constantly looking for new niches or methods of making money.

Your skill set. Business, marketing, customer service

Why you want to be in Enterprise. I feel like it would be a really good experience to be in a marketing group and feel like I can expand my knowledge in the business aspect by studying the leaders and banding together with other members to produce amazing products to users.

What will Enterprise gain from you being in it. I believe that Enterprise will gain some knowledge of the League of Legends market and how big it really is. I have some future ideas for products in this specific area and hope that together some members from within can work with me to release some really amazing products.

Compulsive's Application

Pre-app Notes

This is my application. I am telling the truth in this, and would like to say before you start reading my application (and others), that I would like to say thank you for giving everyone the opportunity to apply. I would also like to thank Astonish and ~HF~ for taking the time and reading these applications.

About me

My name is CJ. I have been on Hackforums since August of 2013. Since then , I have taken some breaks, and have not been constantly active. Now that some personal problems have been cleared up, I can be more active(yay!). When I first joined, I was looking for something related to Minecraft. I shortly gave up, and decided to make an account. I was interested in money making, but did not find a niche I would find interesting. There was one which I made money on, and liked it, until I gave up on it.

Why?

I would like to join Enterprise because I feel that I can live up to the expectations, and that I can deliver. I am more active, and less active in real life, so I can do more now. Right now, I volunteer with under-privileged kids, as well as first and second graders. I know how to talk to people of certain ages, and know when to change how I communicate appropriately. This translates in business too! There, you have to consult with customers, and really make them feel happy, and make them feel like a person, and not rubbish.

From Enterprise, I would learn new ways and new perspectives on business, as well as marketing. Monetizing is a given in this group, and i feel that Enterprise would show me the ropes of making money, and figuring about ways that i can start to grow my knowledge in monetizing, marketing, and business, without the help of others. Of course, this will take some time, but nothing is impossible.

Requirements:No warning levels : I have 10%, and I was in this group chat, and someone said to vouch on his thread, and I did. I did not know who he was, but was feeling generous. I did not know that I would get this warning level. If this is a problem, then I am sorry you had to read all of this.

I have worked with my grandma for some time, answering calls, making labels, and talking to other employees about problems. Marketing I am somewhat good at. I have a knack of having an estimated guess, and am good at reverse thinking. I always think about something from the buyer/seller's position, and change accordingly. I am also starting a social shop, and when I finish that, hopefully a currency exchange.

I understand you are recruiting a graphic designer from what you've told me.

Name:

Alec

Age:

16

Skills:

Graphic design, web development, online marketing

Experience:

Over my three years of experience in graphic designer and web development, I've started my own company/team (<http://incentivegames.co.uk>) and have built my online portfolio (www.fadegraphics.net). I specialize in mostly personal-use design, and have worked on some corporate projects such as a label for an energy drink, a full CPA/PPD site with BTC payouts, and have even developed a few iPhone and Android games with my team.

As for online marketing, I've mainly been working with CPA and have earn a few hundred per week from the methods I have. Honestly I'm looking to expand my knowledge with online marketing, which is why I think my urge to learn is a great reason why I think I should be in this group. I can share my graphics knowledge while taking in everyone's marketing knowledge. I'm a hard worker; I always work on multiple projects at once and don't stop until they're completed at their full potential. Anything I'm involve with or am working on I fully dedicate myself too, which is exactly what I would do if I was a part of this group.

I have over a year of experience in marketing and over three years in graphic design.

[align=center]About:

Hello everyone, my name is Tizzy! However, you can call me Chris or Christopher. In my 12 years of being a computer addict I've learned a lot and I specialize in multiple fields such as marketing, social engineering, coding, marketing but, above all I'm a graphic designer. I have over 3 years of experience in digital designing programs such as Adobe™ Photoshop and Maxon™ Cinema 4D. I used to be an excellent drawer and always doodled in school when I had the time or when I was bored however, I always frustrated that it took so much time to make something precise or perfect. I was intrigued by digital design so I then downloaded Adobe™ Photoshop and afterwards I watched tutorials and was so amazed how you could make perfect projects so easily. From that point forward I studied everything about Photoshop and three years later I'm a great designer and currently do digital design as a part time job. I know this isn't a super detailed story but I wanted to sum up what I'm all about. I'm currently 15 years old and I make a fair amount of income from graphic design and I'm a very outgoing and sincere computer nerd. If you would like to see some of my work you can check out my old Behance Portfolio as well as my new Behance Portfolio. Currently I'm running a Graphics Service and I've already made around $500.00 USD with it.

Turtle???? - June 8, 2014, 3:29 pm

Introduction:

Hello, my name is Yak. I'm a business enthusiast, gamer, and programmer. I love commending business and am always on the marketplace, striving for opportunities to monetize. I've developed a niche for money with my homework service, and have been making tons of money ever since starting up this business. Being an avid gamer and a strategist, I have always thought of ways to excel progression in tasks I complete. This is seen outside of the gaming realm as well, as I am a sophomore in high school with a 3.93 GPA with 5 APs taken over the course of my last 2 years of high school, simply because having an advanced high school education will serve as a catalyst for connecting with the outside world. I am a USAJMO qualifier, which helps bolster my academia as it shows that I'm an avid thinker. Also, I won 7th in the nation for the ARML competition this year. With all of these put into perspective, what does this allow me to do for this group and how does it connect to Enterprise specifically? Having a strong background and knowledge of marketing with a good basis of math and programming allows for the fundamentals of a successful market to be opened, and that is what I've accomplished in my 3 months of being on HackForums. I feel that I will have the ability to help Enterprise thrive and I have a lot of business plans that I would love to implement into this new group, and those will be further explained as I progress through my application.

Proof of profit:

This is simply from May 26th until June 6th, and it has all bin from my Homework Service. 2 of the assignments that I am receiving 300$ each for competition are from TAQ and ninjasam17, who can both confirm their payments during this time (keep in mind, TAQ has also only sent roughly half of it). It says 818$ because I refunded Ninja 300$ that he sent, so in actuality it would be 518$ + the 175$ that TAQ is paying, yielding roughly 700$ in about 10 days. I can show payment activity to you through team viewer or PM, but I do not want to release HF members real names to public. People can post pictures of mine and it could all be from exchanging currencies, however I can show you that these are indeed non "inspect element change number" pictures and real, legitimate data. After all, anyone can just change they're paypal balance, but unless they show you through TV it has no difference. I make around 200-800$ a week from my homework service (on average) meaning I at least making 800$ a month. This is bare minimum and only during times such as when I have finals or a lot of school work.

Strengths:

My strengths were highlighted in the introduction, however it is only appropriate for me to break it down further as for you to assess whether or not I will be a viable member of Enterprise.

Coding: RuneScape, a game that is reputed for being utter shit in today's state, but merely 7 years ago the game was one of the most successful and thriving games in the MMO scene. Not only did I produce pking content for the game, as highlighted here:

<https://www.youtube.com/user/TurtleItSelf>

but I was able to grasp an interest in progressing my characters levels faster. This when I entered the "bot" scene, and became interested in writing private scripts through Simba. I eventually partnered with people such as iKiko for selling scripts such as iDungeon (<http://www.powerbot.org/community/topic/732573-idungeon/>) for massive amounts of profits. At the time, however, I did it mainly for fun and interest. iDungeon, although under iKiko, had dozens of avid coders such as me helping him implement and solve the myriads of permutations in the vast realm of dungeoneering. That was the largest project I took apart in, but I've recently picked up an interest for coding and developing games. I have multiple examples of games that I have created, however the 2 i am most proud of are my Hunt the Wumpus finalist game, which was a 5 man group project that 4 other students in my APCS class took to the next level and created a game that played much like a simpler version of pokemon. Each of us focused on 5 different objects to talk the problem efficiently; I took the task of managing a highscores object and GUI, both of which I found extremely interesting. Hunt the Wumpus is a Microsoft sponsored competition, http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Hunt_the_Wumpus, and I was fortunate enough to have a team full of devout programmers who wanted to actually win the competition rather than grab a few points in our APCS class. Although we didn't win, we were selected as top 3 candidates for the best implementation of the game as well as design. Another project that I teamed with a bunch of friends with is the app LightRunner, which is a game available on Google Play. This again is a rather simple game, where the player object has the ability to move around on the screen and shines a light against cubes which each have health bars. Very addictive (possibly biased since i made it) but I enjoy it none the less.

