About

I am a professional engineering designer focusing in 3d photo-realistic models. Everything that i create is proportioned in true to life dimensions, and the majority of the models are 3D printable.

Experience

I have been fully qualified in my field for numerous years, and have worked with many multinational companies.

More

I am currently in the planning phase of opening a 3D print shop here on HF

About:

My name is James, Im 18, and American, The creation of Graphics is not a job, or a niche but a passion. I love to design, teach, and learn, new techniques, and styles. The creativity that lives within my mind grows everyday. I have never filled out any other applications to a Usergroup on Hackforums, This will be my first. I feel this Usergroup would be perfect for me to represent around the community.

Experience:

I have been designing graphics for 3.5 years. My experience stretches to multiple programs, such as, Adobe Photoshop, Adobe Illustrator, Cinema 4D, and Adobe After Effects. I am also an Adobe Certified Associate(I can provide proof if needed) I personally feel my talents are strongly shown in Adobe Photoshop the most, for I have been using it the longest out of all the programs listed.

More:

I have been scouting the many talents that fbn has shown throughout the forum, I want to join because I want to be apart of that talent releasing new content under fbn, such as tutorials, resources, and possibly services, but Most importantly to learn!

Regardless of the approval of my application, Thanks for reviewing it.

Cheers

About:

Well I am a 17 year old South African living in Australia. I produce music, do some basic graphics designing and drawing here and there, but I focus on photography. I like to inspire others with my work as it fills me with joy and a sense of... I don't know, achievement you could say. My uncle inspired me to get into photography at an early age. I still remember him showing me how to use a Polaroid camera and man oh man, I never let go of that thing.

Experience:

I have been taking photos since the age of 8, however I only recently got serious about it. (Driving places for the purpose of taking photos). I have a lot of aspects I could improve on and I hope to continue to develop and grow in terms of photography.

More:

As you can see I am a new member on this forum, however I do not think that has any impact on my work and my ability to take quality snaps. Either way, whether I get accepted or declined... Nothing is stopping me from continuing with this hobby.

Thank you

About :

I'm a 17 year old, fresh out of high school. I'm currently thinking of what to do next in my life. I've been looking into Grapic's Design for awhile now because it has caught my interest. I'm still learning how to do new things here and there, but I'm taking my time doing it. I love graffiti, and I have done a few tags in the past. I also love to draw. In my spare time, I try to draw new things.

Experience :

I have been trying to teach my self new things in photoshop as time goes. I've taken a Design studies class in my past, and I was more advance then the teacher (It was high school, not much to expect).

More :

I would love to get into this group because I think it would give me the motivation to further my experience in grapic design. GFX has always been something I have wondered about. Sometimes I'll make something that everyone will love, and sometimes it's complete shit, but there is always room to learn and fix my mistakes.

My work: Spoiler (Click to View)

About me: My name is Chris, I'm a graphic designer and it isn't just a hobby or a part time job for me. It's a lifestyle, it can change the way you think and act when it comes to certain situations. As a kid I was always scribbling or trying to draw fictional characters in a notebook at school or at home, I was never that impressed since it took hours to perfect a project. Around the age of 11 I started creating sprites for the fictional characters I drew previously in Microsoft Paint, eventually this got me into digital design and I started experiment with programs like Adobe Photoshop and Cinema 4D. I was very pleased with the outcome of every project I made and it truly became my passion, I then decided that this is what I wanted to do as a career when I got older. I'm very passionate about my work and try to improve on a daily basis.

Experience: As I mentioned previously, I have over three years of experience in graphic design programs such as Adobe Photoshop and Cinema 4D. I used to be in the 'Call of Duty scene' and I've lead design teams for some big clans such as JustTrickshotting, TheClanThrust, AutomaticReturns and a few more. Looking back at it I think it was silly because that entire time I could've been earning money with a design service on HackForums but then again, money can't replace the memories I had designing and competing with my friends.

