This is doomed to be a failed project. Never use Hosthorde as the unlimited plan is stupid.
Buy yourself an dedicated server and your project might have a chance.

What is your In Game Name? DB1000

Age? 17/20 aug im turning 18

How long have you been playing MC? Since alpha beta i baught account 2011 i thaught

What will you focus on when in the server? Almost everything help the players when needed details ingame ask my self do i want to play this

We are not fully operational and still have a lot of work to do, are you willing to help with what we need? IF so what are your skills? Everything about plugins also learning java to recode and update not a problem and can do more then the basics

Skype? if so, mic or not? Dennis.bartol + MIC

My realname Dennis

Also a question to you?

What will we get in return money a rank or what?

Unless you have previous server backend experience, I wouldn't take your advice at all. If their sole intent is to get a minecraft server up and running, then so be it.

What is your In Game Name?: JT_Domepiece

Age?: 19

How long have you been playing MC?: 5 years

What will you focus on when in the server?: Administration, basic knowledge of plugin development, good knowledge of plugin configuration.

We are not fully operational and still have a lot of work to do, are you willing to help with what we need? IF so what are your skills?: Yes, I have good organization and administration skills. I can help with some plugin development, but I'm new to it. I also can provide help with plugin configuration.

Skype? if so, mic or not?: I have skype, but I run a Teamspeak and prefer that. I do have a mic.

What is your In Game Name? deathclaq

Age? 14(very mature)

How long have you been playing MC? 3 years

What will you focus on when in the server? I can help people with anything they need. I can program plugins.

We are not fully operational and still have a lot of work to do, are you willing to help with what we need? IF so what are your skills? I am starting to be able to program plugins. I am good at redstone and building. I am really good with permissions and plugins. I was a server owner till it got hacked :(. I would help anywhere you need it. My server was up for 8 months. I can work on website. Also I am very good with talking to players. I am very disrespectful people who abuse their powers. If you would like I could script a short Complaint plugin if you want. :)

Skype? if so, mic or not? deathclap + mic

I'm not applying, I just wanted to say a few things.

The last time I used HostHorde, the lag was completely unbearable. But that was a year or two now.

Also, if you're looking to "Make money" off a Minecraft server, it'll never happen. Why? Because the passion has to be stronger than the desire for money. Try your hardest to make it a community in which you yourself would like to be in, then, and only then, will the money come.

Good luck with your project, and how will this server be unique than the other 100000 servers out there?