Business:

I'm new to HackForums, however in the time that I've joined I've hopped on business ideas and learned quickly. I started teaming up for a Homework services as PPD, eWhoring, and all of those other moneymaking methods never worked for me. The homework service, however, made me 500$ in my first week. Soon I realized the opportunities that I could do as a manager of my own product, and started and branded my own homework service which since has received many positive reviews and happy paper receivers. This business, unlike others, is unique and successful, but what makes it so powerful is that it isn't mind numbing like other business. I'm completing work that is actually academically enhancing my knowledge, and I've learned a lot about time management and who to deal with whilst doing this service. Being able to manage such a business isn't always easy for me, however I've fine-tuned communication and from what I think have created quite a successful brand name for myself.

Academia: My homework service and GPA should speak for themselves, however to further the notion of my strength in thinking, I'd like to elaborate on the competitions i spoke of the introduction. http://www.artofproblemsolving.com/Wiki/index.php/United_States_of_America_Junior_Mathematical_Olympiad, USAJMO, is the competition that I qualified for, and it is apart of the AMC series, a highly competitive and selective competition that tests one's math problem solving skills. Math is an important part of any business and coding, and I'm sure that being able to rigorous proofs such as the level of AIME and USAJMO will allow for a strong basis of problem solving and allow for me to help monetize with Enterprise.

What do I bring to Enterprise:

With my strong abilities to market and profit, I would be very interested in some business proposals that can be implemented with the help of users of the group, and this in turn can help raise money for the group's members. The goal is to help people with my skill set as well as make Enterprise known for its marketing and business.

Conclusion: So what does this all mean? I feel that my characteristics fit with Enterprise, and I think that I will be a good match for the group. I have published a game on the Google Play store, and have gotten recognition from Microsoft for their Hunt the Wumpus competition. I was once a coder in presumably the largest cheating scandal for a game, specifically MMO, and have many other skills that I'm sure can somehow benefit me in Enterprise. I'd say that I'm pretty relaxed, but hardworking. I'm committed and I think that this would be a great fit for me. I look forward to seeing other applicants and bid luck to the 10 people that get in.

My experience in the HF marketplace, real life, and over all is quite big and vast.

Currently, I have a shop open right now on HF called Social Fancy, and in just 2 days of having it open,

I have drawn in a total in net profit, $21.83 being as the panel I am using costs $10 USD for funds

Not to mention I am starting another project with 3 members of hack forums, that is going to be custom coded, all business matters will be handled by me.

I can make thread designs, design e-books as well as many other things.

Also speaking of e-books, I have made 3 e-books in my past.

Those e-books together have made me $500+ USD
I do not have proof, sorry.

and none of them were how to make money books.

However, I did make an e-book on how to make bank with methods that I used, but surprisingly it got 0 sales.

Now for my knowledge outside of HF marketplace and in real life, I do still make bank.

At my school, my teachers were working on websites to where we could go and get our work from and two of my teachers hired me, and I designed them a simple website, and I was paid $60 from each teacher.

Also nearing the end of the school year, I convened one of my teachers to invest in $50 for me, so I could go and buy boxes of candy, and soda.

Each day before school I pulled 10 cold ones from 5 different types of soda, put them in my backpack and also got a lot of candy and tossed them in there.

I went to the bus loop at school sharp and early before any other students went there, and moved a pick-nick bench over by the bus loop, which by the way is how 80% of the students get to school, so I knew I would make the most money setting up shop there, while at the same time sitting where no administration was so I could be safe and not interrupted during sales time.

When students arrived, I sold a can of soda for $1.50 and a bar of candy/pack of candy for $0.75 each.

I started making a big profit which after that week and me running out of stuff I went from spending $50 to making over $85+.

So there on by the end of the year, I have made over $2500+ just from selling soda and candy.

Again no proof, but either way it was a thrilling and knowledgeable experience.

Also, as for me selling and getting people to purchase my wares I can haggle, bargain, and convince people to buying my services while at the same time keeping a code, only sell to those who want to buy, while at the same time giving them the best deals and giving them quality service.

Thank you for taking time to read my application, it would be a honor to join this group.

To begin my application, I'm an experienced marketer and an online monetizer, I have made a nice amount of money using all kinds of online money making methods, whether It's the selling and buying of products and online items, PPD, advertisement and online publicity, graphic services in addition to video editing services, online-gaming services and the selling of gaming accounts, Youtube partnership monetization and adsense, or just personally developed methods and private techniques.

Some examples of the products, services and sources for money that I have on and off HF:

I've been here since 2009 and I've never been in a group, never found a group that satisfies my needs, never found a group that gave me an urge to join it to be honest. However, I do have that feeling for Enterprise, I see great potential in this group and if I've ever learned anything throughout my years of online business, it's to trust my instinct. Strong groups become strong because of their strong and supporting members, and I feel like I can be a member that can provide Enterprise the support it needs.

Thank you for your time, I really appreciate it and hope I did well considering this is my first group application on HF yet.

Hello ~HF~,

This will be my application for Enterprise!

Your experience in Business, marketing or monetizing.

My experiences with monetizing isn't that astonishing.

I've got a GFX service going and selling some Minecraft accounts.

I'm currently writing an eBook for my private method, I'm not going to say too much about it tough. It's not that hard really.

Tough I have these services going, it's hard for me to earn some money online. I've tried quite a few things but the ones that really work are those where you actually do something, and it's not even that much that you earn.

That's why I want to join this group. To really learn how to make some money!

Information about yourself.

I'm a 16 years old student from Belgium.

I study Multimedia, this is basically learning to design, video editing, web design, ...

I want to use these skills later because I'd like to start up my own business.

I've got a weekend job, first work day is next saturday! :D

I'm super excited about it because this will be the first time making BIG money.

I'm more of a spender than a saver, but I'm trying to change that.

Provide proof of any earnings.

These are the earnings from all the deals I do on forums and other stuff that requires PayPal.

Troubleshooting for OSX, IOS and Android.

Mobile phone hacking (Everything that involves rooting or jail breaking)

Mixing music

Those are really all the skills I have computer related.

Why you want to be in Enterprise?

Well mainly I just want to learn how to make money from you guys, but I'd also like to share my methods.

I'd like to do something to earn it and I'm really motivated to do so. But I don't really know where to start.

I just think I would perfectly fit in this group because it's really what I'm looking for!

What will Enterprise gain from you being in it.

Well a $100! haha.

But seriously, I will be that one HQ member sharing all the money making methods I know so you guys don't have to spend a shit load of money on all the not working ebooks on this forum.

Anything else you'd like to say?

Not really, I'd just like to thank you guys for giving us HF members the opportunity to learn the good methods.

I really hope you will accept me and if I do, I won't disappoint you guys!

Have a nice day!

Explain, with detailed examples, what your skills are: Online, my main general skills involve Linux server administration, minecraft server development and administration and managing a whole community. This is all shown through my endless efforts into my gaming servers. I currently own and operate a fairly successful minecraft server network which has a healthy and friendly community. I manage the backend work of the servers but also help with the management of the community itself. This was all built from the ground up (a year and a half ago) and we are still going strong. I also consider myself quite an avid businessman and marketer. I haven't really invested my time into many products that are/were placed on here but as I have met some amazing people on here, I have decided to partner up with those I consider my friends and don't currently have a way of making money, to provide them with the funding and support needed to create a product line.

Off site is my bigger emphasis as I have extended myself into far reaches of the Earth for this one. In 2012, while I maintained a part time position in a Law firm as a Paralegal, I was also completing my Diploma of Law (fulltime - 3 days a week) at a private College but also, on weekends I was completing my Advance Diploma of Marketing which took me little over a year and 2 months (no holidays) and this was accelerated but at the time, the Advance Diploma of Marketing course was looking at closing because there was a lack of industry professionals willing to teach. I always wanted to have a qualification in Marketing so I bit the bullet and went for it. It all paid off in the end which I finished with excellent results. I advanced my Diploma of Law to become a Senior Paralegal of the Law firm I currently work at and it also helped me (with multiple interviews and a few letters from respected individuals) to get me into one of the more prestigious Universities within Australia where I have recently completed my first year of my Law degree with great results and moving onto my second year next semester.