On a separate note, It's nice to see that FBN didn't get sold. I hope this was some what of a wake up call for some of the members in the group. Good luck to all of the other applicants!

-Lily- - July 10, 2014, 6:57 am

<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=f2MdKkyH5RQ> - Another CoD edit for a team.

About: I've done editing professional for a few years and I went from being complete and an utter mess to somewhat decent. These are videos from when I still edited, but I am wanting to come back. I don't know how long this recruitment would be up so I'd rather give examples I've already done that I have now rather than rushing to make a poor video.

Experience: I've been paid from numerous clients within and outside of HF. Most of them we're from Xbox and HF (which is how I paid for my L33T and other goodies) but some other work I've done was on craigslist as well. On CL all I did was just editing videos and pictures for weddings, family reunions, etc. I used to no-life the video editing section to help critique friends, post my own work, and learn some new things. I was respected and liked to a degree within that forum. I have the experience and ability to be in this clan, I just need the approval.

More: The reason I quit editing before was because my main computer was about 8 years old and it came to the end of it's life in the blink of an eye. I didn't get a new computer until September 2013 which is when I came back to HF as well. A plethora of people were asking me to get back into editing but I just never found the time to do so. Now that it's summer and I'm doing this to rejoin another graphics group then I'm willing to take the time and effort to bring high quality work in the name of FBN.

Your work:

Currently have a debut, 25-track Album in production. We do all the mixing and mastering ourselves. I'm apart of a rap duo consisting of two. We put hours on end daily into doing what we love and we plan on staying independent the whole way and doing everything ourselves, although would be nice to have an actual producer on board, as mixing and mastering can be difficult. I've also had a bit of experience playin' around with Photoshop (Creating text and stuff mainly) Main focus is writing and recording hip hop though. Unfortunately I can't post any tracks on here as they haven't been officially released as of yet. Perfection takes time.

About:

I'm a 22 year old Artist from Australia. I'm apart of a two-piece hip hop duo. I'm very passionate about what I do and strive for perfection to detail. I write for hours on end. It's good to be able to vent about real-life scenarios and piece it together with a killer beat. Hearing the final product is overwhelming at times.

Experience:

I've been writing rap since 2009 I think it was. I put a few tracks up on youtube back then and at the time, I was mates with the well known Aussie emcee "360" so he would mentor me along the way and give me pointers. Although when he went mainstream (chasing coin) he gained further fame and we lost contact.

More:

I would love to be apart of the group and share my opinions with other Artist's and hear others opinions on my work when released. I think you can tell when someone is truly passionate about what they do, and I think that's what this group is all about, and I'd love to be apart of that if accepted. We also have a clothing label, I can provide members with free merch etc, if they want that is. I know my reputation record isn't the best, although was told I could still apply as this group doesn't judge on reputation, that made me want to join even more as that's what it's all about, keepin' it real all day. Thanks. ?

I'd be more than happy to share my work in the sub-forum if accepted. I don't really want my unreleased work around a sub-forum I'm not active on. I have some stuff from 2010 although I've improved a lot since then. Mainly just been perfecting the craft rather than just straight up recording anything that comes to mind. There's a key to writing good hip hop, take your time?

Pm a leader with your music then, members are accepted based off the entire groups approval so the majority of us, 30 or so will all most likely hear it.

::About

I'm a 24 years old young guy who graduated in multimedia design a few years ago. Always loved art, specially digital art and that's the main reason why I chose this career and am where I am today. Recently joined a nice and friendly young firm as a graphic designer.

::Experience

It all began 9 years ago when I started playing with Photoshop and doing dumb stuff. Right now I have knowledge on a much broader set of tools and I make a living out of it, however experience is never too much, you are always a novice when you compare yourself to some unbelievably amazing artists.

::More

It's the only group that has something to do with me, hence the application. All the members I've met so far were nice and humble, I like that.

