As the title says I am 15 and thinking of suicide, I just done see the point of life.I just can't do this anymore. I'm tired of life. everything is numb to me. life is just so dumb now.
When i was younger like 13 years old. People told me that i wasn't good enough to be in this world. I'm sick of it. I want to fucking end this misery. This is just fucking awful.
I want to die.
I'm a loser.

This ^ And suicide doesn't solve anything. You're still very young and you could experience a lot in your life. Why fuck it up for no reason?

Talu - June 23, 2014, 3:24 am

Suicide is a selfish act, think about your family and relatives, how would they feel? And suicide is a permanent solution to a temporary problem. Many people who contemplate suicide but change their minds, see their lives improving within weeks, and are glad they didn't commit suicide. Also, people will always insult you, some more harsh than others. You just have to be a man, and take it in one ear and out the other. Sometimes, you can even use that as motivation to help you improve as a person.

All in all, don't commit suicide please. I'm sure your life will improve very soon.

L?gic - June 23, 2014, 3:26 am

Why go out like a coward? It may be pointless, but it's something else than death right? Just blackness. Whether your life right now is pointless or just filled with negative emotions. The possibility of success and happiness still exist and always will! Death only takes you to a full conclusion of nothing.

My opinion, and yes I think about suicide ALOT too because I feel life is pointless. Well... It is when you think about it. But the reason I choose to live. To get successful, and pull a middle finger to all those who doubted you growing up. All your "friends" who didnt believe you and your teachers who thought your dumb.

You get to pull a middle finger to all those fuckers. So my advice, you want to die? Why not die on top, above everyone, better than everyone. And make those cunts who werent there for you die miserable and you happy. ?

GamersUnited - June 23, 2014, 3:27 am

Look dude, suicide... I have no respect for that. "Tryagain" fuck you, it's someone having real issues.

Don't listen to assholes that'll put you down. Whatever the reason is. FORGET IT. It's not worth it dude.

I have no respect for suicide, because it's giving up. It's letting all the bullshit that surrounds you, consume you. Fuck all that shit bro.

Fuck that, fuck all the bullshit. Fuck it right in the ass, no lube.

I'm telling you man, or woman. Don't do it. There's a lot more to live. You can contact a lawyer and get yourself emancipated. You can contact social services and find a way out.

There's a million ways out. But suicide is NOT one of them. You want to be remembered as the person that tried in life, and succeeded hopefully. Not the kid that gave in to the bullshit.

Crawl through the 50 feet of shit, because on the other side? there's fucking heaven. There's tits and ass all over the place, or dicks and nipples i guess..

Point of it all. Fuck the bullshit. Suicide is not an option, living is. Deal with the shit, you'll only come out of it stronger then you're now.

FUCK THE BULLSHIT.

Maybe because life is too good not to live.

At this point you might feel like it isn't worth living and you will hate everything, but when you find your true meaning everything will fall into place.

I advice you to just try and keep going and find some professional help.

I've been there for awhile now, I'm starting to get out of it now. It's taken me about a month, but I'm getting better. You can too, just give life another chance. People are gonna put you down, fuck them because they don't know you. You don't know them and you don't want to know them because people like that aren't worth getting to know. I hope you get better, OP, because your family and friends will be devastated.

Such an ignorant comment. People with suicidal ideations more often than not are just waiting for that instant to tick them and finally push them over that barrier of contemplation. I don't know where you live but someone just waking up and walking off a bridge out of nowhere only happens in the movies.

Nikolas - June 23, 2014, 3:59 am

In all honesty, it seems like every young teenager is depressed or wants to kill themselves now. I fully understand depression, but are you sure you aren't just bored? Up until a few months ago I was in the same boat as you. I looked at life as if it was pointless & like I didn't belong. I had met the wrong type of people who only brought me down. I hate my appearance. I wasn't comfortable with myself. I was dealing with a lot of family problems. Etc. You just have to change all the negative aspects of your life into positive ones. But really, you're only 15. When I look back on it, I'm so glad I never attempted suicide. Life really does get better, but only if you try making it better. Stop letting other people get to you. Their opinions/remarks should mean nothing to you.

Sacred Symmetry - June 23, 2014, 4:11 am

OP, im not going to be insensitive about this..

You have a lot to live for , you are a privledged person, the mere fact that you have a warm bed at night , water , food and other things such as the luxuaries that we take for granted on a day-to-day basis.

Be grateful that you are here this day, you are the only person that can change your life around and rule out all this negativity of your life.

