I can't see any images.
Try using the IMG tags. Code [img]ImageURLhere[/img]
And put them in a spoiler while your at it.

Upload the image to an image hosting site such as imgur.
Just search for that on google, upload your image, then get the image URL and replace it with "ImageURLhere".

EDIT: Thanks to the user above.

I think the photos are great, I like the broken up street below your text. It would have been cool to see some more destruction between the buildings though.
Overall great job!

Very nice stuff OP, good luck with this!

I've said this many time before, but I'll say it again. You need to make the text blend better with it's surrounding, it looks like its in front of the background and not actually involved with it. Also the fire should stand out more in my opinion. Did you use a tutorial for this? or did you do it or yourself? either way good work ?

Post this in the Rate My Graphic section and you'll get more feedback.

Pretty cool, although I feel like the fire looks too fake. Maybe add a grunge texture to it.
