Thread: Enterprise | Student Recruitment | 4 Members | 5 Days

Astral™ - June 25, 2014, 8:15 am

Introduction:

Enterprise is a group of selected individuals that will specialise in Business, Marketing and Monetizing. We strive to help the community of hackforums, with help desks, tutorials and giveaways. Inside the sub-forum we will mainly adapt and create methods of making money online, along with many other things.

You will be required to pay $50 in BTC to ~HF~. This investment will be made back easily through the mentor program. You are required to pay me, your mentor, 20% of all your earnings from my methods I teach you. The $50 BTC to ~HF~ is a one time payment. The 20% of your earnings paid to me, will only last while your a student.

Only four members will be accepted from this recruitment thread. If you impress me and ~HF~ you will become a full member of Enterprise after 2 weeks of being my student.

I no longer have an interest in joining Enterprise. I have removed my application. I'm not willing to give out 20% of my profits to you guys,

Justin Timberlake - June 25, 2014, 8:31 am

Does the $50 BTC have to be paid immediately or can we pay after making some earnings?

Ombra - June 25, 2014, 8:35 am

I made a web application for this recruitment, to introduce myself and show my activity on the internet (HF)

Due to the fact that i already applied for Enterprise, i decided to keep a part of the old application i made, considering that content is the same since i spoke about myself

BTW I have a few question:

Are we required to pay the $50 upfront?

Also by "This investment will be made back easily through the mentor program." is meant that we'll get the investment back during the 2 weeks of training or simply by taking part in the training?

Yes $50 payment upfront.

You will make your money back within the 2 weeks of being student easily.

And make even more from my methods once you become a full member.

Solid Cloud - June 25, 2014, 8:46 am

First off I'd like to say thank you for the opportunity to the apply. I have seen great stuff from Enterprise members.

I am a computer science, computer engineer major in college. I've always wanted to do business but knew a degree in this field would be better. I want to be a student with Enterprise so I can learn more about the marketing side of things so that I can successfully sell my programs and applications as well as create them to a market. I'm starting a line of products including a Crypter, turboer, sms spoofer, and ebooks which will all be released within the next week and learning to market them would be a huge advantage for me.

Thanks for allowing me to apply.

My Application:

Introduction:

Hello Enterprise, my name is County (previously Emir) and I'm interested in the student program that you've started offering. I've been on HackForums since December of 2012 and I've had multiple products that have been sold on here as well as other forums. I have had some issues coming up outside of HackForums and therefore I'm interested in this program. I hope to learn new ways to make money, marketing techniques, and other tips / tricks to boost sales.

My Skills:Graphic Designing - Through my time on HackForums I've gotten into graphic designing and animation which can be viewed here.

Video Editing - I've been video editing far before I was on HackForums and I can easily create promotional videos for products if needed.

Marketing - I've sold VPNs, stressers, eBooks, and other products that have been successful.

Monetizing - I have knowledge in many different techniques that have made me over $4,000 within the past 6 months.

Willingness to learn - I'm always looking to expand my knowledge and learn how to make the most amount of money I can online.

I currently use Skype and XMPP. I would also feel comfortable giving my mentor other ways to contact me if needed. I'd like to thank you for giving me the opportunity to be in this program and I wish the rest of the applicants best of luck ?

People are running low on cash so thats why all these buyins are popping up. I learned from Black Diamond to not buy into a student program, but who knows, Enterprise might be different.

There were 10 original members, did you think the group was going to be 10 people forever? And of course they are buy-ins. The user is getting to learn private methods of members in the group, access to the sub-forum that already has several methods posted in it. Also ~HF~ has to earn back the money he invested to get leader.

Well for starters, all requirements are meet.

I've tried to sell a few things here on HF, some by myself & another one with someone else, and well I've learned a little but nothing to make me cash. Even done a few exchanges will notable members, I'm hoping once I get more cash I can start my own "exchange" here on HF.

I've always been interested in owning my own product/company, but honestly I have no clue what it would be, or how I would start as I have very limited funds. It seems in OP the "teachers" already have a few methods/products that could help me get started and possible learn more with.

Honestly if what you can teach to us, the price seems cheap. You should be asking more for in the long run. If my mentor is successful in teaching me, I will be sharing a small portion to the mentor/Group of all my profits as long as I'm in the group. No don't take that as a bribe, but a thanks if your are successful.

