Hey guys, I was going to suggest we make a MineCraft server for anime fans.

This would be able great for other Anime Goers to meet one anthoer.

If anyone would like to do this leave a comment, I personally think this would be a great Idea.

Le Update Number 2

(Jul 14, 2014 04:50 PM)NickChan Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) Trust me I'm going as fast as I can :3

Guess I can realse some more info though nows

We need more builders. If I can't get anyone to build a spawn I'm going to have to pay for someone to build one .-.

Anyone who helps build will get a Tag of [Builder]

Staff members get a tag of [Staff]

The people who help make config the plug ins will also get a tag, not sure yet though of what it is.

Other then though tags there is not going to be any Unless you guys want them. I was thinking of having it so the more time you played then you would earn a Tag such as Senpai, Loli, Sensi...etc.

I plan to order the server Thursday. From there it will be in private mode for about a week. The sooner we finish it the faster it will be ready for all of AA.

I still have to find a place to host this. Not sure yet . Wanna get something that's decent quality. My budget is roughly 50 a month. Based on how successful this is I might increase it. This paycheck I will probably be putting the 50 for the hosting then antohter 50 for other server stuffs. Might even get a sticky in the AA section for a week. Who knows. Depends on how much you guys can help me out too. What I mean by that if someone could create a logo banner and sig that would probably save me around 25 dollars that I could use for other things.

As far as greifing I'm going to get a plugin that allows you to claim areas based on how long you have played for. It was the same plugin used on HackerCraft.

That's pretty much it. Be sure to use the format in the Thread for applications of anykind.

Thanks. Looking Forward to this.

Here is the type of server I want.

First off I want this to be a completely no grief server. I want people to come on here and chill playing minecraft. There will be NO ranks. I for one hate going on servers seeing ranks. I will take donations but there will be no reward for donations other then reciving a thank you and being added on a donation wall. Since there will be no ranks the money will be mostly coming out of my own pocket for this. I'm thinking of a standard survival server with a creative world for people to build there own creations

Azsry - June 21, 2014, 9:51 pm

This would be a great idea if you had the funds to keep it online 24/7 since people here are from all over the shop.

Black Hole - June 21, 2014, 10:18 pm

If I'm not mistaken I remember a plugin that allow you to have songs in your server. You can maybe have that plugin and have people pick which song they would like.

Don't think that'd be possible. Probably would require some kind of Mod not just a plugin

The idea of a minecraft server where people with the same tastes could all share ideas is an excellent one! Hopefully trollers and griefers would not destroy the fun though. Otherwise if you got all the "trouble makers" under control it would be quite fun!

That was one of the major reasons why I took down AACraft.

A few members were causing trouble/griefing/hacking and then there was drama between others that became personal and included DDOS threats.

To think that the server will be bought soon.

I'm going to setup as much as I can all of tomw night like around 1AM EST to about 6AM EST will be me working on this server.

The host that I'm going to get is

Host Havoc

I will be purchasing the Lapis Plan with the Dedicated IP.

Since I haven't gotten ANY response from people wanting to help build. I might have to make a crappy one. I suck at building :(

If anyone can help me with building it would be greatly appertained and you will earn the [Builder] tag.

If you could do pixel art please also pm me with examples.

I will have a no tolerance policy for greifers. I will make sure the rest of my team knows that as well. Anyone trying to greif will be permanently ip banned.

There will also be plugins to stop greifers. Such as rollback functions aswell as plugins that will make it so others cannot break or build in your region.

I'm actually a full time player on another server right now but.. I'm at odds with a few of the changes they have implemented (real money in game purchases, against the EULA) and its pretty buggy.

Id definitely play even if its vanilla. Maybe not full time as I prefer servers running FTB packs like TPPI or Direwolf20 but I'll be active.

That's really counter intuitive to what he wants the server to be. If it goes that route it's just one of those crappy white listed servers where a select few anime nerds get together to RP, pretty much. Whereas if it is open anyone can join and things don't, in general, get boring.

If it goes that route it's just one of those crappy white listed servers where a select few anime nerds get together to RP, pretty much. Whereas if it is open anyone can join and things don't, in general, get boring.

Hmm, yeah that's a good point. I can see where you're coming from.

No but seriously I may have to build spawn myself. That would not be pretty.

I'll be on for another three hours at least. If anyone wants to help/contact me add me on skype (nickchan.hf) or pm me.

n0ir - July 24, 2014, 6:49 am

Is there anyone available to help build on the server? I've built a small spawn, but if anyone can actually build then please send me a pm.

Recruit somebody from the Minecraft section to help you build. Helpful tip though: more is less.

Chips Ahoy McCoy - July 24, 2014, 5:04 pm

I've got my internet fixed so I can go ahead and help you guys build now.

We are actually setting it up so you get a rank based on how much you have played. Senpai is the highest rank you can archive.

So is this basically a creative server like most "themed" servers are?

Speaking of economy I'm working on the Shop right now.
