Thread: [\[TuT\] How To Sniff a Steam users ip through wireshark](#)

Patriotic - June 14, 2014, 3:00 pm

Hello everyone, Im going to teach you how to sniff an ip through Steam. (You must be friends with the victim)

1. Download Wireshark from the official website. Spoiler (Click to View)
<http://www.wireshark.org/download.html>
2. Install Wireshark to your computer. In the process you will be asked to include WinCap in your installation. Make sure you choose to install WinCap.
3. After installation run the program.
4. On the left hand side you will see a list of connections to view.
5. Choose your connection. (Ex: Wifi)
6. Once you have chosen your connection; click on the filter bar at the top.
7. Type in "classicstun" without the quotes.
8. Click ENTER on the keyboard.
9. Now go into steam type a message to your victim, do not actually type a message. Just enter the window.
10. Click the dropdown arrow and click start voice chat.
11. In Wireshark you will see his ip. You will also see your ip, your local ip, and steams ip.
12. Your done!
13. Now that you have his ip you can do what ever you want with it!

If you need help PM me!

How can you determine victims ip from others?

Thanks

I'm sure most of us knew this. It's almost as common as getting IPs through Skype, but I'd like to know if there are any Steam Resolvers like there are for Skype? The ones I found only show profile info; no IP.
