Thread: SMS Verification API

Pretzels - June 26, 2014, 4:43 am

Hello,

I'm just wondering how much an SMS Verification API could sell for.

Features:

- Instant SMS Sending
- Credit feature (On your account you purchase credits, 1 credit is one SMS)
- You customize the SMS being sent.
- USA ONLY!

How much could I sell 100 credits for?

Would this be profitable?

I would say something like 10$ for ine month of sms sending would be better than actually working with credits. For credits I'd say like 1 cent a credit if you are going to sell it here on hf since its not really needed here and people dont wanna pay for shit on hf

It's just if I make it $10 a month, the API could only send one SMS (My server would make money), or could send 10000 SMS's (My server would be fucked).

So that is why I'm thinking about implementing credits.

I understand that, but you should sell it to a lot of people so you would be making money.

But what if I don't get the "a lot of people"...?

What if all of then do 1000 a month..?

I know it is going to be hard. BUT you would need to keep the prices as low as possible. the more you ask for it the less people will buy it.
