They've hacked another default cydia source lmao, this is going to fuck everything up.

Zod holds all the the popular themes I'm pretty sure? This is gonna cause chaos..

Zod is not that good anyways. They don't host many of the popular stuff anymore. I still don't know why they are a default. I think Modmyi is really hammering down on protecting itself from future attacks. They need to work with Bigboss and Zod now to see how they got attacked and how Modmyi can be protected. We all know they are gonna be targeted which sucks because Modmyi is actually a really good repo.

Those hackers must be real good to be able to hack into so many repo.

Others better be on high alert~