If you believe in change , change will take place.

If you need someone to talk to, contact me.

So? you want to kill yourself because some people said some words? get over yourself just ignore them. I doubt this is real anyway not trying to be a dick but I see a thread basically every month on people telling us they're going to kill themselves. But really, it's for attention.

Mr. Tycoon - June 23, 2014, 4:18 am its not the cowards way out....it does take courage. i tried once and it took months of planning..ever since i was 6 i always said that once i did more bad than good for the world i wouldnt live any longer...and once my abusive parents made me believe that, i tried to end my life. I ended up just getting a stomach pump, and a long sentence in a psychiatric ward. it definately wasn't fun.. i say that takes strength. but now, i just have to overcome the fact that my parents are wrong about me all the time, and try to be a better person. I am in my childhood, so its not just flashbacks. Im literally LIVING in the hell. i feel so worthless and alone, but i really try to live a normal life...so hard its exhausting. those people that say suicide is the cowards way out dont know what depression is like, and all they can think about is how THEY would feel if someone close to them killed themselves. tehyve never been in the situation that i/possible you have been in. I do agree that it is bad, and should be avoided as much as possible, but one of the biggest things that i thought about before i tried was where i was going to go. I believe in God, but i don't have any specific beliefs. I konw what the bible and torah tell me but i dont know if thats real... death is a big, gaping hole of mystery and i had to try to enter it....the questions that were wandering through my mind were unbelievable..a coward can do anything. die, or live through it. but, im just going to say that you can either live through it because your afraid to die or you dont want to hurt other people or your future. If its for other people that you live, its courageous, but to be afraid to die, thats cowardly

I dont know.. this seems like a sketchy post, cant tell if youre being serious or not. Typically when people have suicidal thoughts they dont go on the internet and explain why they are doing it. Especially at your age.

However if this is a legit post and you're serious, you need to seek help from a doctor or a counselor. Suicide is nothing to ponder about, you either seek help or it takes over your mind and you will eventually do it. Its that simple, no reason to be sitting at a computer trying to get online help, you need to talk to someone face to face. You're only 15, you have no idea how challenging life becomes throughout highscool and into the real world, if you are thinking about doing it at this age.. it concerns me what will happen later in life if you dont get help.

Why the fuck wouldn't he allow you to go to therapist?

Read few books about life and your (concious/subconcious) mind if you don't want to kill yourself but you'll probably just ignore this advice. Start going outside more, smoke some weed, be with friends (or get new friends if you have none), stop being the nerdy ass kid and rather use the nerdyness in your advantage to beat other people the fuck up.

Eat a lot of protein, build your muscles, start doing sports and start going to gym. Your life will change within 1 year. During that one year you could try taking some antidepressants or antipsychotics.

Then I have no other assumption other than saying this is a troll thread, and if it truly is, this is pathetic. Your father would not turn down help for his child I can guarantee that. Not to mention if youre able to post something as serious as suicide online, you should sure as hell be able to talk with someone in real life. Looking at your responses from previous users trying to genuinely help you, and you being childish and coming up with excuses as to why their advice wouldn't help is completely and utterly pathetic.

This is either you trying to gain something here on the forum (rep, attention, etc.) Or just your poor 15 year old humor trying to get a laugh and see how many responses this thread can get.

Lol, at this point in life, when others tell you you're not good enough, it's time to prove them wrong. Show them that you're better than they are, prove them wrong.

If you aren't willing to do that, well, they are right that you aren't good enough, sadly... So get your ass up and take their words as motivation for proving them wrong and kicking their ass.

Suicide wont help anything, you should talk to someone irl and get this fixed because if you die it will be a shame and will hurt your family/friends s7venty s7ven - June 23, 2014, 6:38 am

Don't think about suicide, you don't wanna do that. I always tell people to find what they enjoy in life, no matter if people put them down, fuck the haters is what I always tell people. Don't ever pay people out or put people down. Instead just put yourself up and let the haters do their thing. Id rather be a person that's hated on, than a person that does the hating. You can be the most beautiful person in the world and everybody sees light and rainbows when they look at you, but if you yourself don't know it, all of that doesn't even matter. Every second that you spend on doubting your worth, every moment that you use to criticize yourself; is a second of your life wasted, is a moment of your life thrown away. It's not like you have forever, so don't waste any of your seconds, don't throw even one of your moments away. You FIND what you enjoy in life, what YOU want to do with your life, it may take a piece of paper from High School to get you somewhere in your life but once you get done with that, you go do what YOU want to do, live life to the fullest my friend. A lifetime isn't forever, so take the first chance, don't wait for the second one! Because sometimes, there aren't second chances! And if it turns out to be a mistake? So what! This is life! A whole bunch of mistakes! But if you never get a second chance at something you didn't take a first chance at? That's true failure.