Anyways back to me, enough about me sharing lul. This is a great opportunity, and I know it's not going to be just a walk in the park, it will require some effort on my end. I am willing to play my part, learn, earn cash, and succeed.

I have nothing really more to say. Thank you for this opportunity, and I hope you accept me.

I did say its 10 members for the first recruitment I never said anything about just having 10 members for life haha.

Also its not really a buy-in. Only 4 people will be accepted by their applications we will still be as selective as we was in the first recruitment. Its just a fee to pay for group stuff. They make it back anyway so im sure no one can complain.

General Information

Name: The Judge Jr. aka zERaIT

Age: 19 years old

Country: The Netherlands

About myself

I am a 19 years old boy from The Netherlands with a love for computers.

I've been building my own computer from the age of 12 and always wanted to study into the IT.

I've been studying Networking and finished the class, after that I had a gap year due to problems with my family where I was not able to study and focus on school a lot.

In this gap year I've been working 40 hours a week at a Networking company to keep my knowledge up in my mind, after this year I am going to school again and want to get more in-depth related to security.

My skillset Programming, mostly Visual Basic but I do know my way around in PHP.

Online Marketing, ever since I joined HF I was interested in marketing, I've lately released my stresser which is my main online income right now.

Monetization, I've been purchasing ~HF~ personal method, which earned me a lot, but I'm hoping to learn a lot more around monetizing.

Friendly, I am user friendly, you won't see me mad often.

Persistence, If I want something, I am going fully 100% for it.

Thanks for reading my application and I hope to see you around in Enterprise.?

Kind regards,
The Judge Jr.

About me

Username: Dark

Real name: David

Age: 19 years old.

Location: Ireland

[img]<http://#/vLVDrU.png>[/img]

Introduction

As mentioned before, name is Dark, although I may be just one of the many people posting in this thread looking for a place in your group, I can tell you right now that choosing me as one of your students will be something you will not regret. I am a person that strives in learning new things, and new methods to succeed in those given fields. Whether it be marketing, graphics, gaming, socializing. I used to be quite the marketer on Hackforums I sold steam games as gifts to the users of Hackforums, I was making over $200 a day on a bad day and upwards of $500 a day on a good day. Often times giving games for free to people if I miscalculated prices and felt generous. I personally loved it, the deals, earning a living from Hackforums and just being able to talk to people during the deals, making new friends. Sadly this didn't last, a month or two after starting the steam store, one or two members PM'd me saying they have had their games revoked. After a week of trying to find out why this would happen, multiple emails to steam and members I realized it was my method of getting them, the person/ website I was getting them from wasn't as legit as I thought they were, the seller was buying Russian games with hacked Paypals. To run Russian games you need a Russian VPN or else steam can detected it, Russian games are also sold at a fraction of the price. This resulted in games being revoked and my own steam being terminated along with my Paypal. Since then I have paid some users back the money they lost and PM'd others to apologize. About 10% of the people I sold to have had their games revoked, and I still haven't been able to make up all the money to pay them all back.

[img]<http://#/vLVDrU.png>[/img]

Why choose me?

I feel as though I may need this most out of everyone that applies, I have some wrongs to right on Hackforums, some people I owe money to that have even given up on the idea that I will ever pay them back. Yes, I will need to pay the $50 entry fee but if taking some of my IRL spending money to actually turn a profit for once, then I am all in! This is a golden opportunity for you guys to make more of a difference on Hackforums, I know you already have what with all the giveaways! Again, I feel as though I can make a difference to this group, I won't be something you regret, someone you look at and think twice about if they should be in the group. I have been there, I haven't got greedy with money and forgot what is important, all I ask is for you guys to give me a chance! I personally feel as though my skill sets are perfect to achieve highly in the monetization sections of Enterprise. I am a quick learner, I love to work with other members and love to just get chatting to members, ~HF~ knows about my random PM's to members. I feel as though, interpersonal skills are key in making money. You need to talk with clients if you plan on selling, you need to be open, easy to talk to, and I think I am just that.

[img]http://#/vLVDrU.png[/img]

Final thoughts

You have heard all I have to say, it is now in your hands! I want to wish everyone applying the best of luck whether I get in or not, and I want to take this section to thank ~HF~, Astral™ and Astonish for the work they are putting into Enterprise at the moment, and of course all the members of Enterprise!

Thank you for hearing me out, and have a great day.

