Hi,

I would like to sell a legit origins account with some games, is that against any rules ? can I place it in auction ? where would be the best place to sell it ?

Thank you

Hello,

Yes you're able to sell Origin accounts, I assume you can sell those in this section; Non-Free Accounts.

And yes, you're able to auction them as well.

Either you a high quality great member I ever saw here or you are a multi accounter. You seems to know everything about the forum but you just registered and have one post.

Anyway thank you.

I could've impossibly shown that I know everything about this forum by just posting one little high-quality post, anyhow; thanks I guess, good luck selling the account.
