I purchased this : <https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=4239170>

Profile : <https://hackforums.net/member.php?action=profile&uid=1125619>

I thought everything was good, I never used it until this week when me and my friend were going to start a shop. I put the source on the site, first there was a problem with the Buy it Now so he told me how to fix that, I thought everything was good until one of my customer's wen't to go buy something it didn't send them the code, it sent a blank email with the Title and everything but not with a code. I have been trying to get him to help me with this for a couple day's he just ignores me and blows me off. I did not want this to happen but I do not like being scammed for something that he could fix because the deal was for a fully working auto buy source.

Proof that it is his Skype : <https://gyazo.com/f9f23a75add71bd29dfceabda6d73e4d>

Vouch for Mike, hope this gets resolved.

teakiller00 - June 18, 2014, 3:13 pm well, it looks like someone could be on a scamming spree.

?ain - June 18, 2014, 3:22 pm

Mike is a nice dude. Doesn't deserve all this.

Silent ? - June 18, 2014, 3:23 pm

Looking to either resolve this with him or get a refund.

Cletus Kasady - June 18, 2014, 3:24 pm

I think he is on a scamming spree. Hope you get your money back though.

Thank you, I am not trying to be a dick by making this Scam Report, it's just I paid $20 to start my own shop and it doesn't even work.

I sold you a working source weeks ago. You then come to me asking me for the source again because you lost it and I gave it to you again. I closed that thread down a while back and don't offer support for it but I was nice enough to tell you I'll help but my life is a priority. You keep contacting me when I'm not at my computer. Then when I am at my computer, you're afk so what do you want me to do?

Also to add, I'm not even forced to help you since when I sold it to you over a month ago, it was working just fine. It's not my issue what you did to the source.

Silent ? - June 18, 2014, 3:30 pm

I want you to fix what you sold me because it is non working. I bought it a few weeks ago so I would have it now. It's not my fault it did not work because I asked you for a non edited, working source (the one I paid for). You sent it to me and it had a couple error's and you will not fix it. If you want to fix this, fix the freaking source I never even got to use it until this week.

You sent me the source it's not my fault it did not work (the one you fucking sent me).

You sent it to me two days ago, how can it be my fault nothing was edited except the PayPal Email.

You bought this over a month ago, when I sent you this over a month ago, it was working fine. Like I said 3 times, it's not my issue if you screwed it up.

How the fuck is it my fault? You sent me it again the same one all I changed was the PayPal Email, like I said if you want to fix this, fix the source and I will close this.

I sold the exact source to 28 people and out of all of them, you're the only person that had an issue with it. Like I said, the source was working just fine. You're stating you haven't changed anything in it but there's no proof of that, isn't there.

Silent ? - June 18, 2014, 3:48 pm

Should I post the exact source you sent me? Your lying also because you had me take the Echo off which means it was not working properly.

You think I would make this post for no reason, your obviously just on a scamming spree.

I had you remove debug code Imfao.

How about you go and look for the one I originally sent you over a month ago when you paid me?

Anyway, I'm done replying here. I sent you a working source when you paid me over a month ago.

PS: If you think im scamming, open a chargeback.

Send me a fully working code then if you think it is my fault, because it is not. I would open a charge back but I thought we could settle this on our own, guess not.

Closing this thread because me and him worked it out, I apologize for any inconveniences.
