I search seriously people with idea for business,and then i send Pictures of the shell and website...

Do you realize how fucking stupid you sound?

"N00B !!" - You've even managed to include a space, proceeded by two exclamation marks.

You've spelt seriously as "seriously" and are wanting people to take you seriously.

Ugh...

I don't get why people "hack" something, then ask what to do next. You should think more before you do something and already have shit planned. You can do something like this though.
