Thread: Do not buy from resolver.in | Seller: 2278464 & 1958436

0x - - July 11, 2014, 8:21 pm

Once again, it's not working and the owner

<https://hackforums.net/member.php?action=profile&uid=2278464> is refusing to fix it. Don't waste your money, it'll either come back up and go back offline within the next minutes.

So two weeks ago, I purchased a simple API from them and it worked perfectly, but for the past week the API hasn't been working and is returning a 524 Error (Web Server Timing Out).

I contacted Lorde (The person that is advertising on HF) and this was his response

Spoiler (Click to View)

Obviously, he doesn't give a damn. So don't waste your money on that resolver, trust me. It's just $15 so I don't really care but still sad to see.

Take look at this...

If you enter a valid Skype Username, it'll just timeout. If you enter a username that doesn't exist, it'll return saying it doesn't exist.

I cant be held responsible when the main developer is away to update our stub. Leaving me no access to our fucking server to update it myself. Cry about it all you want I dont have a way to fix it until he gets back. My reason for not talking to you is because you made a false report on my friend. so if you were gona be a dick to him I was gona do the same to you.

Yeah your correct I should of made a community alert or something about it thought never occurred since there was really no posting happening on my threads.

Bonfire - July 11, 2014, 9:33 pm

Lorde sold a legitimate "product", his Skype resolver API.

Suddenly, it stops working and OP confronts Lorde about it.

Lorde replies with immature responses, and admits that it doesn't work. Even after admitting it doesn't work, he's yet to warn his customers. Even if the issue is out of your hands Lorde, you still need to tell your customers what's going on and help resolve the issue instead of instigating with backtalk.

How I see it, either Lorde refunds OP, either with a full cash refund, or add the length of the downtime to the length that OP owns the API. (If it's down for 2 weeks, add an extra 2 weeks to OPs API)

Either way, Lorde is being a highly unprofessional businessman, and is lying to his customers by not mentioning that the service is broken.

Tirus - July 11, 2014, 9:33 pm

Lorde, I am on no ones side here. Please remember that before you read this, I have nothing against you nor 0x68 but I do believe you're acting awful childish in this situation. This is NOT how a business men should act, you're angry and I understand but you will regret acting like this later, you'll think "Wow, what was I even thinking? That was so unnecessary of me." But anyway, I wish you the best of luck Lorde.