I also provide property related services to private clients which include but are not limited to; Transfer of land all the way through to transfer of a deed. I don't provide legal advice but I am qualified to start and complete the process of any property related matter. If it comes to a situation where there is a dispute about the process, land or anything pertaining to the case then that can only be handled by a Lawyer. I was thinking of turning this into a privately owned service, but I have yet to contemplate that as that may take me away from my studies with a higher amount of customers that will be seeking the same thing.

Besides that, there isn't really much else. I do have a high level of interest in sport, more particularly, Rugby League which I currently play and play at a representative level during season but I wouldn't really call it a skill but that's just me.

Which section are you most active in and why? I'm very active in the Marketplace, as I stated in my information above, I am a business type of person who will go out to try and buy a project where as possible or find a partnership for someone who I believe would be extremely committed and devoted to not only the project but customers. Based off where I spend most of my posting though would definitely be within the Infamous Sub-forum.

Why do you want to join Enterprise in particular?: Not only would it be an excellent learning curve to develop my skills but also develop new skills as a whole, I believe Enterprise has extraordinary potential with the members that are at the gain of Enterprise. I would really love to meet some new members and potentially make new friends, having fun in the sub-forum but also showing my commitment and dedication to the group by continuing its journey to becoming one of the most high quality but fun/relaxed groups you can possibly be in. Not only this but I can share my 'professional' business skills and legal services to the group and share what is needed and wanted. It would also be an excellent learning curve for myself with such high profile potential.

Why do you personally feel you deserve to and should be accepted into Enterprise? I believe I offer a general edge and uniqueness to The Empire which many of the members possess in their own way. My skills is something that not a great deal of members have extensive knowledge on (mainly Law related and Marketing related *Qualification) but also that throughout my life, I have never isolated anyone out that I have met, whether it be what society deems as a 'nerd' or just a straight out popular person, I have always had the personality and traits to communicate and enjoy my time with all people. I am a fun loving person that has a serious side when it needs to be applied but I also have the side to be which I just want to have fun, be relaxed and enjoy life as it comes. I believe I could provide these exact qualities and more to Enterprise.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself personally or possibly something quite memorable that happened in your life, or an explanation of what makes you who you are and who are you: Going off my skills, when I was in grade 8 I worked out what I wanted to do as a career in my life, I knew from then I had a great passion for the Legal Framework, both on a domestic and international scale. I never finished school, I was what everyone calls a 'drop out' this was elected by me, because I felt as though school didn't offer what I needed to achieve my goals. I left at the end of grade 10 and I was accepted into a private college at the age of 16 which I studied with people who had finished school (18 years of age) right through to people who were 32. Not to boast of anything, but I was what I consider one of the more popular people as the course students had their own groups, I was friends with majority of the groups (I wouldn't say all). During this time, I completed my Diploma of Law and my Advance Diploma of Marketing. I achieved excellent results in both courses, but bettering myself in my Diploma of Law.

I used this qualification to help me accelerate myself into not only a part-time position at a Law firm but also into a prestigious Law School in Australia. I recently completed my first year achieving high-end results and will soon be moving into my second year of my Degree.

As a person, I am a fun loving, family orientated person. I love my friends and my family. I spend every moment I can with my girlfriend, as we hope to get engaged soon (I know, a little early, but that is what love does) and spend my time with friends when I can but also my family as much as possible. I never live life with regrets, as I never reminisce on the past but develop for the future. I cherish my time with all the people I can but continue to drive for my goals and ambitions both online and in reality.

Where do your priorities in life lie? What is most important to you? Family/Girlfriend, Studies then my friends. I would like to note that I consider my studies and friends just as important as my family and girlfriend but that is my forced choice. I consider all three of equal and to some respects, higher valued then another at certain times because I don't base my life around priorities (even though I know it's important) but I value time management and giving everything enough attention to prosper with all 3.

What caused you to stay active and be part of the community on Hackforums after first joining? I originally came for all the wrong reasons, protect myself and find a way to retaliate as I was being threatened and blackmailed, I came to a realization that I should just block and walk away. I quickly realized that the community itself was infested with hackers but genuine people with the same interests as me. The friends I have today and lost were the reason I stayed. Without them, I wouldn't be the same really, they helped me develop a lot and I quickly built a lot of friendships on here.

What can I offer to Enterprise? The reason I haven't really ranted on about how good of a businessman I am or whatever is because anyone can really do that but actions speak louder than words.

If you know me then you know what I'm capable of. But nonetheless, I offer what many people on here can't. Professional business accreditation and experience. I also can legitimately offer legal advice to potential business ventures and whatever else is needed.

Ricky? - June 8, 2014, 3:53 pm

I am going to keep this plain and simple, I am not going to make myself look any better than my actual content.

I am 16 years old and all my income is earned online. I have been using many techniques at many times. I have owned many ebooks resold them than sold. Bought many projects on HF than sold them. I have been buying HF projects than profiting than selling to earn some excellent profit.

I have recently opened my own booter, <https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=4159248>
I have made well over $500 and plan to make more once I solve my limited account. I profited over $500 in one week of my booter.

I think I can add great contributions to this group. I can invest in projects, help members monetize and even be a mentor if anyone would like and share my personal techniques.

I do have a warning level, and a one open scam report. If you do review the scam report you will see who is on the right and who is on the wrong.

Good luck to all members, this group will be great.

As for proof of earnings please PM me I dont want to show everyone and I will gladly show you

SomeWhiteGuy - June 8, 2014, 4:31 pm

Hello,

I have just recently got into (successfully) making money online after trying a countless number of times.

I am hoping to be releasing several products soon.

I am proficient in several different programming languages.

I am very active and professional, and am really just looking to learn more; I doubt there is anything I could offer at this point in time.

Here are some of my earnings:

Nothing too crazy but like I said, just recently got into making money. The amount above is 100% profit from my currency exchanging service which can be found here.

Hopefully you'll consider my application, as I feel like this could open many doors for me.

Thank you.

Astral™ - June 8, 2014, 4:50 pm

*My warning points are for disallowed BH discussion. I've learned from this warning, and feel it's irrelevant when applying to this group.

Spoiler (Click to View)

Introduction

Hello, and thank you for taking time to read my application. My name here on HF is Astral™, and my real name is Ben. I'm 16 years old and a junior in high school. I currently have a 3.9 GPA. My whole life I've been money motivated, and this mindset has led me to internet marketing. I've been doing IM for 3 years now, and have been doing it seriously for about a year and a half. I've learned a lot through my experiences and have made a hefty amount of cash.

Experience In Business/Marketing/Monetizing

As said previously, I've been doing internet marketing for around 3 years. Like most, I began with PTC but quickly quit as there's little profit to be made. I then moved to ewhoring and PPD and made around $50 a month, which satisfied me for the time being. Around 1 and half years ago is when I decided to step up and make big bucks. Adsense, SEO, Fiverr, you name it and I've probably attempted it. My first big moneymaker was a recipe site, which I advertised with Pintrest. It blew up and I was making 4 digits a month for a while with Adsense. The site was closed after Adsense stopped due to me copying recipes from other sites.

Skill Set

I'm very money motivated. From the second I wake up to the second I go to sleep, there's a good chance I'm thinking of money. I'm a very fast and efficient learner. I can read something once or twice and remember it for the most part. I've also read several books on the psychology of marketing and have learned things such as what color to make pages of sites you're trying sell a product on. My knowledge on the psychology of marketing could have great benefits on group projects and other marketing attempts.

Why I Want To Be In Enterprise

Reading over other applicants posts and the leaders posts has shown how alike I am with potential members and current leaders. I'd love to be in a group with other like-minded members, and share and discuss the latest moneymaking methods. Enterprise is one of the few groups on HF that I feel fit me perfectly.

What Will Enterprise Gain From Me?

I can contribute massively to ensure all future group projects are successful moneymakers. I can share my private, working methods, developed and used only by myself. I can help others earn and market products. With all my previous fail and successful internet marketing experience, I can share what works and what doesn't.

About:

Let's keep this straight and to the point. I'm a driven individual who enjoys research and application all the same. I'll spend hours learning and understanding and then another few hours experimenting with it. I'm a university student currently studying CS and considering going into Law in the coming year. I've seen huge failures and tremendous success all the same, which I'll be documenting in a later section. I'm readily available to be reached and will respond in a timely manner unless I happen to be sleeping.