??????? - June 25, 2014, 2:01 pm

I would like to start off my application by first saying, thank you for the opportunity to join your group. I know I'm a rather new member, and that might discourage you at first, but I would like to tell you what differentiates me from the other members. First, is my reasoning of wanting to make a stable income online. I have an eight month old daughter, soon to be nine months, who I need to support. She's my pride and joy, and it would really help me out with my financial situation. Second, not only do I plan to use this money to benefit my daughter, I would also like to donate some of my profits to charities that support families without food and people with diabetes, because that has greatly impacted my mom's life. Third, you might believe that there are other members on this forum who are more deserving of your mentorship, and you'd be correct. Everyone has their own personal struggles they have to face in life and mine are no worse than the next guys, but I can assure you that if you give me the chance to mentor off of you I will put in one hundred ten perfect effort. Not only that, I will also use my experience to help other members of the forum succeed as well, because I believe everyone deserves a chance.

Once again, thanks for this opportunity and have a wonderful day.

Time? - June 25, 2014, 2:34 pm

Hello there. My name is Ryan, but I go by Fa7e online. I specialize in the marketing field online. I have been a marketer for two years and I have made a countless of money on the internet. Most of it has been Whitehat, but I have also made money using Greyhat methods. I love exploring different methods of making money.

In my opinion, there are two factors to making money.

Those factors are persistence and creativity. First is persistence. If you do not put in the required time in effort, you will not earn. Second is creativity. To make money, you need to find new ways of doing so. If you use saturated methods you will not be very successful.

Another method of business is being a seller. When I sell both on-site and off-site, I try to make my products look as appealing as possible. In my opinion, you don't need to use a thread design to make images look appealing. With the right text and layout anything can look professional.

I feel that you should choose me to be induced into your group because I feel that I have the potential to be a better businessman. I feel that I am a fairly solid businessman as it is, but I know that I am not as good as anyone in The Enterprise. When I am a student I will learn as much as possible and make significantly greater earning than before. Also, I am willing to do the small jobs that are needed to be done. For example, I am willing to create recruitment threads, giveaway threads, release new information about the group, etc. I want to be a guy that is there when someone needs help with something involving monetizing, and I would love to share my knowledge with the marketers in The Enterprise. I am willing to put in the time and effort required to become one of the top earners on HF. :)

Though business/marketing is my main skill, I am also fairly talented in other subjects such as hacking, eWhoring, and Programming. I start, I would consider myself a mediocre hacker. I know quite a bit about SQL and such, but nothing really of higher knowledge. I also know the basics about starting a stresser, as well as doing online manhunts. My highest hacking related skill would be Doxing. I can Dox someone with very little info (Such as only a name or Email) in less than an hour. It is nothing that would get me into Legion or Null, but I have it down. Second, I am a very experienced eWhore. When I first started making money, the only thing I would do was eWhore. I was so devoted that I started making nearly $300 dollars a day doing so. Recently I have not been doing it as much because I have found easier and more ethical methods of making money. Lastly I am a mediocre programmer. My programming languages are VB.NET and Python. I would definitely say that I am better at Python, but I can get places with VB.NET as well.

Thank you very much for giving me the opportunity to apply for your group. There are two groups that I have been aiming to get into for a few months: The Empire and The Enterprise. I would love to be apart of your group, and I hope to hear from you next week. :)

About Me

I am a hard working individual who strive to make money. When I first started Hackfourms I did not know what area I could specialized in, I wanted to be a part of something that can not only benefit me but can also benefit members of the community. I have spent hours and dedication to try my best to learning and understanding different sections of the community. Months went by and I wanted to learn more about Graphic Designs, as I needed the skill set for my Business Management Course in high school.

I started using Photoshop, Cinema4D, and After Effects because I needed it for banners and Logos to help me on future courses.

After a year of getting into Graphic Designs on Hackfourms, I wanted to start making money and actually working on my goal to becoming a Businessman. I am not going to lie because almost everyone has been working on making a few amounts of cash off selling eBooks because I was one of those people.

In my opinion, eBooks is probably where I started in order to expand on what products I could work on in the near future. To cut the story short about this topic, I wanted to move on and work on other projects.

I participated in multiple Monetizing & Marketing Unofficial Groups, you can actually benefit a lot with groups like Diamond Marketers and Jade because they will actually give you tips or ideas on what you can invest to increase your revenue.

