Site Name: Spud Gaming

URL: <http://spudgaming.com>

Description:

Spud Gaming is a site that is designed for gamers by gamers!

We strive to bring the best you will need and forums to talk about your favourite,games,platforms or even consoles! We are soon going to be adding some support section's that way you can get support with whatever you may need assistance with!

What Makes Spud Gaming Different I'm Sick Of Joining The Same Old Sites!

Woahh Man Calm Down, We aim to be different from the crowed so that way you get the best possible experience when navigating around the site or forums, Our goal is to give you up to date gaming information or rumours and have a all in one place for gamers to enjoy and be part in, If we don't currently have a feature that you would love please contact me directly spuddie95@gmail.com or shoot me an inbox on the forums.

Spud Gaming Is Still In It's Early Form

We wouldn't call it beta since we are using the Mybb forum software which is A pretty stable system but let's say that there may be still some broken images,minor bugs and some lack of features but we are working with you all as a community to fix them all so if you find any bugs or issues contact me with the details provided above or below

Email:spuddie95@gmail.com or shoot me an inbox on the forums (this forum or spud gaming)

This is basically all we have to say for now!

Any feature request let me know and I might add them :D

Now it's your choice to check us out and let us know what you think so we can improve and be the best we can be ;)

I love the theme and the header mostly cause I love Halo 4, looked around a bit but everything looks pretty good. Not much to say but just advertise and I think this forum will do just fine.

Cyber Saint - June 27, 2014, 12:38 pm

The home page looks very nice, and the theme for the forum looks simple yet it serves a purpose.

Like Deadpool stated, advertise and this forum will do just fine. Keep it up and keep improving the forum aspect of the website. Be sure to add a favicon!

Thanks we are trying our best :)

Even though the theme is Nice it does have a lot of bugs compatibility with certain browsers so I be looking at a more neater stable theme today.

Also we now have a blog check out some of our articles here