If you need anyone to talk to, just HMU.

Radical_ed - June 23, 2014, 10:28 am

Listen, things might be shitty right now, but honestly, what you're experiencing is a temporary problem

If you care about your life so little that you're willing to kill yourself, use that fact to completely free yourself- you don't have to be afraid of death anymore, and you can do things other people would only dream about.

Use your life to do good for others, at the very least.

so if you want to die you obviously don't give a shit. like, about anyone. 'cause if there is anyone who loves you, you don't got a FUCK about them, or hurting them, and if there's not, there's no one to give a shit about.

so instead of killing yourself, why don't you just get the fuck out? leave the basement, leave your house, leave the motherfucking country. go on an adventure. spend your time doing something awesome, like tracking down some terrorists. go be James Bond. Go fuck up a shark with a harpoon. Danger? Fuck that. You were going up against an 100% death rate before, you're being safe now. Fuck EVERYTHING, man, the world is your oyster.

Sometimes I wish I was suicidal, I'd pull the barrel out of my mouth and point it in the air, start a revolution. LIVE. Move to Barcelona, hit the bars, bang some chicks. STD's? Who fucking gives a shit?

and then when I'm done, maybe I wouldn't want to kill myself, 'cause I've seen how beautiful this world is.

not giving u shit man, just saying, if you dont know what to do with your life, start fixing the source instead of killing it.

Killing yourself is not an opportunity. start thinking of yourself instead for others. killing yourself will not make things better. As for many things in life there is a bad part, but bad parts get better. thats the flipside of life. life has its ups and downs.

in my eyes killing yourself is a lack discipline. if you want to better your own life, start being a bit more egotistic, start thinking about yourself, dont listen to others untill you know you are ready for it to do so.

again, im not giving u shit, just stating the obvious.

maybe start playing less league of legends, and pay more attention to real life things, instead of hiding behind a computer, start making more friends, go out, see something of the world.

League is not the best ego booster in the world as its full of whiners, which wont make you feel better at all.

Eliminate every piece of crap in your life to better your own. instead of eliminating your own life. if you done everything to better it, and it still doesn't work, than you can say that your life is crap. but i dont think you have done everything to see if there is an opportunity to have fun, or even be happy.

but who am i, im only reading a couple of lines about you. so i dont know you. so i will never judge you for the person you are. as im only reading text without emotions.

So again, this is just what i pick up from what you wrote. not for the person you really are.

Fujii™ - June 23, 2014, 1:05 pm

Honestly, I don't even think you should consider having the right to say you want to suicide. You have not been exposed to any forms of harsh reality in order to say you want to end it... Hell I don't have the right and I've been through the most messed up shit of my life. Wanna know how?

I have a father for a bum that beats his wife and is wanted by Ann Arbor County Police

I have an illiterate mother whom can't apply for welfare. I, a 17 year old guy is responsible for working 2 jobs in order to feed my 5 siblings

My schooling is messing up because of my work life At one point I was homeless staying at a friends and living on a school roof top sometimes.

Sometimes would starve myself in order to make sure my siblings get enough.

* Living in a Government Home and can't afford electricity so we use candles. (P.S. I'm at a Library right now)

But you know what? I still get up with a smile knowing that one day it will get better. No matter how much shit I'm in I can't let those who depend on me down.

And it hurts. It really hurts to be in situation, but you know what? Like the Japanese say "It can't be helped." I just move on and hope that one day God can send down a miracle.

All this but I still manage a smile, so don't ever say you got it bad, just keep smiling and move on, it's all you've got kid.

Suicide is only deemed wrong because its socially unacceptable today.

In the old times, people would commit suicide by sacraficing themself to the gods, and they were given the highest honor.

What it boils down to is WHY. If you wanma commit suicide cause a girl left you or cause life is too hard than you're a pussy and death isnt good enough for you. Try harder.

The world is what you make of it.

What if you did do it and was given the chance to see what would of been after, and that same day instead of taking your own life, you met the girl of your dreams, or won the lottery, or gained super powers! How would you feel then? Pretty shitty huh? You coulda been flying in spandex with a sexy cape, an equally sexy babe in one hand and a bag full of money in the other.

