Thread: -RAT/botnet sources for contribution

Hey a friend of mine who's a good C++ coder offered me to code me a RAT or a botnet for free, can anyone post any free resources of any botnets/rats you know they've free source?

Anything is good (Anything legit / real codes) and it'll be highly appreciated ?

ATM, I've shown him some sources I've got from the internet (nothing 100% trusted) he said it looks pretty easy (showed him cracked botnets I've found from good sources and he discarded fake ones and good ones, from 5, he only found 2 good sources)

Anything at all that can contribute to create a RAT/BOTNET [info] is appreciated, I'm still looking for sources, tutorials, etc. for him, creating a good compilation of information so he can actually put his time on this stuff.

edit: he's good at any coding lang, name it, he knows it. but his main strong lang is C++

? I'll contribute his work to HF of course

He's actually working for a huge company and he wants an extra when he gets back to school

(Leaving job cuz he's still a student)

Cool story bro.

So he's a good in any language, very strong with C++, works in a huge company - but isn't capable of coding this without free sources?

I wanted to ask the same thing, 2.0.8.9, let him start from there

Indeed, if he is good at C++ why he ask source codes? He should code without looking up the internet if he is a real coder..

You 2 arguing he can't code without watching something, never said that before, you're adding that shit from your own brain on this thread, plus I made the thread to contribute anything that could help him out, if everyone's keep trashing I'm just closing this and keep on my own like I did 4 days ago, opened the thread to actually contribute this to the forum, so stay away of this thread if you're coming with that kind of stuff

He said the most complete source he looked at actually that one dude, the other ones had some shit random codes inside, he'll be starting next month when he quits his job