Strengths & Experiences:

I've had a few jobs that revealed the marketing and business world to me through real-world application. I'll run through them quickly:

MCPowerHosting - I was the head manager for support and business. My main job was to pull new clients into the hosting plan. It might seem like an easy job just answering tickets, but in actuality, persuading the customers to buy into our plans was the hardest part. I was paid through commission and quit after eight months due to time constraints and scheduling conflicts. My payment was given through cheque by mail so I don't have much to show in terms of proof.

LilyJade v2 - Dru, the owner, gave me the position of Marketing Manager. I was forced to sign an NDA so I cannot disclose the system itself. LilyJade basically runs as a mass marketing tool that reaches over 20,000,000 people per "shout" via Social Media. It's a hugely powerful tool. Now branded as SEOMPG, it has brought me around $6,000 in profit before I decided to pursue other interests.

My payment is through Google Ads, and it is against terms of conditions to show.

SEOMPG - A rebranded version of LilyJade V2, I currently work there as an Administrator and Head Marketing Manager. Same old deal as before, except I haven't used it to its full potential due to my other goals. Payment was through Google Ads, against ToS to show.

bitcube - At the time, I do freelance web development and design. I do have a slew of high school kids working for me so it's usually a laid-back occupation for me. I get clients, talk to them, and hand off the jobs to my workers and take a small commission.

PyranPVP, EthelGaming, Hydrocity Gaming - I have always been a Minecraft enthusiast... Not for the game, but for the money I could exploit from running servers. EthelGaming was my first server. I put it up in early 2011 and attracted a playerbase of over 4,000. This was my first taste of "marketing" and "advertising". My server's name was EVERYWHERE. I used simple SEO tricks to put the name out. From EthelGaming, I pulled about $600 a month from profit for six months. Hydrocity Gaming was a server I was appointed to administrate. I took advantage of its high playerbase and visitor volume and made about $150 a month from advertisements for four months. PyranPVP was by far my greatest success. I boasted $900/month from a pvp kit server while paying over $350/month for server hosting, plugin management, and advertising.

I know the ins and outs of communicating effectively and strategies on persuading through my affiliate marketing job, mass marketing job, and business owning experience.

Weaknesses

My biggest weakness is my attention to detail. I will not stop until I finish something, and sometimes it overloads my system. I often find myself working for 20 hours a day with one or two hour naps in between. Thus, it becomes a necessity to have a day or two off every week so I can cool off and recharge.

Reasons for Joining Enterprise

I'll be straight up. Enterprise is new. I like new. Changes are always welcome to me. I'm excited to share what I've learned while picking up new insight within a close community. Being that I've always done my own research and developed my own methods, most of the marketing and business jargon is... jargon to me. I'd love to get together with new people and finding out new methods or strategies.

I do agree to pay $100 from using methods taught to me in Enterprise.

Marketing experience.

I currently own my own Website development and Marketing firm. Most of my marketing is online marketing anything in person I usually just sub out. But SEO, Lead collection and email lists is a big part of what I do. I have managed to make around $50 an hour doing just that. But where that becomes hundreds an hour is when you put those skills into a project that is supported by others with some awesome skills to and that is my goal for this summer and its looking promising so far. I was also the Leader of the Complexity Marketing Sector and that was alot of work but it was very worth it I had a great time made many friends. Also learned who on hf wanted to make money but didnt want to work for it.

My Mine-craft Experience.

After buyign minecraft and playing on other peoples servers I found that I wanted my own and thats exactly what I did. You can find my thread that explained this in more detial but I went from 60$ a month negative to 2000$ a month racking in from this server before we had to close down for a lack of good managment between the coowner and I. I was responsible for the money and everything was fine until he decided to spend it all on advertising he thought was full proof but turned out to be a dud. killing the server. But we did make 2k a month for a few months.

My Pet Peeve

Saying you want something or that you need something. But not lifting one finger to make it happen.

Why I would benefit Enterprise.

Accepting me into Enterprise will not only help make the group better as a whole in a marketing and monetizing sence. But I am a great guy and I am willing to show and teach all fellow members my methods and work common methods with eachother and am willing to share that profit with the group and the leadership of the group to better the group. Such as SMF and huge giveaways because those are much needed things to monetize with Hackfourms. I am a very experienced Monetizer. if you are familiar with Jeffrey Gitomer and his books

I have read just about every single one of those. Plus I listen to podcasts related to leadership and managment and online marketing. And that gives me that edge to make that extra income online and the ability to leverage it to make even more .

Thankyou for reading my application it is a bit short so expect a voice or video one privately. If you accept me I will work extremely hard to make money for my self and the group to better the group. The 100$ commision is only right to do so of course the group will get that as well as much more for giveaways and the smf

About Me:

I am a hard working individual who strive to make money. When I first started Hackfourms I did not know what area I could specialized in, I wanted to be a part of something that can not only benefit me but can also benefit members of the community. I have spent hours and dedication to try my best to learning and understanding different sections of the community. Months went by and I wanted to learn more about Graphic Designs, as I needed the skill set for my Business Management Course in high school.

I started using Photoshop, Cinema4D, and After Effects because I needed it for banners and Logos to help me on future courses.

After a year of getting into Graphic Designs on Hackfourms, I wanted to start making money and actually working on my goal to becoming a Businessman. I am not going to lie because almost everyone has been working on making a few amounts of cash off selling eBooks because I was one of those people.

In my opinion, eBooks is probably where I started in order to expand on what products I could work on in the near future. To cut the story short about this topic, I wanted to move on and work on other projects.

I participated in multiple Monetizing & Marketing Unofficial Groups, you can actually benefit a lot with groups like Diamond Marketers and Jade because they will actually give you tips or ideas on what you can invest to increase your revenue.

Money is my motivation and I will never stop taking a chance to make more money.

Enterprise is a new group that I want to be a part of, I have never been in an Official group that is based around Business and Marketing. I will spread ideas and tips in the sub forums and be as active as possible, even though my online time is now going to be 6-9 Hours due to the recent Summer Holiday.

I love to hang out with new people and work on projects that we can later release to the community. I will be able to accomplish any assignment that is given to me on the due date and will not miss any meetings if we eventually have one.
Give me a chance and you won't be disappointed.

Why you want to be in Enterprise

Enterprise looks fantastic, and is right up my street being Dedicated to Internet marketing/Monetization. It'd be nice to connect with other members and profit together.

What will Enterprise gain from you being in it.

A Veteran Internet Marketer, that has vast knowledge of all aspects of IM. Im willing to share all the knowledge I have from years of experience, to hopefully get everyone in the group profiting hundreds or thousands each month.

Socrates???? - June 8, 2014, 8:03 pm

I didnt see it anywhere in the requirements and i dont have much time right now to read all the pages but is this only for upgraded members?

Cooligan - June 8, 2014, 10:29 pm

Basic information:

Name - Cooligan / Jesse

Age - Seventeen

Sex - Male

Location - US

Your experience in Business, marketing or monetizing:

I don't have any experience in online marketing, but I've been in retail my whole life. I worked at Best Buy selling TV's for a while and did a good job at it in my opinion.

Example sites or products on hackforums and outside of hackforums:

I don't have any products for sale on HF or any other sites at the moment, but I would love to start.

Information about yourself:

My name is Jesse, I'm 17 years old and from the US. I currently work part time and am taking GED classes. I've been through a lot in life making me who I am today. I'm very ambitious and eager when it comes to something I want to learn, and that something is online marketing. I need more money than what my job is paying me and I feel I have the time and serious interest to learn this. After a while of getting to know me you'll realize who I really am, and I feel I'd be a perfect fit for the group.

Provide proof of any earnings:

None yet.

Your skill set: Patience, maturity, respect, and the ability to learn. Give me a chance and I'll show you.

Why you want to be in Enterprise:

Again, I've wanted to get into online marketing for a long time and I feel like Enterprise would be a good place for me to start. I feel like this could be a great experience.

What will Enterprise gain from you being in it:

An active, eager, easy to get along with individual. I can't promise anything marketing wise yet because I haven't started, but once I do gain knowledge and get moving on the right track I would of course give back to the group that helped me get there.

Anything else you would like to say:

Thank you for taking the time to read my application, and best of luck to all other applicants! ?

Eminem? - June 8, 2014, 10:33 pm

Looks like an awesome group! Will add my application tomorrow.

