Thread: Forum Ideas?

SIM-2306826 - July 23, 2014, 11:27 am

I'm looking to start up a forum. What are some ideas you would like to see in a forum? What type of niche?

Hacksprout - July 23, 2014, 11:28 am

Do you already have some ideas that you want to discuss?

I would be interested to share my ideas as well and join someone for a similar project!

Make a porn forum.

Everybody loves porn.

Do hosting providers allow porn content to be hosted on their servers?

Yeah, Check out the hosting area on HF and read the ToS I'm sure some of them allow porn but not child porn.

OP, Don't buy your hosting from HF.

As for an idea, I would like a gambling forum or something

I have my own hosting/VPS. I'm still looking.

My Advice Would be starting a similar Site as Hackforums.net

josiah - July 24, 2014, 6:00 am

Just think of something you're interested in...

No point in starting a forum on a topic you don't like ?

Dame. - July 24, 2014, 12:57 pm

Look for something that you like and that others like also.

Why though?

There are already 100's of forums trying to be like HF/

Yeah there are plus you wouldn't be able to advertise or promote a hacking forum (competitor site) here as HF rules forbid it.

Maybe make a forum about making money with Adsense? Maybe have tutorials and tips maybe even plugins and similar things I have thought about doing this and even got a domain but haven't had the time to go any further with it at the moment.

Why create a forum? What will make it different and unique? Will it offer self rewarding/rewarding objectives that users can obtain and stay interested your forum? What motivates you to stay here at hackforums? Are you willing to sacrifice time and money for your community? Ask yourself these questions.

Xentric QT - July 24, 2014, 5:09 pm

see here's the issue with starting a forum, theirs thousands of forums for any idea you can probably toss out their less you find a way to make it unique and to draw users from their current forums etc. i don't see the point