Money is my motivation and I will never stop taking a chance to make more money.

Experiences in Marketing

Advertisement Profession - It a position in my Entrepreneurship Course I currently take that basically deal with being able to find ways to increase the popularity of your products by finding commercial pricings, Banners, Logos, and to find ways to professional bring out a eye catching theme in a small budget.

Diamond Bomber - My first released product that I have earned an amazing amount of sales in a short period. This is currently the best product I have in the marketplace.

CloudNET – Remote Administration Tool

IncomeLocker – is the average tool for making money off multiple bots that a person have. Instead of wasting your slaves and torturing them, you can use proper moneymaking income.

Plane Banking - My eBook that I have made a decent amount of money on, I believe it once of the best eBooks I sold when it comes to making a guide for earning money online.

SkyBOT - A method eBook used to learn to properly receive a high amount of slaves.

Critical Stresser - It is a booter I am a Admin on that I work on sales and ticket support.

PowerGEN - Premium Generator

Why should i get invited?

The reason i should get invited is because i am ready to learn new ways to make money online. I would like to also be a part of the group and learn new ideas that many individual have that they want to work on. I will spread ideas and tips in the sub forums and be as active as possible. I also love to meet new people and work on projects that we can later release to the community.

I will be able to accomplish any assignment that is given to me on the due date and will not miss any meetings if we eventually have one.

Give me a chance and you won't be disappointed.

Eeluminati - June 25, 2014, 3:11 pm

I am currently studying accounting and business and am really enthusiastic about every aspect the group will be focusing on. I currently monetize off flipping currencies, gaming activities and my hacking & graphic services. I have also owned/co-owned multiple products in the past, such as booters, crypters, rats and keyloggers. Currently I am working on an RSPS with a few HF members and hopefully it ends up going alright.

I am usually pretty friendly towards everyone on Hackforums, apart from a minuscule few who I tend to completely ignore. I am easy to get a long with in my eyes, and am always willing to help out mates with whatever they need. I do not tolerate people who lie, as I despise liars and find it quite pathetic. Overall, I like making friends and working with others who are honest and friendly. I am sure Enterprise would be great to make some cool buds.

I think joining Enterprise would be a thrilling experience working with a group who share the same interests as me to create innovative ideas and release products in all areas of the forum. I love to help others, and strengthening my knowledge by joining Enterprise will only improve my assistance to other members on the forum. I'd be devoted to doing my best in projects, help desks and products to help maintain a prestigious representation of Enterprise for members outside of the group. I'd always contribute to the best of my ability and be active to make myself a valuable asset to the group.

Marketing experience.

I currently own my own Website development and Marketing firm. Most of my marketing is online marketing anything in person I usually just sub out. But SEO, Lead collection and email lists is a big part of what I do. I have managed to make around $50 an hour doing just that. But where that becomes hundreds an hour is when you put those skills into a project that is supported by others with some awesome skills to and that is my goal for this summer and its looking promising so far. I was also the Leader of the Complexity Marketing Sector and that was alot of work but it was very worth it I had a great time made many friends. Also learned who on hf wanted to make money but didnt want to work for it.

My Mine-craft Experience.

After buyign minecraft and playing on other peoples servers I found that I wanted my own and thats exactly what I did. You can find my thread that explained this in more detial but I wnt from 60$ a month negative to 2000$ a month racking in from this server before we had to close down for a lack of good managment between the coowner and I. I was responsible for the money and everything was fine until he decided to spend it all on advertising he thought was full proof but turned out to be a dud. killing the server. But we did make 2k a month for a few months.

My Pet Peeve

Saying you want something or that you need something. But not lifting one finger to make it happen.

Why I would benefit Enterprise.

Accepting me into Enterprise will not only help make the group better as a whole in a marketing and monetizing sence. But I am a great guy and I am willing to show and teach all fellow members my methods and work common methods with eachother and am willing to share that profit with the group and the leadership of the group to better the group. Such as SMF and huge giveaways because those are much needed things to monetize with Hackfourms. I am a very experienced Monetizer. if you are familiar with Jeffrey Gitomer and his books

I have read just about every single one of those. Plus I listen to podcasts related to leadership and managment and online marketing. And that gives me that edge to make that extra income online and the ability to leverage it to make even more .