Thanks!

Craze Z - June 8, 2014, 11:15 pm

CRAZES ENTERPRISE APPLICATION

Name: Craze

Age: 17

Timezone: GMT+0

Location: United Kingdom

ABOUT ME

Hello everyone, my name is Craze and I have been in the marketing business for about 3 months now. After spending lots of time studying at college and playing too much games I thought I'd make some money. For those interested, I am currently studying Professional Business with Level 3 Accountancy. I'm active in the HF marketplace and I'm sure you will see one of my products in at least one of the sections.

THE BUSINESS LIFE

Throughout my time at HF, I've released many products which have made me a huge sum of money for someone at the age of 17. When I go to college with my Armani Jeans and my Armani watch people look at me and ask "Are you the son of a rich Arab"? I reply and say "No sir, I'm a successful online businessmen". I actually started a business back in Secondary School selling Kit Kats. ? I'm a money motivated person so I'd be willing to help out with anything and everything in Enterprise if it's going to make me more money and others more money.

A SMALL PERCENTAGE OF EARNINGS...

This PayPal got limited after hitting the $2500 Limit. I've had about 3-4 of these paypals over the last 4 months. Over 80% of them are legit earnings from products and services.

This is all from BTC sales over the past 6 months.

WHY ACCEPT ME?

I've a dedicated businessmen who loves money. I make money. I spend money. I give money away. You need me in your group because I will ensure that I will share my ways in the marketing world of business and I'm sure other group members can teach me stuff I don't know. As part of Enterprise we will make money, spend money and give money away.

WARM REGARDS, CRAZE

Thanks for reading my application. I apologise for any spelling or grammatical errors as I've written this at 7AM. I wish everyone else applying good luck and I look forward to seeing the results.

Telstra - June 8, 2014, 11:24 pm

Name:

Logan, but on HackForums I go by the name of Telstra.

Timezone:

AEST, GMT +10

Experiences in marketing:

I have been marketing on HackForums and other websites for almost a year now. I am very money driven, and this shows in my marketing practices. I love making investments, and love seeing the money roll in from the investments I make. I am experienced with dealing with customers, and have a great knowledge of the HackForums marketplace. From my business ventures I currently earn around $100/day autopilot, which in turn has seen me leave my part time job, and be able to support myself from online income. I recently had bit of a marketplace issue with me being given resale rights to an eBook that had been copyrighted, but I am currently working with the original owner of the eBook to make some sort of compromise for what has happened. I enjoy teaching, and learning from others new and improved ways of making money, and am happy to share my experiences with fellow Infamous members, if I were to be accepted into the group. I would also like to make a note that I literally started with $0 online, not once have I invested a cent into online marketing and I have managed to be able to buy any video games I would like, any products, any electronics. I find myself to be a lot better of a marketer, due to me starting off with absolutely nothing.

Examples:

Currently all of my marketing is based off-site, through websites such as eBay. I recently stopped selling my eBook due to the issue I mentioned in the previous section of my application. I am currently on the lookout for more projects to invest in, and perhaps going to start looking into something being coded for me. I plan to buy a Crypter source in the coming 3 days and start selling that also.

Why you should choose me over others:

I believe you should choose me over others because of my determination. Anything I set my mind to, it will happen. Whether it be something simple as a small assignment, or developing a product to be sold.

Why I would like to be in Enterprise:

As soon as I saw the original announcement thread that this group was coming I was intrigued, and knew I needed to become a part of what was coming to the forums. With the 2 leaders that are currently in charge, I can see that this group is going to become something amazing, and I would really hate to not be a part of that.

My Warning Level:

My warning level is currently on 40% due to the incident I mentioned earlier. Since this has happened I have reimbursed the original creator of the eBook every cent that I had earned from selling the eBook, and I am working together with the owner to hopefully bring FeaturedBMX to justice with his shady business traits. Omniscient did not read the entirety of the thread, and issued me with the warning just by what the OP had said, as it failed to mention I had purchased resale rights. Since this incident all scam reports against me are now closed.

Thank you:

Thank you for giving me the opportunity to apply for this group, I hope you have liked my application, and I hope I have a chance to be a part of this group's future.

Ayxi - June 8, 2014, 11:40 pm

Hello ~HF~, nice to see your group is recruiting!

About me

I am a 15 year old male, most commonly known as "Dexus", but you can call me what ever you like. I've wanted to make a brand or a franchise for like ever. When I was a little kid I would bargain everything, from toys to money. I was one of those kids that looked upon something and asked himself if he could profit from it. I always love economy, always have.

Why I would like to join

First off I would like to point out that I would like to join to learn, and expand on all the knowledge of business, marketing and monetizing. These three topics excite me, they been have throughout my entire life! these things really interest me, but I've never found a good way to learn.. What would be better than to surround yourself by people who expertise in these topics. It would be a great opportunity to learn methods and ideas. I would like to help people with their methods also, I love to be apart of something, maybe if I cant do so well on my own projects, maybe I could help out someone else in those shoes.

Experiences

Currently I run "SuperSubs" and co-run "Social Fancy". With "SuperSubs" I've made about $50 all together and its only been open for a few days. I'm really happy how SuperSubs is doing right now, and its showing no sign of stopping. Now with "Social Fancy" I personally have made nothing so far, Price Gumball is managing the money right now, although he does say we are making bank from it. We have super low prices so we only have room to improve. On another note, I've made over $100 bucks from bitcoin, although now I just reinvest every bit of a bitcoin I get. Thats anothe thing I'm interested in, "Currency", its just exciting and fun to be apart off. I also collect, buy, sell and trade OG/Semi-OG usernames or handles Its just one of those things that make you fell good, you're the only one that has it.

I may or may not update this post. Contact me if you want any further information.

Tabе - June 8, 2014, 11:43 pm

Thousands Application

Information:

I am 17 and am about to pass the 1 year mark on HackForums. I am highly educated in Business, Marketing, Crypto-Currency, & Currency Exchange. I have recently started to become less active, but now that i am done with my junior year, i can devote more time to release products and make money.

Skill Set:

My personal skill set would consist of Managing stressers, RAT's, Encryption, Malware removal, and i am also pretty good at gaming.

I would like to join Enterprise to expand my knowledge and give what i have to help other members. I have made thousands online and am always willing to learn, my acceptance would defiantly benefit the group. :)

Spoiler (Click to View)

I would also consider myself as a succesful drug dealer, which in it self has many aspects of business.

- Thank you for reading my Application -

The Judge - June 9, 2014, 3:50 am

Your experience in Business, marketing or monetizing.

Since when I was 12 years old I used to buy and resell everything, starting from old stuff in my dads garage to discovering the cheap stuff which could be bought from China to buying heaps of it and selling it with a 300-400% profit to kids from my school, and eventually becoming the rich kid. Now my main interests are in marketing and discovering new methods for a quick profit. And obviously my earnings have increased on a logarithmic scale.

Example sites or products on hackforums and outside of hackforums.

Currently, monetizing guides are what I am keeping myself busy with on HF, outside of HF, I'd say some of everything CPA, PPX, eBay and social media. I do not limit myself to one source of income, which is the reason of my succes.

Information about yourself.

I'm The Judge, 18 years old, I speak 6 languages, at the top level of education that's available in my country, soon to become a medicine student at the best uni specialized in medicine in my country. But yeah, making money is my hobby.

Provide proof of any earnings.

It would demotivate people if I would share it openly. I'd rather have you PM me so I can show my available funds.

Your skill set.

My skillset is marketing and finding solutions to difficult problems. I'm also good at doxing.

Why you want to be in Enterprise

Enterprise seems to be a group of individuals who have the same determination and motivation to monetize as me, which is very nice for sharing and learning different aspects of making money online and offline. And having me in Enterprise would not only benefit the members on a monetizing aspect but it would let them gain a friend as well.

Deathy - June 9, 2014, 4:15 am

My experience

I have been earning online for around three years now, sold many different products and services not only on Hack Forums, but on a variety of other marketing & monetizing forums. I've also made a lot of money from methods such as CPA/PPD, GPT and other online monetizing methods.

Information about myself

I am a 16 year old student in the United Kingdom with a lot of time on my hands, so I'm willing to learn and earn and share my own methods I use to earn with all the members of Enterprise.

