Thread: OMC-Faucet -- Fundraising

.Matt - July 9, 2014, 12:59 pm

Hey guys. After almost one month of running OMC-Faucet we have noticed that our adsense has gone to almost nothing. At the current rate of Adsense revenue:

[img]http://prnt.pw/i/2014-07-09_2057.png[/img]

We will simply not be able to continue giving free Omnicoins. We have been giving around 400-800 OMC per week and as you can tell, £0.08 in two days doesn't quite pay for that amount of OMC.

The reason for this thread isn't to cry or bitch about the faucet not getting any cash.. It's to ask you guys what you think we should change and/or do to help keep the faucet from running dry?

Well maby show ads for the users... i can't see any

Edit: i do not know what Toggle ssl is but when i presset that button ads was shown.

.Matt - July 9, 2014, 1:22 pm

Sometimes ads aren't shown due to google not having any to show but they're there. Two ads at the bottom of the page. SSL is a security measure to make sure that your connection to the server when logging in is encrypted.

Watch out for Google banning your adsense account for "fraudulent or abnormal clicks". That's what happened to HURRR and I think that was one of the reasons (if not the main reason) for him going on that scamming spree he went on.

.Matt - July 9, 2014, 1:25 pm

I'm being very careful about that. I haven't actually ever asked for clicks. Nor do i even want to cheat the system. If an ad interests someone then they can click it as they wish. I have no request in the matter :)

That's good. :) HURRR was telling people outright to click on their ads in his threads lol so that's why his click rate was so abnormal.

it would be better if u switch adsense to some other ad network,many users have problem with adsense.

good luck with that

Add a gambling dice thing with a 0.5% house edge.

Sadly gambling is banned on HF so if i added a dice game to the faucet we would have to remove all links to hf etc i'm pretty sure

Free bitco.in gives each day a lot of Bitcoins and it doesn't dry never. Why? Because they use Adbit.co. It's a great advertising platform, you should try it. I earn 3000 satoshis each day and just with a very basic faucet.

My recommendation: Use adbit.co then put the minimum bid to 0.0001 BTC per day. Put 2/3 adspaces and put the same bid. That should cover some of your OMC.

.Matt - July 9, 2014, 2:54 pm

I'll give it a go. 3000 satoshis is only 2 cents tho mate.

hoppedup - July 9, 2014, 3:03 pm

To help you out I can throw you a 1000 omc and I,m sure a few others can do the same whilst you get a perfect revenue stream found.

markeloff - July 9, 2014, 3:10 pm

What about selling ads in the site for hf members?

Make 3-4 ads and rent them per week or month.

Not sure how this thing would go, But at least its better than few cents!

gtszzfinest - July 10, 2014, 4:52 am

I don't think I ever used your faucet, but I clicked an ad that had interest me. I think you should take the link off the page, linking to this HF thread. Any google employee can take it the wrong way and ban you.

webdev77 - July 10, 2014, 5:58 am

I suggest selling ads directly to HF users. You can probably earn a few bucks a week doing that which may be enough to cover operating expenses. If OMC are at a rate of 1:200, you only need $5 or so to cover 1000 omc. Then, anything beyond that rolls over to the next week or becomes profit.

.Matt - July 10, 2014, 9:59 am

Thanks guys for the feedback. I think it will be much better to sell ads to HF members too. I'll try to find some buyers. If we get more $-->OMC than is needed to payout we will raise the pay per roll minimum. We aren't looking for profit :)

Nicodemon - July 10, 2014, 11:35 am

I'll throw 1k omc your way too mate, hopefully that gives you more time to get revenue sorted ?

Yes, i'm trying out different adrevenue sites at the moment.

Lumia - July 10, 2014, 2:34 pm

I clicked few ads on your site, hope that helps you out :), that is at least what i can do.

Obli - July 10, 2014, 3:20 pm

As Matt said we're not in it for the profit, we would like to thank everyone who's donating and helping us giving out free omcs.

We currently are the highest paying omnicoins faucet, it is a pleasure for us to supply you with OMCs!

My Google account was banned from AdSense. They say I cheated. I never encouraged anyone to click the ads and I might have hit it once myself by accident. Lost $100 of ad revenue.

You can't even discuss it with them because Google doesn't have any support. You can appeal, but you just get a blank approval or rejection.

BruceWillis - July 11, 2014, 12:26 am

Clicked your ads, thanks for the site man :)

My adsense account is very old and has had about 2k$ through it. I doubt they'd ban me...

How much would you charge for ads months + any statistics on views etc? Could be interested.

I'm not entirely sure. My stats program is saying we get about 100-200 views per day but i'm pretty sure it's more than that. I'm open to offers as i don't really know a fair price.

Maybe consider posting a thread in the marketplace to sell ads?

Also, are you using google analytics or something else?

Looking to buy advertising at this page for a week, as a start.

How much would it cost?
