Thread: Newest Signature

Stellar - June 14, 2014, 4:51 pm

Hey guys, I posted in this thread yesterday but over the span of 8 hours I think I've gotten increasingly better!
Inputs?

The glow around the text is definitely too strong.

Whenever dealing with a render (Or any object desired to be the main focus), I highly suggest using the rule of thirds when making signatures.

This will show you where the main attraction points are.

My suggestion to you is to keep your main focus within the middle square, or very close to it.