Come on, man you're 15 years young and you're debating to end your life? Yes, there are ups and downs in the world we all have them, but it's the people that fight through them that end up having the better life. You see it all the time, there are many actors, athletes and very successful people that have had a childhood of hell. I am sure they were the same way, debating if they should live or if they should die. The people that fight through it, the ones with the heart and the soul to fight a little longer are the people that find mars, invent great thing, become millionaires, because they just fought through and a little longer and they learned from that if they keep fighting great things are yet to come.

When i was younger like 13 years old. People told me that i wasn't good enough to be in this world. I'm sick of it. I want to fucking end this misery. This is just fucking awful.
I want to die.

I'm a loser.

Back in the early months I lost an early friend. His name was Daniel. We never met offline although we talked several times in an online hacking game. Called hackerforever. He helped me so much throughout the game. But our friendship declined when he did something that angered me. I got a bit mad at him. And kicked him out of the clan.

A month later a member of the game, xMon, came into chat and told us of his passing.

I was so heart broken. I didn't know him on a personal level. To this day when ever I hear the song "With a little help from my friends" by the beatles I think of him.

Suicide is selfish. And is cowardly. Everyone has problems and everyone has the ability to fight back those problems. Think of all the people who truly do care about you, and think. Is it fair to them? To lose someone they love so dearly because they think life is not worth living?

Life is an amazing thing. It is a rollarcoaster with it's ups and downs. And curves. Parts of it are scary. Parts of it are thrilling. And parts of it are boring. And then there are very special parts of it that are just the best.

We live for the fun moments. We live for the ones we care about. And we live to witness everything that life has to offer.

No one can stop you from committing suicide. We can only tell you reasons why you shouldn't.

If you ever need someone to talk to, please, feel free to message me.

I don't know you personally, but I just wanted to tell you that life gets better. The point of life is to find your purpose in it. That's why so many teenagers want to commit suicide, because they're too young to realize what they want. I used to contemplate committing suicide, I even attempted to a few times, but thankfully I wasn't successful. Now I'm taking Brazilian Jiu-Jitsu and Mixed Martial Arts classes and I'm happier than ever. Find your passion and stick with it, I promise you that you'll be much happier in life. If you ever need anyone to talk to, you can always private message me and I'll get back to you as soon as I can. Stay safe my friend.

Many people who contemplate suicide but change their minds, see their lives improving within weeks, and are glad they didn't commit suicide. Also, people will always insult you, some more harsh than others. You just have to be a man, and take it in one ear and out the other. Sometimes, you can even use that as motivation to help you improve as a person.

All in all, don't commit suicide please. I'm sure your life will improve very soon.

I'm not suicidal, but that whole argument wouldn't be valid in my case. Family and relatives wouldn't give a shit, they practically already want to disown me; even if they do care deep down in the abyss of their hearts - I'd be a lost thought in 6 months or less. Life isn't a temporary problem, it's a string of lies and deceit. The only thing that keeps me alive is love. There's a person that I love, the reason I still breathe in the morning, the reason I still wake up and live on another day. Someday, hopefully OP will realize he's got someone out there that will be his everything.

Let me create a scenario for you real quick, although I believe everyone out there has someone who loves them, let's pretend you don't. Let's pretend that tomorrow that person you love dies in a tragic death. I hope that this is not the case, but for this scenario let's just say it is. What would then be the meaning of your life? Love has no relation to life, expect your perception of it. The true meaning of life is to find purpose. Why else would we be here? We're obviously made to reproduce, but why reproduce without a purpose? With that logic, we would just be creating more humans for nothing. We all have some time of purpose on this Earth, if you decide to believe that or not is your choice, but it's the truth. Someone's purpose might be to be a painter, while someone else is meant to be a singer. Once you find your purpose, it will seem as the door to a fulfilling life has finally opened up to you.

Every single purpose I can think of involves a job. A job involves cheating people out of money. Money is the solution? It really isn't.

What I want to do, the sole purpose of my existence is to strive to be happy. I want to be on this planet is to make someone's life worth living. Finding the love of my life is what makes me happy. In short, love = my purpose.

Why must your purpose involve a job? If it's your passion, you won't think of it as a job, but rather something you love to do. If you believe that your purpose is to be happy, then I commend you, but don't relate your happiness to love. That's just codependency in disguise. You create your own happiness, when you're sad, it's because you choose to be. I know it's a difficult way of viewing things because a lot of people believe that others control their feelings, but in reality it's actually themselves.

What controls your emotions? Your brain. What controls your brain? You.
