Thread: [\[TUT\] \[autopilot\] Earn loads of cash online \[TUT\]](#)

Blackstars - July 13, 2014, 2:55 am

I see a lot of people struggling with making money online, so I will give out one of my methods that I have earned over a 100€ in one week with. (I know it is not that much, but I think this method has some potential)

Okay, this is the most basic method. The thing whit g2a goldmine is that you can customize your referral links, many doesn't even realize that the click on a referral link. And when they have clicked on your refer link, a cookie will be dropped on the customer's computer, so if they don't buy anything from g2a the first time, but they come back and buy anything at a later date you still get the money and they will be added to your team.

This means you can give them 5% discount coupons and you will get gain profit from all of their future purchases and referrals from g2a.

Things you need!

1. An account on g2a goldmine

Non-refer link

2. Creativity

Method 1

When you have created your account, go to tools and press add more.

Now name your link whit something that catches the eye, the link that I gain most profit from is this one: https://www.g2a.com/r/hearthstone_cardpacks

When you are done naming your link you have to choose what g2a page you want to promote and press create.

Now go back to your profile and copy your link.

You are now setup to earn some money.

Now you have to come up with some way to get people to visit your link and buy what you are promoting.

Here are my most successful ways in order.

1. Twitch chat

Don't just spam your link in a chat an get some,

I have found that it is much more effective to just chat for some time and then ask them if they would like to buy some cheap games that you found.

This way they won't just instant delete your link, and if you are lucky the streamer might even promote your link. But if they start to argue with you just go to the next stream, it is not worth to continue to argue with them

2. Chatrooms

Essentially, this is nearly exactly the same as the twitch chat.

Method 2 (auto pilot)

This method is based on if you refer or invite person A that then in turn refer person B. You will get 100% of the normal profit if person A buys a game, and you will get 60% and person A will get 100% of the normal profit if person B buys a game. This means that you hardly have to do any work at all.

All you have to do is just refer a big YouTube or twitch streamer and you are good to go.

If you plan on using this method I suggest to write custom message to each person you write to, this will greatly increase the probability that he will start referring people.

I hope you liked my first tutorial

If you need help, just write a comment and I will help you as fast as possible.