Thankyou for reading my application it is a bit short so expect a voice or video one privately. If you accept me I will work extremely hard to make money for my self and the group to better the group. The 100$ commision is only right to do so of course the group will get that as well as much more for giveaways and the smf

Introduction: Hi, My name is MarthX. When I read this thread I got overly excited and decided to write my application asap. I'd be very grateful to be taken in as a student. Ever since I was young I've been in love with Business, Marketing and Monetizing. Ever since I was young I've been thinking of ways of making money, mostly un ethical but that's just the road I decided to take. Being successful financially and selling "products" or anything in general is the most rewarding experience.

Why should you accept me?

I think I should be in this program because I'm very very eager to learn, I'll work very hard until every goal and requirement is met. I do anything and everything I can to achieve my goals and I promise I won't disappoint.

My strenths: Social Engineering

Scamming

Manipuating

Selling

Dedication

Teamwork

Strive to be successful

Conclusion: All in all, accepting me would get you a very dedicated student. Willing to do anything and everything to impress and be successful. I'd be very grateful to be taken under your wing and sharing 20% would be no problem at all, I really hope you take my application into consideration and I'd be very ecstatic and ready for anything if accepted.

Your experience in Business, marketing or monetizing.

Marketing is something I would say that is my key point in this trade. I can take something, and turn it around and sell it for more. Business and marketing is something that I would love to be pursuing as an actual career. I am currently taking classes for it, which I believe I am actually ahead of the class, to get the degree to take really higher level classes. (You have to take the prerequisite classes in order to be taking the really advanced ones, I'm sure that you know this.)

Example sites or products on hackforums and outside of hackforums.

I don't really currently sell any official product, but right now I am more geared in the Online Account business. I'm not sure that providing a link to my Accounts Page would be necessary. When I started the account business, I was able to buy some, and barter my way up to the point where I have more than I started which is everything a business man is hoping to achieve.

Information about yourself.

I am BlackVeilBrides.

I am currently in my senior year of High School, and I am going to be going into College (Hopefully things work out) probably for Business & Marketing.

I am a really laid back person, but I do know when to be serious about things, unlike some people.

Music is life for me, no matter what I am doing, I am probably listening to music, in which I am really passionate about.

I skate, and play the drums pretty much all the time when I'm not here on HackForums.

I also, really have this deep love for kittens. k.

Provide proof of any earnings.

I can be providing money earnings via PM, but most of the accounts that I have are accounts that I was able to trade and deal for, doing two for one trades getting more and more.

From my Minecraft server, which was an excellent investment, I have made quite a profit which will be shown below.

Here are my earnings for 4-5 months of running my server which cost me 600$ Total.

Your skill set.

While I feel I am pretty good at Business & Marketing, that's not the only thing that I have to offer.

I am good at Minecraft Things, which is something I am going to be showing you my earnings from.

Why you want to be in Enterprise

I want to be in Enterprise because of a few things, in which I am going to be sharing with you right now. I have been looking for groups to join, but everything is

What will Enterprise gain from you being in it.

Enterprise will definitely be gaining if I am accepted. I believe that I am a really helpful member who is willing to share some of my methods to achieve greatness. Enterprise will be gaining a member who dedicates his time to these forum, someone who is always here and always looking for ways to better things. I can guarantee you that right now. If I am accepted into Enterprise, you will not regret it.

Thank you for reading my application. I appreciate your decision whether or not I get to become part of the group. :D

DragonBook - June 25, 2014, 7:03 pm

Hello, my handle is "Ward" and has been for some time.

I joined HF in the fall of 2009 through the referral of my old RL friend hugsyou. I am a very quiet member of the forum, having been here 5 years and only having accumulated less than 2000 posts, however I have never had a warning level above 0% and I have only ever received a single negative reputation, of which was 3 years ago and for which I do not remember the giver's reason. The only clue I have is the giver's comment, which doesn't help.

I have been writing code, along with researching finance, since I was 12 years old. Just recently I have started investing in stocks again (as of now my current holdings are ~$2050.) I work two jobs and go to college full time, one is at a library as a System Administrator for $19.75 an hour 20 hours a week (25% is taken after taxes and PERS), the other is $10 an hour for my uncle at his plastic manufacturing company, where I both maintain a Java-based ERP software I wrote from scratch which has revolutionized his daily operations (saved him about 5 hours a day and allowed him to go on vacations more often) and also do mundane IT maintenance tasks.