Thank you for your time ?

sad cats :((

Spoiler (Click to View)

about:

My name is Jude and I'm a student who enjoys abandoned places and cats. I'm currently in high school and I believe that I'd be a great addition to FBN. I specialise in 'urban exploration' - which focuses on places that the average citizen wouldn't be able to see. Abandoned buildings, rooftops and train tunnels are all subjects that I enjoy photographing.

I have also recently become more interested in glitch art or vaporwave, a very unique digital art genre. It mostly uses programs such as Photoshop or Illustrator to glitch and distort images and I've also started to integrate some of my own work into my vaporwave images.

experience:

I've been taking photos for a year now and believe that my skills have largely improved since I first bought my camera. I take it wherever I go in the hope of capturing something out of the ordinary. I am also very competent in post-production using software such as Photoshop and Lightroom. I use my expertise in this area to create glitch art that is somewhat of a new interest, however I'm constantly learning new techniques and styles everyday.

No problems, I don't have a problem with members hearing old stuff, I've just learnt a lot more since and am better now. When our new stuff is released though, if accepted, members will be the first to hear. Before it even drops I'll post it to hear peoples thoughts. I think they'll love it?

I'll also be dedicated to the one group. I see members of the group applying for numerous groups although I would only be committed to this.

The song above is titled hackforums. I took someone's advice and submitted an original song. This song represents how cold , dark and scarty the community is at first but over time becomes a happy and welcoming place.

About

Hi my name is What/Daniel, I am a 15 year old guy living in Ontario, Canada. I play the guitar fingerstyle and regular, a bit of piano and do magic tricks. (I know nerdy) I am also a swimmer and swim nearly every day. I do a bit of graphics but not much.

Experience

I have done graphics for a few months but have played guitar for a few years; I think 3. I recently started to learn the piano and also I can play (sort of) the autoharp, however its horribly out of tune and I don't know how to tune it so I could not record me playing.

More

I do not have a great mic so the audio quality is not very good.

About

I am a seventeen year old Venezuelan, born to a musician (father) and an artist (mother). My passions in art include graphic design, drawing, 3D modelling, reviewing, and most recently photography.

Experience

I have been drawing for as long as I can remember, and have been using Photoshop for four or five years now. Two years ago I found Cinema 4D and have been learning that along with Illustrator. My experience in photography is very little, but I am striving to improve my shots (focus, angle, light, etc.). I am also trying to learn how to create flash animation soon.

I have applied to fbn before with a lesser variety of pieces with no success, but I hope to catch your eye even more this time around. I feel that I can provide critique and advice to group members in certain areas of design and drawing/illustration, and also receive critique. Thanks for reading.

About:

My name is Ben and I am 17 Years old. My passion is music, analyzing sounds, feel the vibes go through my body making me shiver.

Create, write, search the perfect sound and make people happy, that's my goal.

Experience:

I have been singing since my very young age and picked up the guitar when I was 13. Started writing songs about two years ago. For me experience is not what you can do, but translate your feelings into the sound. Experience is not what you can do, but what you have seen, lived and felt.

If I join this group it would be similar to an orgasm. Be with people that share the same passion and feelings as you and being able to talk about it is something great. I don't do music for fame or money, I do it because I love it, and because I would not be able to live without it.

About: My name is John im 16, my GFX name is OmeGa i enjoy rowing, Soccer, Australian Rules Football and learning. I started gfx when my CoD trickshotting clan needed it in 2010, then stopped in at the end of 2010 when my clan disbanded (was really shitty) and picked it back up again about 2-3months ago improving alot at the moment. I also do a bit of photography every now and then.

Experience: just doing my thing for my clan back in the day and nothing much else, did a 2 pieces for eeluminati and some other users on here

More:Im really looking to find new styles and learn new things such as animation for sigs etc. Looking to make some friends and have a place to chat :)

Do you guys accept Hand-Art Artists? Like, Drawing, Painting, etc. Instead of just Graphical design?

