Thread: Change email confirmation email doesn't come through

Vodge - June 27, 2014, 6:42 am

I changed my email address, it's been several days and I still haven't had the confirmation email come through. Tried to change it a couple of times too to see if it wasn't a one off, no luck.

I was posting and then power cut. Anyways the email servers sometimes have a delay or a tendency of never coming through with my experience with hotmail.

I advise you to retry to send the email and wait 24 hours.

It would help if you supplied your email provider.

Did you check all your folders?

Can you try with an hotmail provider? It works fine for hotmail.

Probably an issue that needs to be raised to Omni.

I did mine a while back and it worked fine, maybe try hotmail other than gmail?
