I think he's just making you aware of it, as opposed to getting a discount.

Only a placeholder date. We know it is coming this Fall, but not sure of the exact date :)

No thanks, not going to pay for a 1 year old game that's the same price as a brand new game.

Going to wait for a crack to come out because if they will actually go through with the price, this game deserves to be play cracked only.

Halo 3 deserved a PC port before this game IMO.

Oh well, we'll see it on the MCC for XB1.

Yet there are still 10 year old CoDs on Steam that are the price of a new one lol.

I really do hope I can take my online character from Xbox 360 onto PS4. If not, I'm defiantly not purchasing.

goldenibad - June 18, 2014, 6:22 pm

Hopefully they are also going to change how many players can be online at once from 16 to maybe 32. Big map + more players = more fun

This.

I've waited too long for this crap too come out, now I'm not even interested in it anymore, certainly for the same price as a new game. Most people on who had it on xbox and ps3, already stopped playing it lol.

I don't see their market strategy there, if any.