Yes. A lot of us are actually traditional artists as well, as long as you have work to share feel free to apply.

The group as a whole decides on who gets in and who doesn't, there's no formal application review process. If you don't receive an invite you can assume you're denied.

This is is my most recent work-

Portfolio

My slow internet would take me forever and a day to upload my animations. I would be happy to share them on google drive with anyone who is interested though. I apologise for some of the blue backgrounds behind some of the images, some were ripped from my presentation as I am on a new PC. .

About:

My name is Sam and I'm 18 years old from the UK. I have always been interested in the graphics community but only recently got inspired by 3D design and animation. I have attained an A* in A level Graphics with a cityscape project along with an animation project. I started to gain a real passion for Graphics when I started to see improvement in my work and I love to use feedback to flourish in my designs. My most recent project 'Urban Gardens' was featured in a local exhibition for young art talent which I'm really proud about.

Experience:

I have studied Graphics for 5 years at school and I'm going onto University to study Computer Science with Graphical Multimedia. I am experienced with Photoshop, Illustrator, Cinema 4D and in the process of building my skills in AE. I have done a few odd jobs for people with some designs. Most proud of gaining full marks for my A level in the projects shown.

More:

I feel I will bring a new side to Fly By Night as I don't see much 3D stuff around the forums much these days, I am going to start producing some tutorials and guides for the community now that I have some more time on my hands with school being over. Doing this under the Fly By Night name would be great for me, and I think I can help the Graphics community grow here.

Thank you for taking the time to read my application and I hope to hear from you soon. ?

About

I'm 16, I come from Lithuania, year 3/4 in tradition art school, 11th grade :p. I loved doing it for a few years for free, then I discovered HF, it kind of ruined my passion for designs, but that was my problem not HF. I only worked for money, the reason I started to lose passion was my low prices.

So from now on I stopped working for low money, started making the designs I love, digital paintings, photo manipulating and etc. I realised it's not all about the money. ;)

Not sure why one shouldn't post a link to his portfolio neither. If it is well organized then this shouldn't be a problem. There are many people that got a lucky shot or two in photography and would post that, afterwards you would figure out that there isn't much more behind that.. so I would rather see more albums than a couple of single images.

Baghead - August 1, 2014, 4:09 pm

Don't make it any harder than it needs to be for us to view your work. Link your portfolio? Fine, but we're going to close it as soon as we see 500 text signatures and sales thread designs, it doesn't matter if the mona lisa is hidden in there. The harder you make it for us to view your best pieces and exhibit your skills, the less likely it'll be that we actually see them.

About

Ever since i was little i have always been in to art. I am a 17 year old girl from Scotland and drawing is my real passion. I also paint in acrylic and oil but for me nothing can beat a sketch or doodle. Sometimes i even have a go on paint or photoshop designing logos or characters.

Experience

During the course of school i have taken product design, Advanced higher art and higher photography. All of these are helping me towards my goal of art university or college.

More

I really think this group would suit me best as art is in my everyday life and is something i can give a good opinion on to others. I hope that if i am accepted in this group i can learn new tips and ideas from other designers and improve myself ?

Thank you for takeing the time to read my application ^-^

About

I'm 17 years of age. I mainly just tag for the fun of it and to see how far I can go in the end. Eventually I might look into other types of art (Already have but cant find the drive for it at this moment)

Experience

I've been tagging for about 4ish years. I started about a year before I made my account on this forum. I've branched into smudging and a small amount of abstract.

More

Well last time I went inactive due to life issues. Got the boot now I'm back and my lifes been in order for quite a while. Plus I miss some old friends.

Maybe this time someone will actually review mine.

About:

I'm a sixteen-year-old design enthusiast. I don't like to call myself a graphics designer, because frankly, I'd be lying to you. I'm not hired as a designer, I do it for fun, and sell my graphics to people who find them appealing. I currently use After Effects, Photoshop, Illustrator, and some Adobe Muse.