This software has been a big break for me and my uncle has convinced me that I could sell it as a product, however I believe it is a bad business plan. He said I could offer the software for about $5000 a pop and charge maintenance fees, but my only competitive advantage is that I am young, have no overhead, and can keep my prices dirt cheap, which is no way to become well-off through a software venture. I am tired of working 40 hours a week getting used by the man and with tuition (I can only afford a community college as I did not try hard in high school) and a car payment ($122 a month) I am working myself to death.

And so just now I came across your thread aimlessly browsing HF, and I see it as a one-time opportunity to educate myself on the one aspect of the internet that I have been dying to know since first joining HF and the one aspect I never had the confidence to learn: online monetization.

I have read many books on becoming rich, from Dale Carnegie to Frank Bettger and Thomas Stanley. I sold myself to a library branch, which has 10 different locations across my county, as a qualified candidate for a Systems Administration job, of which there are only 4 different System Administrators maintaining the entire library system, of which I am now one, and all I had to show was two semesters worth of mediocre effort towards an IT associates degree. I sold myself to a 50 year old plastics manufacturer that he should be paying me to write software for his company (which has ran perfectly fine for the past 30 years) instead of having me screw plastic together.

I am tired of working myself to death and I am not street smart about internet monetization. I need a gateway into it so I can learn on my own. I will pay you the $50, hell I will pay you $200 and give you 100% of the commission during my apprenticeship if you are serious about the fact that you and your mentors are capable of teaching me how to get it all back. I am a tightwad when it comes to entertainment and reckless spending, but I do not hesitate to purchase a $20 audiobook (which I listen to while I manually update Java and Flash on 30 different computers at a library branch) if I believe it will contribute to my success. In essence, I enjoy investing in education, no matter where it comes from, and I have seen much proof that there are people on this forum who know how to make money online, and I want in.

So please consider my application. Maybe there are things I know about the world that you would like to know, to which I would be more than happy to disclose to the group.

Thanks

Why you would like to join: I could learn a ton of stuff from being inside Enterprise. I have recently started becoming a seller, and, for the first of many eBooks I will release, I have earned quite some amount:

And this is only the beginning. I am growing, and, with the help of this group and techniques and strategies from the masters, I could be one of the best on here. I have ran my own RSPS and it has been successful, and I am rerunning it again, so I know a fair amount about business. I really have an amazing potential to learn, and will continue doing so. I know many people in this group, and I know I can benefit greatly. I have closed my thread because I am waiting for new graphics to be done and I am releasing a new one, soon.

Hello,

I am Tiger, or perhaps you'd like to know my real name, Mark. I am currently a very matured 16 year old who is open to learn any new knowledge someone is willing to teach me. I do very well in school, so I am by no means under educated. I have personally been trying my absolute hardest to make money online because with school and sports I do not have a lot of time on my hands to apply for a job and I hate asking my parents for money for personal reasons. Currently none of my projects have been as successful as I would have liked them to be, and I believe that is because of a lack of knowledge. I've run a couple Minecraft servers, but the time needed to run one of those is really consuming, so I didn't continue with my partner. I also ran a small account shop here on HackForums, one of the most popular at the time. A large portion of my time as a kid was trying to set up Runescape private servers, and I've owned a couple, not very successful, mostly from what I believe to be a lack of knowledge. If you accept me and mentor me I promise you that you will have my full attention, cooperation, and dedication. Please consider this application from not a begging standpoint, but from a desperate one. I want to be able to enjoy small luxuries in life without having to bug money off of my parents all the time. Thank you for reading this application, I know it isn't the best, but I'm being honest with you guys. I hope you take this one into consideration.

Sincerely,
Mark.

I am currently monetizing off my products and services i sell on HF and being an affiliate for some others. I've gathered a lot of marketing experience from the 2 years i've been on HF. I'm always looking for a new way on how i can get a quick buck off the internet. Not getting an IRL job and monetize off the internet is my life goal ? This is why joined Enterprise will surely help me greatly with what i'm after as it will help me get more ideas.

I'm a dedicated user on this forum and I like to socialize and meet new people, especially ones who have the same interest as me. Hello.

Posted on the previous recruitment thread, no luck there so I'll try mine here.

I have just recently gotten into making money online.

I ran a currency exchange service for about 2 weeks, had many successful deals and made about $1,000 in profit. That was the first time I've ever successfully made money online.

