How many HF members play Club Penguin or has a close family member that plays Club penguin? I am curious to know this as to see the possible demand of Club Penguin items, money, accounts, furniture items, stamps, or even membership. So, how many members play or has a family member the plays?

Unfortunately, I don't think anyone here plays Club Penguin, and you'd probably be better off asking this in the lounge as well.

Shockley - July 18, 2014, 1:01 pm

Do you have the beta hat from 2005? I don't play but this game was my childhood and I had the 2006 hat and I used to want the 2005 hat badly.

xnavyseals - July 18, 2014, 1:35 pm

If you have a dope account with rare items I would be interested

Dre™ - July 18, 2014, 1:36 pm

I used to play but lost my account. And now I gotta pay to play. Smd clubpenguin

You're wrong

Personally I hold any black hat conversation via club penguin. Very securely hidden

The days were Club Penguin. I remember finding the only working coin generate and playing the mineshaft cart game stacking tokens for when I got a membership. GGs.

I programed a club penguin password cracker and released it free back in 2010 and maintained it until early 2012. My work and with the help of others, of course, fueled an underground by cracking beta penguins and selling them for $100-$300. I didn't partake in any account cracking, but if the underground still exists, i know who you could contact.

I see Club Penguin was a serious game lol

Bro, holy shit, I remember doing that as well. Good times, good times. ?

MrKamarJ - July 18, 2014, 3:05 pm

I guess I could open an account shop or service shop and see how it goes. Only way to find out is to try right?

Demented - July 18, 2014, 3:40 pm

I'm not sure if there's a demand for that here... but then again anything is possible.

netFaux - July 18, 2014, 3:42 pm

I owned a beta penguin on my manage account and someone called it in and banned it.

Autocorrect - July 18, 2014, 3:42 pm

Sadly, the only items of some value could be an account with every beta hat since 2005. Even then I really don't see much value for it, sorry.

Interesting because I've never heard of this even though I was once deeply entwined with the underground community.

Any game that my sister played when she was a kid (only club penguin and barbie shit. You know whatever girls do when theyre young) there is no market for in a place like this LOL

Forezza - July 19, 2014, 9:07 pm

I played it back in '06, was actually addicted and paid for it, then I moved onto the bigger and better runescape. My account got banned back in '06 as well for swearing at too many people. Nowadays, I'm pretty sure that the demand for club penguin items / accounts has declined. There are far bigger and better games around.

MaZe. - July 19, 2014, 9:09 pm

I think every HF member has had a rainbow pet ball, and coin hacks :)

MrKamarJ - July 19, 2014, 11:39 pm

Lol well at least it goes to show most HF members had a childhood

LaFerrari - July 20, 2014, 1:19 am

Yeah everyone in my near by elementary school plays it. I just want the beta hat from when I was 10

Cyber Saint - July 22, 2014, 1:06 am

Oh god, this game was my life back in 2008. Items like the beta hat and red lei might be of value still.

MrKamarJ - July 22, 2014, 12:01 pm

Beta would probably get you banned now...The red lei...Thats interesting. What are the super valuable items in Club Penguin?
