Sorry for your loss OP. User is giving rep neg to people who are supporting threads like this, or putting neut / negative reps on his profile to "advising" about his opened disputes against him.

R?DSPY - July 30, 2014, 9:11 am

Lmao, if they neg rep the Don Killuminati, they get a DWC rep.

Wallet - July 30, 2014, 9:12 am

Would never trust some anonymous guy with a doge avatar on Skype (gahaha)

Borzoi - July 30, 2014, 9:13 am

You should open a scam report. I think he says "this is not a public method" not sure.

fuegox - July 30, 2014, 9:26 am

His features advertising on his main thread are:

Non-Satured

Working

Never patchable.

¿Faking advertisment and publicity?

The method is public. Any person with any info on how Apple deals with iTunes and transactions knows exactly how to do this.

Scam report will get his attention. You should do it man.

ItsATumor - July 30, 2014, 9:53 am

I have been using iDevices for 5 years or so, and I have dealt with lots of problems with iTunes and how it handles money. A simple google search will show hundreds of tuts on how to do this. It's sad, I saw this on day one and I thought others would be able to figure it out too.

Here's a little hint, remember the big lawsuit against apple about in-app purchases? This might point you in the right direction about what they did after that.

Is not against rules of HF sell "Anything related to methods, ebook, tools, and other stuff if method are publics and can be get from Internet for free?

ItsATumor - July 30, 2014, 9:58 am

It is a public method, google "free in app purchases" and hundreds of things will pop up. It's as simple as charging back on paypal. You'd think HF members would have known that already, but it appears not.

Technically it's fraud and blackhat right? Which shouldn't be allowed here anyways.

ItsATumor - July 30, 2014, 10:01 am

No, it's not fraud nor blackhat, It's just fucking over app creators and skimping them out of money, which I guess is fraud. It's like charge backing on paypal, when you do it you're not committing fraud. Apple has a system built in to get your money back due to kids going ham on games and racking up the bill on their parents credit cards'

Which is fraud and theft. Which should not be allowed. I know what it is.

Jack³ - July 30, 2014, 10:37 am

If I've read this thread right, I've basically guessed the method and I'd consider this social engineering which isn't allowed to be sold on HF aswell.

fuegox - July 30, 2014, 4:29 pm

And Thats is ?? .. And sorry a lot of people do "charge backs on paypal to do scam" Mostly of them used VPN / Proxy (So its blackhat). In that thing, "Chargeback" is not considered blackhat (Since in RL life, when you buy something you have 7-20 or 30 days to back the item, and get refunded.. Always shipping back the item in perfect status.

But what's happen if you do it on internet????

You play on some apps, make money inside, spend them to "obtain advantage" and sell to others on internet, then do that, you go out with money from other users and App creators won't see a single penny? LMAO.

Thats fraud and blackhat activity.

I guess someone with the "e-Book, should give to Staff or omni, to know if its involving Social Engineering or any fraud / blackhat method-activity.

REEEEERRRE - July 30, 2014, 6:28 pm

Just been reading through this. Seems like the method is just a bunch of semi-known, easy to figure out, method? Regardless, OP, hope all goes well. I'll be watching this thread to find out what happens in.... The Twilight Zone.

ItsATumor - July 31, 2014, 8:32 am

Any update here? I'd like to see this resolved.

Munch - July 31, 2014, 8:36 am

I could of sworn this guy messaged me saying that his method is public...but I deleted it I didn't think he would open a sales thread -_-

I asked him specifically if that's the method and he said no. I'm still waiting on delivery.

Still no update by the way. He said he was prepping for an entrance exam yesterday.

Where does he live, Africa? Up in the northern hemisphere it's summer, so yeah I don't think he'd have exams.

adsper23 - July 31, 2014, 8:46 pm

Sounds like the method is reporting a unauthorized transaction.

I'm not saying because i'm not going to be called a leaker, even though it's a public method.

Magician. - July 31, 2014, 10:06 pm

Just file a charegback and write selling fake and illegitimate products.

L0ft - August 3, 2014, 8:03 am

To anyone else who purchased this. I would suggest filing a dispute now, it will automatically be escalated to a claim.

L0ft - August 12, 2014, 5:05 am

So PayPal denied the claim (surprise surprise), time to follow up with a charge back with the creditcard issuer.