My skill set

I mainly specialize in earnings through private methods rather than selling products on Hack Forums, although I am hoping to soon bring something new and original here, it'll definitely earn a lot of money.

I also have a good understanding of graphics, I would be willing to offer free designs for all the users of Enterprise.

Why I want to join Enterprise

I would love to join Enterprise because it'll be a a great chance to meet and expand my knowledge with all the other members.

What will Enterprise gain from recruiting me

Enterprise will gain a knowledgeable, mature and friendly user who is willing to learn and take a lot of time and dedicate it entirely to Enterprise.

I would like to thank you ~HF~ for this amazing opportunity and I hope you'll put some serious consideration into accepting me.

Funtage - June 9, 2014, 4:48 am

I'm not going to dress my application up with GFX, simply because I feel that quality is more important than visual presentation in regards to a group of this nature.

I won't bore you with my life-story, but I've known from a young age that business was my calling, and by the end of this year I will have finished my double degree in Human Resource Management and Economics. Enough about my personal life however.

As far as experience is concerned, in recent months I have kick-started a business of my own in the health food industry. The product which I have launched (Detox Tea) solely through Social Media (Instagram, Facebook) has far exceeded my expectations for where I thought it would be at this stage of its life cycle. If you're curious about sales, PM me for further information. Snippet of my website -> Spoiler \(Click to View\)

I consider myself highly proficient with all forms of social media, and all aspects of marketing via the same medium. CPA/PPD/PPI are my fields of expertise, and as such I find myself consistently able to apply methods that I have developed across this range of monetizing platforms. Earnings for May via CPA alone. PM me for further information if you're interested -> Spoiler \(Click to View\)

To put it simply, I like to surround myself with like-minded people who can contribute to my own growth. In return, I offer my knowledge to those who are willing to learn and from first impression, I get the feeling that if recruitment is performed accurately you'll have exactly the environment I thrive to be involved with.

Like I said, I wanted to keep this short and simple. There's more to me than what this post suggests, I'll leave it in your hands if you want to hear more.

Good luck to all applicants, I'm sure you'll end up with a pool of worthy members.

My application for Enterprise.

About me:

My real name is "Dalo" and I am 16 years old, and I live in The Netherlands. I've been selling products online since 2013, but already got pretty much experience. I, myself, earn'd more than $5,000.00 USD online and from that I earned ~$1,500.00 USD on HackForums. I am also planning on releasing some projects and invest in things like: Coders, theme's, etc.

Why choose me:

I can teach people what I know and provide some helpful tips & tricks wich not every marketer knows.

Kind regards,

FXKDXMCXPS.

How would you benefit Enterprise?

I feel I could be a great addition to the group!

I can provide unique perspectives on solving problems that you won't find anywhere else. Beyond that I love taking on new projects, and when I set my mind on something I stick to it until finished! These two things combined will allow me to really help out other members in the group with whatever they are doing as well as setup the right people to finish whatever they are working on. I hope the members of Enterprise will benefit from all my knowledge and info I end up posting in the subforums!

Business | Marketing | Monetizing - Experience:

I've had plenty of experiences with monetizing!

I'm am most currently working on two big projects. One to help stop online eBook leaks, and another to change bit coin casinos forever. I have lots of experience with currency exchange, dealing with customers, and just about every internet marketing skill you can think of! Feel free to ask me any question you may have! :]

Also check out my github for some projects:

About me:

I was a business major at the University Of Arizona.

Now I'm attending a programming bootcamp in Colorado to help start my own company. I'm not really good at talking about myself, but if I did say one thing its that I'm a jack of all trades. I have no talent that stands out above the rest, but more of a general knowledge that allows me to combine different perspectives on many things.

I believe my earnings are proof enough of that.

Why you want to be in Enterprise

I used to be a marketer in complexity, I enjoyed being in the group when the sector was active and I met some good people for some business opportunities. Now that complexity is no longer around I would like to find another solid marketing group to be a part of and hopefully find other good business ventures.

I want to keep it a bit private but I'll PM you guys the application.

Thanks.

Zen - June 9, 2014, 12:39 pm

I'm Kreature. I won't bore you to death with a long paragraph but I have very solid knowledge when it comes to sales/customer management for products as well as CPA. All of my knowledge relating to online monetizing I have learned from HF, and in the year or so that I have been learning I have made roughly ~$15,000 in total, which I hope to see grow even more in the future. I am definitely interested in giving back to the community in terms of tutorials, help desks, and more. Thanks for reading, and good luck to all other applicants.

Harbo5 - June 9, 2014, 2:56 pm

Experience:

I have a Master of Business Administration and a Bachelor of Computer Sciences. I'm currently an investment banker at a large investment bank. I worked as a web designer whilst getting my MBA, but a majority of my career has been in investment banking.

As far as online earning go, I've made a sizeable amount of money via Minecraft. My total profit from my old server was around $28,000. While in comparison to Investment Banking that's not much, I think as far as online revenue goes, I did fairly well. I have proof later on in the post.

Products:

No active products. I'm not a salesman, I'm a businessman.

Information about me:

I'm 25, married, and love vodka. I've always loved business and technology, thus my pursuit of college degrees in both fields. I've lived in Colorado my whole life and have always loved skiing and golf, one for the winter, one for the summer. I don't smoke pot. I'm a little older than most people here, but generally speaking, with age comes wisdom.

Proof of any earnings:

If you want prove of my investment banking income or further proof of the Minecraft earnings, contact me via PM.

My skill set:

Investment banking, business administration, legal services (To an extent and in limited applications e.g. mergers and acquisitions), investing, web design, and computer sciences.

Why I want to be in Enterprise?:

Well, two reasons. First off, I want to continue to learn, a good businessman never stops learning. If one falls behind the times, that businessperson may fail to continue with their success in the business world. I want to keep up with the times and I want to communicate with other business people, everyone has their tricks, and the more you know, the better. Secondly, I want to share my knowledge, I've got a lot of knowledge, and I might as well share it with people who will use it to better their lives.

What will Enterprise gain from you being in it?:

Presumably, considering the average age here, I think I'm one of the few members who have college degrees. I have a vast wealth of knowledge, with my schooling and real-life experience and I simply have more knowledge than others. I bring business experience from a profession workplace instead of online. It's different than the prospective most people here have, because of that, I can be a unique member of the group. Every has their tricks, but I'm in a different field than most, so I can help people in ways others might not be able to.

As Leonardo da Vinci once said, "Simplicity is the ultimate sophistication."

Marky Marky - June 9, 2014, 5:21 pm

Your experience in Business, marketing or monetizing: Well, I've been selling things ever since I got my first computer back in 2007. Probably the main thing I do on Hack Forums involves business and marketing. I sell many products here on Hack Forums and off-site and I think I can bring some aspects to Enterprise other members don't have.

Example sites or products on hackforums and outside of hackforums: My main projects would have to be my stresser and Netflix account generator I am working on. As of now those two aren't released to Hack Forums yet but you can check out my stresser here: <http://stresserking.com> I also sell an ebook which can be found here: <https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=4251050> and my Social Media store found here: <https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=4216647> To top that all of I sell Minecraft and Netflix accounts on ebay.

Information about yourself: Hi, my name is Simon and I am 14 years old. I currently live in Florida and I have been here on Hack Forums for almost two months. I really enjoy using my PC (which I built) to brows Hack Forums and play video games. When I'm not on my PC I'm playing tennis or sleeping.

Provide proof of any earnings: I'd rather not do this publicly but if you're interested in me joining PM me and I can gladly show you.

Why you want to be in Enterprise: I would like to join Enterprise because you guys share the same interests that I do. Business. I would love to join a group where I could share my business ventures with other people who love the same thing.

What will Enterprise gain from you being in it: Enterprise will gain a well rounded member who can bring to the table not only knowledge about business and marketing but knowledge about many other things regarding the aspect of business. I can also bring my very own products which can be used under the name of Enterprise.

I would just like to say good luck to all the other applicants and thanks for the opportunity to join Enterprise!

Regards, Moon. ?

I love finding new methods to market online, it's interesting to see how each one pays off in the end. I'm very creative and can add-on to the other member's ideas to increase earnings even more. I feel that I could share a lot of methods and expertise with the other members, and also learn from them as well. This looks like an amazing group and I'm curious as to who will be deemed acceptance.

