Thread: Good underground music. A must listen for music lovers.

PURPPP - July 19, 2014, 2:02 am

Hey hackforums & music lovers, I'm gonna start by saying if you don't like an alternative sound to rap/hiphop/r&b then this thread isn't for you, but I still encourage you to give it a listen regardless of the type(s) of music you listen to.. I name three different types of music because it really is an alternative to the three. We like to call it "Swoul" .. Swag&Soul .. The journey started 8-9 years ago before I was even involved so for me about 6 years. At first it was beats, then it was in the closet messing around with freestyles on a webcam mic with a blanket draped over the "studio", and now we're in the booth creating actual music... The sound is getting better & better with every verse.

The most recent music you'll hear is on the second mixtape, and soundcloud.. Youtube has a lot of originals from back in the day that a lot of people still like. Personally I would recommend listening to; So Cold, Night Owlz, Definitely Different, Recognition, Not The One, or Stressin.. (I'll provide a few soundcloud players below + a youtube video or two... OH & all of the songs I just mentioned are off the second mixtape) It's just all about the vibe you wanna hear.. The music is all about emotion & real life.. Not mainstream.. Not ran through people in a suits trying to make top dollar.. But despite all that we have a solid fanbase here in Eugene, Oregon and we're growing. We ask you to be apart of this adventure.

PLEASE EXCUSE ANY GRAMMATICAL ERRORS I DID THIS AS FAST AS HUMANLY POSSIBLE If you like the music please comment on the thread to keep it alive so other people can hear it as well.

I love this type of music, underground. I have my own channel website called Nostalgia, may I post songs in it?
