Thread: British Car Expo. - Photos

A storm hit about 20 minutes after I got there, so I had to put my camera away shortly after shooting these. I was kind of sad, but I'm going to a national car show in September, and I'll be going to plenty before then. Anyway, here's the best of the ones I got:

Pretty nice photos, classic cars indeed. In a lot of them, it's grainy like the quality isn't the best. If you don't mind me asking, what did you use to shoot these? Despite the quality lacking a bit, these are still pretty good photos creativity wise.

They all look great except one.

That one just doesn't stand out enough to me. Seems a little uneven too.

Kind of grainy, work on the color correction. Nice other than that.

Some really nice pictures here. Such a shame the weather had to come and ruin it all. Nice classic car pics Fox. Great job, as usual.

Really nice photos! Especially the third one! Good job and good luck in the future.

Nice looking car for the expo. I like the first photo the most I think. Really direct. Nice shots OP!
