Skype : I DON'T have a skype account.

FAQ - Frequently Asked Questions |

Q. What is the difference between Installs/Updates/Loads

A. Installs - Sold to many people.

Updates - Sold to a few people and removed from my botnet and come to you.

Loads - Directly from my EK(Exploit Kit) and doesn't hit my botnet.

Q. I got so less bots even when my file was 0/35 ?

A. There are 1000's of reasons for the bots to go offline or die, your software might be bad or your file size might be huge and don't expect much from a shit crypter even if you're 0/35. Please don't annoy me about it. If you are buying installs, you might get botkilled, that is the risk you take when buying installs, I do not want to hear about it, get a more persistent file.

Q. Do you do test installs ?

A. No I DON'T. Please don't ask me about it.

Q. Are you giving vouch copies ?

A. Since I am new here, I will give the benefit of doubt. I will send the vouch copies only to some people I deem trusted. Please don't spam my inbox :P

Um why did you censor Andro? Anyway, anything could go wrong. There's no telling.

Trival - August 29, 2014, 11:14 pm

(Aug 29, 2014 09:51 AM)Ramtamplan Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) This is my opinion after two purchases, the first, 500 bots, 99% Oriental market, but was warned, all perfect, good ratio. The second, 1000 bots, bots disappeared within 5 minutes or less connected, all!, queried this to seller and they said I was the only one getting bots at that time (they not were in their bot, were from traffic, although they were purchased as installs). When the task is completed in about 20 hours, I have none of these bots. I think Trival has not botkilled me, no one botkill immediately their clients, is stupid, but I know some traffic vendors sell the same traffic to multiple botsellers at same time, and it is normal that each botseller "clean" their bots when received.

I have communicated this to Trival, to claim to traffic provider, and the answer could not be more rude "read the TOS", "you bought installs", "everything is fine on my side", "get better file" (my bot is a legit ano, no dependencies, c ++ crypted, rootkit, with one secondary detection (1/35) . I Hope that helps future customers.

Sorry for my english.
Lol.

What you do not know is that I don't buy traffic from a "guy", I have more than 1 traffic source and you are just implying that I have only 1 which is simply not the case and that's why all traffic is UNIQUE (I even told you this on skype but you just didn't listen.)

I gave you a VERY good explanation to this on Skype but you just come here and sales trash me ? Well, whatever.

You talk like Andromeda can't be bot-killed because its so good but the thing is, it can be killed easily, sorry to burst your bubble and yes I am talking about andro 2.09

Please come back with a better file as in more persistent.

Please NOTE : I DON'T EVER, EVER, BOTKILL MY CUSTOMERS, THOSE WHO HAVE BOUGHT FROM ME WILL KNOW THE SAME.

Thanks!

You told me that I deal with 1 traffic seller when I don't deal with a traffic seller at ALL ? How can you even know my business, what I do and whom I have contacts with ? If you have proof of this, then post it, don't post something you can't backup.

Since when does an update mean "a few people"? And if you remove it from your net, you can't sell it to those other "few people". I know I've been gone a little while, but im sure your choice of wording is holding back some sales bro. Updates mean one customer, and removed from your net. Installs are/should be sold to 3-4 people at max to keep them HQ installs, and also in different channels than your updates for sale. But other than that, I've seen some happy customers vouching, so keep it up.

Installs are/should be sold to 3-4 people at max to keep them HQ installs, and also in different channels than your updates for sale. But other than that, I've seen some happy customers vouching, so keep it up.

What ? I think you understood it totally wrong. Updates mean they are sold to a few people before as installs and then they are removed from my botnet when someone buys.

How do I do that since I sell installs to many people and can possibly lose a track of them ?

Simple. I've made a group of those bots specifically to be sold as updates.

Thanks for your kind words. :)

Nah, I use to get 10s of thousands of infections a month, and my buddy would sell for us. I trust you are using IRC correct? You have a base channel where new infections connect to. From there you split them up to different channels, channels for updates, or a channel for installs. Updates are traditionally sold to only 1 buyer and it leaves your net, which is why they should cost more, usually around .10 per bot from what i remember. Installs work best with no more than 4 different customer`s bots on the machine. This helps keep the bot stable, and a less likely chance of it dropping from you or your customer`s net. And you can even make channels for both update/installs depending on the bot`s country and ISP. Some people prefer bots from their own country. And some ISPs hit much harder than others. Verizon FIOS for instance. We use to be able to sell those for about .25 for a single update. Because they had some pretty ridiculous power for a residential connection. Just thought I would give a little input. I am by no means trying to tell you what to do. Just trying to be a little helpful if possible. :)

Updates are typically sold to a buyer after 1-2 prior executions, otherwise they'd just be loads. I really don't need or want your opinion on how you think I should run my service or sell my bots, but thanks anyway.

I use a variety of bots for holding/selling.

Thanks.

Well I was going about this in a nice way, but with your attitude regarding my concerns as to how you are advertising, ive had enough. Updates are sold to one person, and one person only. Ive been doing this shit since before you were even out of elementary school, so dont even try. If you are selling these people "updates" and those bots also have other people`s file on it(that you put there), there is still a chance of botkill from the other customers. I`ve seen bot sellers get perma-banned here for selling installs and telling people they were updates. Loads are when you upload a customer`s file to the exploit until it hits the desired number of executions. You need to get your shit straight and watch who you`re talking to. And if you still think I`m the idiot, I found these other 2 threads in literally 5 minutes, who sell bots that obviously know the difference between an update and an install.

An update is already in your net. And the customer still has the risk of losing a few when you sell them. Loading their file to the exploit guarantees that no one has that infected machine besides them, no chance that it could be an install being sold as an update, and they get a solid number. But you risk compromising your exploit by putting an inferior virus in place of your already proven one. I`m done arguing here. I just wish people on this site would listen instead of automatically thinking they know everything.

I wish I could tell you more about what I do and then you would 'possibly' understand, I suppose.

An update is removed from my net after it is sold. -.-

I know better than you tho. Get off my thread.

Hello sir, I do not mean to interfere but I believe what the other guy is saying that by you selling loads, your exploit might become detected and removed because the virus put on the load will not be the same as your botnet that is ensured FUD.
