Thread: Help me find an anime I watched years ago. \(Difficult\)

I need help finding an anime I watched years ago, I can remember certain things about it and basically the general story but I've been looking for days and struggle to find even a clue about it.

It had really graphic and well detailed powers/fight scenes, they were kind of like Naruto except they weren't really "abilities" and it was in old medieval times (not that far back though, most likely in between). I remember one fight (possibly in one of the movies or episodes, I'm not entirely sure.) In the fight there was a massive blue whirlwind that was practically thrown out by one of the characters weapons.

At the beginning the demon king who watches over their land or village (whatever you prefer) gets attacked by some other place and ends up dying, with his son expecting to surpass him because of his young age and promising skill.

I think there was an anime series, and a bunch of movies too. The fight scene I can remember is most likely part of one of the movies if I am corrected. It had an English dub that was actually pretty good.

It's definitely not the second one.

But the first one seems VERY similar.

If you say there were movies and a series I doubt it was Maoyuu Maou Yuusha. It only had one 12 episode season and the demon king in it is also a woman

No unfortunately it wasn't this. The demon king who dies during the war is bigger and he's a man, he wears like traditional big samurai armor when he gets invaded. He defends himself with regular slice/dash attacks but at some points he used huge flashy/colored moves that are really fast. They are really good quality and are kind of like the abilities in Naruto except you don't need hand signs, special training, or conditions. (If that helps)

Is this Katanagatari by any chance? The OP somewhat reminds me of it.

Although he's not a Demon King.

The characters seem very alike (in a sense) but it seems too childish to be what I'm thinking of. You never know though, you could be right. I'll watch a few more episodes.

InuYasha looks almost exact but I can't find the movie scene/episode that would help my memory. All I can remember about it is that they were at some tower/cathedral or something where some dark lord had summoned like 10000 skeletons to fight the main character and his friend (possibly his father). My brother said it was InuYasha but I'm not sure. I'm going to keep looking.

Yu Yu Hakusho? Highly doubt it though because that was like the final arc

That's at least what I think.

It's Inuyasha movie 3,

This is the demon king character:

and his description:

Setuna no Takemaru is villain of third InuYasha movie Swords of an Honorable Ruler is a samurai who fall in love with Izayoi who was Inuyasha's mother.

After learning she was to bear a hanyo child, he took it upon himself to kill her. However, Inuyasha's father arrived and revived her. He cut off Takemaru's arm and later duelled to the death with the latter in the collapsing castle. Years later, Sounga revived him as a demonic being reminding him of his hatred towards Izayoi for taking Inuyasha's father, a demon to bear her child. Using the cursed sword, he raised an undead army to do battle with Inuyasha and Sesshomaru.

Quote: Using the cursed sword, he raised an undead army to do battle with Inuyasha and Sesshomaru.

This line fits Ops description pretty well.

Seriously, it's perfection. I remember watching it on TV when I was younger.