What will Enterprise gain from you being in it:

The group will gain a knowledgeable, trustworthy, and definitely active member. I post sometimes up to 100 times a day, which shows how active I am on these forums. If I'm in the group I'll spend that time making HQ content for the members, and learning from their content as well.

Anything else:

If there's anything else you need to know just PM me. ?

I will provide all members with a private method of mine and then they need to pay me $100 commision from there earnings. All the money won't go to me, it will go to paying for group stuff.

Thanks.

Ill read over all the app's today and tomorrow. Ill make a list of people I want in the group. Then wait till recruitment is over to pick the rest and invite everyone.

About

We have been working with marketing for countless years, carefully studying the influence of various promotion techniques on different target groups. We have been on these forums for a long time and over the years my understanding of the HF consumer group has developed tremendously.

We've been selling several different services on here ever since we registered, including, but not limited to, stressers, VPN's, miners, scanner, spyware and last but not least, our hacking services; # earns a lot from this community and we believe in giving back to those who help and support us, thus strengthening this forum and help the hacking society grow as a whole.

Throughout our time on here, I've invested a lot of money into the forum both in the form of group- and award-purchases, but I've also hosted numerous contests accumulating to combined money-prizes of more than 7000 USD.

We receive payments in various forms, meaning showing proof of earnings would be complicated and comprehensive, however here's the statistics of one of our BTC addresses: link.

With that being said, a real businessman - and hackers for that matter - don't brag about being real as long as he knows it, and I think the gap between the regular bragging 10 year old, who is earning fifty dollars a week from his service, and the true businessmen, earning thousands a week, is quite big and those few dozen individuals is who should be invited to the marketing groups of HF.

Enterprise

Enterprise looks like an exclusive marketing group that'll open up for numerous partnership possibilities and sharing of monetizing techniques. It is of great importance to group up and try to predict the tendencies of the HF market along with third party markets such as BTC or other cryptocurrencies; I believe it would be profitable to all group members if we could share our knowledge and understanding of certain subjects, thus having a positive relationship allowing for mutual gain.

Furthermore I would hope that being a member would give me the opportunity to establish partnerships with the other members to launch new services and products, possibly allowing both myself and the other party to reach new customers, thus increasing our overall customer base and ensuring a more stable and ever-growing income.

Experience

Hi this is Dan, 18. Hackforums has a great marketplace and I try to take advantage of this as much as possible. Just by taking a quick peek through my threads one can tell that I sell multiple products/services on Hackforums, this is my only income as i have no real life job. I speak fluent English of course as it is necessary for such an activity. From experience I have learned great techniques which will result in a massive increase in sales. I believe i am a true wise marketer as I am proud to say that my online monetizing keeps me from going to have to work in real life. Being a REAL computer addict this is perfect for me. For this to happen i have put a lot of effort in what i do and also risks on investments. I cannot ask for anything more. Here are some examples of what i am currently selling.

Me In Enterprise

I am sure that being in a group with experienced marketers would serve anyone a great opportunity, especially those who specialize in marketing such as myself. I am constantly looking on how i can improve my income by selling more products which is one of the top reasons i would like to join this group. To prove i am a true online marketer, here is a screenshot of my first paypal transaction page. I do not earn thousands a month as people claim however i earn enough money and more as one would earn with a real life job.

Your experience in Business, marketing or monetizing.

Well, about the business thing, I have a past experience of getting things at cheap rates and selling it to resellers at reasonable rates and make my profits. I've also been doing some business in Fiverr as well as Craigslist. That's my business part what I carry during my day - to - day routine. About Marketing and monetizing, I have past experience of CPA / PPD / Adworkmedia / Adwords. Have tried and applied many ways in monetizing world. I came up with many and shared too.

Example sites or products on hackforums and outside of hackforums.

My website is currently under construction, it's all about E-commerce thing. It's called PsyHippieShop.com. We guys have some contacts in some well known sites what makes us get those goods at cheaper rate, Infact very much discounted. My most of the transactions are made online and are in reverse paid in Barter or by goods, so that I won't face any Tax issues. We are on almost every site, dealing and working hard. I would surely like to share those methods and tricks ! Probably a Glitch what made us do all our work so efficiently and quickly.

~HF~, So far so good!

letc/security/access.conf - June 12, 2014, 7:11 pm

Hello,

Below, you will find out my application for the Enterprise group.
I wish you a good reading.

First of all, let me introduce myself.

My parents called me Cédric. I have been living on this planet for 20 years now. My native language is French.

I consider myself as a true bilingual. It does not exclude the fact that I am able to speak dutch as well. But not as good the other ones.

I have been studying a lot of things during my teenage life.

My first earnings came at the age of 14 years old. I was already searching for good articles about online monetizing to increase my thirst of knowledge. I was amazed by all these people earning online.

I was always telling my parents that INTERNET is the future.

It would have been usual to go ahead and search for content written in my native language, but I have ever done that. Even at the age of 14 years old, every single thing I have been looking for was in English. Doing it that way just proved myself that I was a resourceful person. I started to see that I was (and still) able to manage everything by myself.

What did that bring to me?

I would summarize it in one word: earnings.

Only a few months later, I started to earn money gradually to reach $1.500 a week at the age of 15 years old.

My parents thought I was doing illegal activities which I can understand but no, everything was legit and legal.

I would gladly give you a screenshot about those earnings but everything I am able to screenshot is one of a few payments of $300/$500 a month (<http://imageshack.com/a/img842/449/8xyt.png>).

The reason is that I hadn't any paypal account linked to me as I was too young. My parents were nice and opened their paypal account for that money to withdraw.

You are probably going to ask me why I only received $300/$500 a day because I stated before that I was making $1.500 a week.

The reason is quite simple. In my country, we badly can't earn more than a few thousands euro a year. If I would have kept earning that much money, my parents would have stopped receiving allocation money from my studies, which they clearly didn't want too, even if the amount of money I could make was higher.

All of these earnings were made from white hat methods, even if I could make more money doing it with blackhat stuff.

I have been earning through CPA / PPD / PPI and a very few affiliate programs. My favorite method of earning is clearly CPA.

But I have got a lot of experiences in all these methods.

I have been working with: Social networks such as Facebook, Twitter, etc.

Social Engine Optimization (GSA SER, manual method, etc.)

Torrents

Youtube

About the companies:

CPAlead
AdWorkMedia
Peerfly
AdShiftMedia
CPAGrip
ClickBank

I can tell you that I have a lot of knowledge about online monetizing in those sections. And here comes the reason of my application.

I am really not selfish as usual big earners which are scared of sharing their methods. I've always been sharing parts of the methods I've been using. It means that the information I was giving out were good and enough even if I wasn't telling the exact methods.

I do not like people who are asking for money in exchange of help.

Everyone should deserve the right to LEARN for FREE.

We are way too much on the planet to act like selfish humans.

As a lot of people know, sharing is caring.

I will always help out anyone who is looking for some inspiration or help, even through PM. In my opinion, I can bring a lot to this group.

I have tried many times to help people in the monetizing section but it felt like it was not really possible. Giving out tips to members on HF is good but I prefer to help someone for days. I mean following him and giving him tips along his work will help him a lot more. So being in a group like that could be benefic.

Right now, I am focusing on my studies to become a webmaster as my goal in my life is to be able to make a brand new website that will promote an unique product. I think this group may also give me some good hints and knowledge about that. I also always wanted to become a skilled business man. I always wear a tuxedo whenever I can. Maybe am I born to take this way?

I do not sell any products on HF. I have helped many members on the forum, but mainly on Skype.

I also have other knowledge than monetizing. As this is not the subject, I will only name them: Multigaming community, Linux, Networking, Security, RAT, Programming (HTML,PHP,CSS3,MySQL)

I am probably missing a few more information about me.

But yeah, I don't think that will mater.

The most important thing isn't to know who am I, but what I can bring to those members in the group.

There won't be any problems about giving back money to the group.

You are asking for $100 which is nothing in my opinion compared to what everyone could earn online and probably in your group.

Thank you again for reading my application.

I wish you all a good day.

N.B: I could be able to get more income proofs if you really need it.

Kind Regards,
~ Levi Strauss

Eminem? - June 13, 2014, 11:28 am

I have lot's of marketing experience online. I've been developing and using many different methods to generate money online. These methods I've found myself and are working goldmines.