I don't really know that much about anything when it comes to monetizing online, to be honest. I am more looking to learn different ways to successfully make money.

I am going to be releasing a product line soon, so once all that gets sorted out hopefully I'll start successfully making some income.

I know how to code in several different programming languages, I am a very active member and a dedicated student.

I make a fair amount of money IRL which is why I've never really gotten into making money online, until recently.

That's basically a quick summary of me; hopefully you'll consider me for this program.

Thank you.

Sajuuk - June 28, 2014, 8:58 pm

So basically you're going to charge children money to teach them how to make money online, even when there are tons and tons of free eBooks and articles on the subject? Hell, I used to make hundreds of dollars on eBay with my own private method, which really isn't my personal private method because I learned how to do it by reading a series of internet articles on sites that come up number one on Google. Wow, isn't that a shocker?

And wasn't this the group that was originally going to be called Indigenous?

Free eBooks won't make you much, and are oversaturated 90% of the time.

It sure as hell beats five bucks for trimming hedges and mowing lawns. I recall one month when I made a total of (around) two-thousand dollars, and you think that free information won't make people an assload of money? Just goes to show how uneducated people are about subjects they think they know a lot about.

That will never happen. All group owners and leaders are money-hungry, at least to my knowledge (which is based on direct experience with the idiots on this site).

Sure, they may make you some money, but with the time you spend you could have made much more using a private method.

If you're not interested, that's fine. You're missing out. Those who are accepted will be glad they were accepted.

They'll be glad because they are completely clueless and unaware of how bad they're being fucked by the higher group members. What charging money to enter really means is "bend over a little further so I can stick this dick further up your ass."

And, educated people don't need private methods to make money.

You're not exposing anything, nor do you have proof to back up your claims.

Whatever you say. And of course I have no evidence to back up my statements. I stopped doing eBay shit back in 2009.

Introduction:

Hello, My name is Jay but people know my as Cyph Jr I am 16 years old and love sports but more than anything I love making money online. I've tried various methods and only 2 have seem to work the best. I won't say these method publicly but they've helped me pull through when I needed cash. I tried my hand at CPA and PPD but I could never get the grip of it so I quickly stopped.

Skillset:Marketing - Through my time on HackForums I've gotten into marketing which can be viewed by my threads.

Web Detracing - This is something I recently learned but it helps to remove people personal information off the internet.

Willing to learn - I'm looking to expand my knowledge on monetizing and other subjects.

Coding - Something I also recently picked up I'm currently learning 4 languages with the help of friends and by myself Vb.net, C#, PHP, and Html.

Why should I be accepted?: I should be accepted because I've always wanted to expand my skills on monetizing but I never had anyone to help me and as I've said above I am willing to learn.

I'd gladly pay $50 BTC, but I'm not giving you 20% of my earnings that I work my ass off for via programming for hours.

IMHO if you remove the 20% thing lots more people would want to join.

Its only 20% of your earnings made from our methods we teach you not your own personally earnings and its only for 2 weeks. Were not interested in how many people want to join its an exclusive group.

So I have money to buy into this group but why would I spend $50 on joining. Like what perks do I get for joining.

This isn't a buy in. This is getting a slot on their mentoring program.

If this was a buy in then everybody would have been able to pay in order to join without writing an application.

Only the members picked from the recruitment 'll have to pay, ergo this is not a buy in.

But, you have to pay after you get accepted to get in. So you're paying to get in... and that's buying in.

It's not a buyin. Enterprise only accepts the best of the best. We're recruiting a very small number of people and have them pay the fee to ensure we select only people we deem worthy.

If we were money hungry, don't you think we'd be letting more people in then just 4?

I'd like to add that none of the $50 goes into my pocket. It goes to ~HF~, who will be using it to do giveaways and improve the image of the group. Neither me nor ~HF~ are money hungry.

Like I stated above, you aren't right now, and might never be, but just let time go by and something might happen, you know?

Giveaways? That sounds cool. Will they be like Anonymous' giveaways? And what exactly do you mean by "improving the group's image"?

Only time will tell, so I'd appreciate it if you'd stop trashing the thread when you're not even 100% certain about the claims you make.

As for the giveaways, just look out for them. I'm not sure about how large they'll be as of now, but they will be significant.

And by improving the group's image, I mean as of now little is known about Enterprise. I hope with the giveaways and help desks we have planned, Enterprise will one day be as respected as Illuminati.