Experience:

I've been using Photoshop for about three years now, and I recently started with the rest of the software I've listed. I currently have my own graphics shop you can find here.

More:

I really enjoy making graphics, as I feel it's a way for me to show my creativity without having to be artistically gifted (Painting, sculpting, etc). I know a lot about graphic design, but there's always more to learn, and FBN can help open my eyes to new styles/ideas.

I wanted to do something for me and my friends, currently I am learning some HTML, and this design was an attempt for a site for my friends to hang out their and chat with their youtube subs. But it look to close to twitch as some said, so Im doing a redo on it.

About

I am still in school, a gamer, and a semi beginner at graphics. I am taking a graphics design course that would surely help me get better at my works.

Experience

I mainly use Photoshop, nothing else. I do have illustrator, but I feel its more on logos.

About:

Patrick is my name but most people call me 'Pascha'. I am born in Germany and moved to Canada 7 years ago.

When we immigrated to Canada I found my passion in the creative field. I started off designing simple things in Photoshop.

Long story short; my daily designing became a business. With the age of 18 me and a friend founded Flashmount.

Which is a local design agency based in Manitoba, Canada (Things have been going great!).

I also started a YouTube channel about design which you can check out here:

<https://www.youtube.com/user/PixelArtsy>

Overall, I'm a pretty nice guy who loves to meet new people, learn new things, share my knowledge and drink coffee.

Experience:

I started my designing career with the age of 14. I have a lot of experience in the design industry. When I speak about 'design industry' I don't mean sitting in front of the screen all day and playing around with Photoshop.

I carefully organize all designing elements on the page to make it readable and easy to scan.

I have worked with a handful of clients and corporate companies, held meetings and presentations.

Your work: I'm currently working in a factory while I'm still at college studying IT, after IT I may move on to another course to show myself a brighter future, it's better to have a couple of options just incase one doesn't work out. I'm still young so still got a lot of time to get some degrees and more.

About: I'm 18 years old and I live in Ireland, I really enjoy computers and anything to do with them, I really enjoy social media marketing as that's one of the things I specialize in, I have a lot of followers on twitter and turn that into money to help myself and my family, which is really cool, I love doing anything to do with computers.

Experience: I have worked in a computer store before for a couple of months and found it very basic and easy, most of the problems were simple basic problems to someone who has a high interest in computers and anything along the lines, I also built two computers myself and really enjoyed doing it, it was something I enjoyed and may do one in the near future when I can.

More: I'd really like to join your group as it seems like an awesome group, the design is very nice and there's not many around I see with it which is great, the less the better :D

ABOUT ME

Am a 21 year old final year B.tech Computer Science student. Call me Wolfi.
I've joined HF recently, and is more than happy helping members with free Graphics.
I love programming, and am an average programmer in languages like C, Python when compared with programming experts.
But, Designing is always my passion.
I think am pretty good with photos, and videos at an average level.
Am currently learning more about Web Designing.

EXPERIENCE

When coming to experience, I don't have any experience on working with any firms.
All I have done is worked for some of my websites, social medias, and for my friends.
I have an experience of working in photoshop for a couple of years.
Posted above are some of the minor graphics works I've did for my HF friends in the past one month.

MORE

I really love to be a part of Fly By Nights. It will provide me a platform, with a lot of HQ members.
I will be able to learn a lot more from the graphics masters over there, and my works will be noted more with this label.
I can assure you that, I'll be HQ and will put on my maximum effort to make my works the best.

NOTE: Kindly forgive my mistakes if any. It's my very first group application on HF.
Waiting hopefully for a positive response... ?

