Hmm, never seen this before, I wonder what it means flightsimmer - July 22, 2014, 1:41 am

LOL chill man, it's okay it isn't the police (although its possible ?)

Red user means the darkcomet server on their computer is outdated;they're running an older version of the stub you created on a previous version of darkcomet. When he shows up try to update the server.

The appearing/disappearing could be from poor connection, hopefully it'll stabilize eventually.

It means there using an older stub and it needs to be updates that's all Sooo Someone else infected them? Why does it just blink then? If it didn't , a simple download and execute of your stub, right?

If you look close, the ping says '-'. This means it can't ping the slave. (I think)
-24/7 ?

I have had this happen to me after, every time i make a new stub,

SkyKid - July 22, 2014, 3:29 am

This is when the user is using an Older or newer version of DC that your DC is not competable, u just make a new stub, crypt it and just update it or execute...

Evanescence - July 22, 2014, 4:14 am

I would suggest uploading a new stub with a botkiller on it just to make sure no one else has this bot.

as he said its because of an older version just scroll to the right to see the column versin and you will see it.

No ping there . That's All.

yoramgaon - July 22, 2014, 10:09 am

Thanks for all help guys sdf fsd sdfsd sd fs

Caillou - July 22, 2014, 10:10 am

It means you infected the person with an older version of DarkComet and the stub needs to be updated to the newer version of the program.

yoramgaon - July 22, 2014, 10:15 am

Oh and Royal i am intrested in your crypter if you can add me to skype dori.cohen18 i'll buy a lifetime package

Darc - July 22, 2014, 11:15 am

Just upload a new stub to it. There is nothing to worry about.