I do a lot of business out of HF and the internet as well. I work with many people IRL, and make money in different ways. I've been recently throwing some huge parties in my cities and making nearly $4000 each party.

I know my way around people, and know how to squeeze money out of them if needed.

My name is Adam. I've always been called Eminem due to the fact that I look similar to him, and he's an idol to me.

I was in love with computers since I was 10, and kept going for many years after that. Only in the recent years I've started to make income from online methods and have been very satisfied with this. Since I've joined HF, it felt like a site I belong to, and have been going here every day since.

- A fine amount of Web Development.
- VB.NET
- Internet Marketing
- Monetizing
- Unknown/Unsaturated techniques and methods
- I know many people who can get me many things for the best prices.
- English
- Social Engineering (Comes in handy in business a lot)
- Many business relationships
- More.

I want to be in Enterprise in order to learn and to teach. I want to bring a variety of knowledge and skills to the group, and spread it across in order to help everybody else in the group. I want to be here so that I can have a group to be with and monetize with!

Enterprise and its users will gain a respectful, honest and loyal new member to its group. I'm somebody who loves to help where he's knowledgeable. I'm willing to provide all my help to my fellow group members. I like to give a lot because I like to make people happy.

Your experience in Business, marketing or monetizing:

I have invested in many things and sometimes I have lost and sometimes I have won. I have made a couple eBooks that work so I have multiple ways of making money for my own use.

Example sites or products on hackforums and outside of hackforums:

My first eBook I ever made, I sold the product to someone else -

<https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=4267658>

My second eBook I made and that is still for sale that is another working method -

<https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=4282297>

About myself:

My name is Matthew and I am a 15 year old looking to make some money. I have always wanted to find more ways to make money so I can continue making it of course. I would like to get into more serious stuff, but right now I do not have the money for it so for now I am going to build up some money before I start to.

Your skill set:

I am a very friendly person to talk to, I am a very social person as well. I can give advice to other members of the group as well as helping them with some tasks.

Why you want to be in Enterprise:

I would like to join so I can make some friends on this site and learn from other people's ideas as well.

What will Enterprise gain from you:

They will gain a very active, sociable, hard working member. I would love to have a chance to join Enterprise and help out some members.

I'm seeing lots of great applications, but I will tell you that ~HF~ will not even consider half-ass applications.

He's only taking in 10 members, prove you are worthy of a spot. This group will be very HQ.

Seeing some great people applying - look forward to talking to some of you :D

Rubentastic - June 14, 2014, 6:09 am

First off I like to start that this is my first application to a group. The only group I've been in before was Marketers. I'm writing this application because I think that a marketing group fits me well.

Experience

Bassically I've been online the most in the marketplace forums on HF. I will always find a new way to make money. I am also doing this in real life where I sometimes just buy old game consoles/pc's/games to resell them for profit. I am currently dealing with currency exchanging, selling Spotify Premium and Hulu Plus. I've been doing the last two for about 2 months and already made around $2000.

I've also done my biggest one-time exchange so far a few days ago. I'm very proud of it:

Examples of products

Like I said I am currently selling Spotify And Hulu Plus. I'm doing this outside HF on many other websites. Most of them are Dutch because I can make the biggest profit there. I had so many things going on that I'm very proud of on HF. I made money with all of them.

Here is a list:

Currency exchange: <https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=3181896>

Dynamic Stresser: <https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=3221546>

Steam Shop: <https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=3019691>

Spotify Premium: <https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=3127607>

RSGP: <https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=2542202>
Account shop: <https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=3055474>
Xbox Live: <https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=2173205>

Recently with the coming of OMC I also invested a big amount in mining rigs at the very start. I made a good amount of money with that also.

A month ago I closed down my website where I was selling iPhone related products such as longer cables and EarPods. I had to close this down due Apple changing the cable policy. My cables didn't work anymore on the Apple products. I was even an official registered company back then.

About me

I'm 20 years old and I'm currently studying Communication Sciences at the university. I love to hang out with friends and I go to the gym a lot. I also like to visit parties and festivals. Main genre I'm going for is Hardstyle.

I am a good seller and marketer. I know how to sell a product and I know how to provide good support to satisfy a customer. I believe that if you're professional and honest to your customers they will respect you and make use of your service/product.

Why do I want to be in Enterprise?

I was in the Marketers before and I like a marketing related group. I am interested in this topic and I always like to do business. I'm even planning on choosing a marketing related masters topic in my current study. I think a group can help me to further evolve myself into this topic. It's good to make new contacts and to learn new things from other experienced members.

What will Enterprise gain from me?

I have a lot of experience in marketing and business. I can give my opinion about things, take part in discussions and even partner up with people. I'm also a good learner and am ready to learn new things and help others out.

Thanks for reading my application ?

Sur Justice - June 14, 2014, 10:40 am

Hi I am SurJustice owner of Amity group, we are very dedicated to sell HQ products and gain money from doing so.

Previous projects of mine include but are not limited to AmityMoneytizer, CollegeCash, AmityDox, AmityMCaccount and AmityApi.

We are currently developping a site much like sellfy, but with a little bit more features a nicer design and ofcourse better and faster.

if you would like to see that you can click HERE I also developped (in the earlier stages of my life) a little rs currency exchange site

This was more for fun and testing my coding skills than actually selling, I made a decent amount of money from selling some rs cash and if you would like to see the site you can click HERE

Proof (Click to View)

And more bitcoin transactions etc.

My skills include, but once again, are not limited to:

- Marketing, Im not the best but I know what I need to do
- Planning, Im very good at planning for sales to burst out
- Organizing, making sure that all the items needed are there on the specific time telling people what they need to do and when they need to do that.
- Writing ebooks, I made most of the AmityEbooks.
- WebCoding, I can do php, pdo, css, javascript, jquery, html etc.

The reason for me to want to be in Enterprise is because I have never been in a Hackforums official group and I would like to join this specific group because of the marketing. This group is made for marketers and marketers only.

I am a marketer and I am sure I will learn a lot from joining this group.

Ofcourse you will also gain something from it, I can help making up methods to gain money you could be using my own selffy kinda site (once its done) for a smaller fee and a whole lot more.

If we update our apps, are you gonna re-read them or do we need to re-post them

~HF~ - June 14, 2014, 10:48 am

I will re-read all app's again tomorrow when I close recruitment :)

Nivarka - June 14, 2014, 11:03 am

Oooo! Check you out! You found the secret text!

~HF~ - June 14, 2014, 5:49 pm

Recruitment closes in less than 10 hours.

Respect - June 15, 2014, 1:57 am

Introduction:

I'm Terror Squad. I've been a member of HF for about a year and a half now. I previously had close to 100 rep but I made the mistake of pm'ing Omni about having some invalid rep removed (Being accused of being a scammer without a scam report linked), and he wanted to set an example so he reset my entire rep to 0. Which is also where the warning level came from.

General info:

I'm 20 years old, Canadian, and currently in University taking Business Administration, Majoring in Marketing. Once I finish school, I plan on moving to Los Angeles to enter the music biz, more specifically - Artist A&R, Event Planning & Artist Management.

Experience in marketing:

Like I stated previously, I am in University majoring in Marketing. I find it very interesting the methods that major companies use to attract customers, get them to feel comfortable and get them to spend money. I feel that tactics like that can be used in any scenario to get you what you want. Same goes for here on HF, you can sell anything as long as you lay it out properly and efficiently.

Noticeable Threads:

<https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=3776456>

<https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=3219180>

My skills:

I have been involved in various online communities and online forums for around 7 years now. I know how things work, know what it takes to be successful and know how to sell things. The first thread that I linked above will highlight that.

What will Enterprise gain from you being in it?

I will share my knowledge and experience, and hope to gain some as well. It will be a benefit for everyone involved.

Why you want to be in Enterprise?

Out of all of the groups on HF, this is the only one that really stuck out to me as one that would interest me, and one that I feel like I could truly fit into, share knowledge but also learn new information.

Thanks for giving me this chance to join The Enterprise.

Updated my application.

Let me know if you want proof.

Stapleton - June 15, 2014, 2:28 am

Good Luck to all applicants. May the best get in.

~HF~ - June 15, 2014, 4:01 am

Recruitment is now closed. I will re-read all applications. 10 members will be accepted. They will be pm'd and invited within 2 days.

Student program coming soon. Will be recruiting in 1-3 weeks. Do not pm me about it.