Ultimately its up to what the group thinks so there's no set standard but if you have a good grasp of the fundamentals of whatever discipline you're practising and show that you're both creative and dedicated, I feel that you'll have a pretty decent chance as for what work to post just post whatever you think are your strongest pieces, whether it's displaying technical or conceptual skills

Let me give you a piece of advice. I'm not talking on the behalf of the group, but I'm expressing my opinion.

Work on yourself. Get out of your comfort zone for once, try something new, I've seen your stuff and, excuse me for saying this, it's repetitive and boring, I see that everyday on HF. Try out something new! Try to ask for feedback on your work, and look at the criticism you get, and learn from your mistakes. It's okay to fail once, twice, but try to get the grasp of something new, something creative, something truly artistic. Nobody cares about you providing free graphics, what we care about is your work/portfolio, applying with the same stuff thrice or so won't do the trick, you need to show us that you have potential, that you're at least good enough, and that you have the will to continue working on yourself. Nobody gets good at the first try, or the second, but do something innovative for once.

My Work

I would just like to point out that before viewing my videos, please keep in mind these were from 2012-early 2013. I have not been able to upload a lot due to the fact I have been moving countries and busy with school work. This being said I am actively practicing editing, but do not upload because I believe it is not upload worthy. I will be getting back into uploading within a week, I just need to set my main PC up.

About

I have a passion for video editing, it is such an amazing way for me to openly express myself and emotions in an edit and get feedback on them. I love being creative, as you will see in my edits linked above.. back in 2012-2013 those were pretty up there in terms of standards for a kid editing in his mom's basement. I always had a passion for gaming, which is why most of my edits are based around video game clips, however I added in some IRL edits for you because I also think it's important to implement that form of editing to give you a better understanding of my styles.

Obviously I'm not a professional, nor do I claim to be.. however I am looking into taking video editing and production up as a major at my college, along with cyber security and web forensics. FBN seems like a good group to receive feedback on my edits and hopefully improve and get me a step ahead in college!

Experience

I originally started getting into VFX and editing around late 2009 early 2010. I saw COD montages and instantly was hooked as to how these editors were making games look even more awesome. I got into it, starting off on Sony Vegas. I was editing on Sony Vegas for 2 years, from there I moved to Adobe After Effects and have been using this program ever since. I have been trying to work more with IRL editing, I have got a very nice video camera that I will be shooting clips for my future edits once I return back to school. I love to assist other, and have opened help desks in the Video Editing section here on HF, however because Video Editing doesn't seem as popular it didn't really kick off as much as I would have liked it too. I am leading the VFX sector for The Brotherhood and are helping guys with the basics, everyone has to start somewhere, which is why I made the Brotherhood VFX Student recruitment thread.. it allows me to help those new guys and teach them what I know, and maybe even get some pointers from them as to what could make my edits look better and more visually appealing.

More

I would like to say that when viewing my edits, please take into consideration that many of them were done in 2012 which makes them 2 years out of "standards" and are probably not what you are used to seeing in terms of quality on YouTube now a days. I would like to point out that just because I am leading a sector of Brotherhood for this form of art, does not make me a professional nor do I claim to be, and also note that COD EDITING CHANGES OVER TIME. Meaning that one month, dubstep could be the new style with loads of effects and crazy color correction. The next month it could change to Rap music, with mellow color correction and more simplistic effects. IRL edits are solely up to the editors own style and creative mind, I believe that they are able to do whatever they want in IRL edits because there really are no set restrictions.

I've been producing electronic music for about 2 years now, and I've been playing the piano for around 10 years now.

Ever since I can remember I've loved photography and cinematography.

I've also been trying to get into some graphic design, and would love to learn more from the people that know it the best.

You can check out my music here

I uploaded a few pictures to imgur here.

My external harddrive just fucking broke which has the majority of them, but here's a few anyways. The first one is a logo I created for my soundcloud in photoshop, thought I'd throw that in there to show I'm trying to learn graphic design.

I might not have a lot to prove for myself, but I consider myself experienced enough in many different fields to contribute to the group.

The main reason I want to join however is to learn more from other members to improve my skills.

As far as cameras I've worked with goes I'm very well trained with the Panasonic AJ-SDC905E, the Sony NXCAM, and the Nikon D90

I don't JUST have experience with electronic music as well, I also have real world experience. I also have a lot of experience with real recording/mixing, and I'm well trained with the Soundcraft GB4 Mixer.

This includes live mixing and recording of bands. I've done many concerts and many recordings using this baby.

I feel like I could better show my skills to other users if I'm actually accepted, as I'm not the best at selling myself like this.

I'd say if anything I'm more on the technical side of things, but with a lot of the music I make and the videos and pictures I take the technical side of things is very important.

Thanks for taking the time to read this half-assed application.

I just feel like HackForums is really lacking a place where I can go and be creative, which is why I would be honored to be accepted into this group.

If you need me to prove my skills to you, I can do whatever you want man.

I made that melody super fast earlier, you might recognize it, but yeah, i was just playing around with that.

About

I am currently learning to be a music producer.

I currently don't have much work to show as i am still learning, but i am being taught by another member of HF how to produce music.

In the "Your work" section i will attach some melody's and things i have been working on recently. I have been doing VFX for quite some time and i have previously dont GFX too. I have added a picture of one of the youtube backgrounds i made for myself quite some time ago.

Experience

As noted before, i am still learning how to make music. I have been doing VFX for quite some time now and i used to do GFX a lot and people brought my work (youtube channel backgrounds ect)

More

It's not much, but i currently have a youtube channel that is vastly growing where i am uploading music and will eventually be uploading music of my own.

I hope my application has been somewhat interesting, thanks!

Also, sorry for my lack of HQ post design and stuff, i didn't sleep at all last night..

Note: this is no where near my most recent and or my best work, I recently bought a new pc because my last one combusted and well all of my crafts were deleted, these are the only ones I could find that I posted on the internet.

(I couldn't upload all images so I put them in this pastebin : <http://pastebin.com/D74p8bmD>)

About:

I am a graphic designer of 3 years now, I mostly do tags and logos in my art but I am moving on to web design soon.

Believe it or not I started graphic design because I was horrible at real life drawing, my drawing skills are very limited I find myself struggling to draw a cube at times, but in the way that graphic design was portrayed I found myself exploring the joys of graphical art and so much more of what it was.

I actually started very early in design I was only 12 years of age, and little fetus OCD had started designing banners for his mother and her friends and I eventually grew to making banners for my local town and when middle school came around I was the cool kid being the graphic designer of the school. Now, being fifteen I design all of the schools Homework journals, banners of events and even I re - designed the logo.

I am still learning because I don't think I will ever get to a stage where I won't be able to learn anything new.

Note this is the same answer for Experience also.

More:

As of now I really can't say much more, I have explained everything I have done etc, but I do ask of you one thing. I know there are better designers than me on this forum and these applicants but those applicants styles differ to what I do, so judge them on their styles and judge me on my style.

About:

I am known as Panik, and am no stranger to the graphical arts world. I was a former member of the Graphic Masters, as well as a Staff member on GraphicBooting. I have spent more than 5 years working in computer 3D modeling, blueprinting, and design.

Experience:

As stated, I have been working in graphic arts since 2007. The programs I most frequently use are Rhino, Brazil, Bink, AutoCAD, and Home Design. I have done everything from designing jewelry to blueprinting houses. Included are a few of my early drafts as they are the only ones I have hard copies of. You can see my 3D ducky that I designed then printed. I also have a printed baseball, mask, and plane.

More:

As a long-time member of HackForums, I have been around for almost everything. I can contribute a lot of culture and history to the crew, as well as brighten threads with my golden personality. I am happy to help with anything related to rendering and modeling as well as actual construction of designs.

+1, add Panik to your group now. <3
