All you have to do is download an app called 'Featurepoints'. If you cannot find the app in the appstore, go in safari and type in featurepoints. once you have downloaded the app, it will ask you for a reference code, in the reference code please put SGE438, this will get you 50 bonus points when you start off and will give me 50 bonus points aswell! This app is very easy to use, all you do is download the apps it tells you, and it will simply give a certain number of points. This app makes it very easy to obtain the rewards as you get 100 points for most the apps you download. It is only 3000 points for $5 paypal which takes like 1 or 2 hours barely.. you can easily afk this by doing whatever you want to while you are downloading the app.

For any other questions feel free to message me ?

I know this is helping you out and you probably get like 500 points for every person that uses your code, so I will use your code and help you out

All these point apps never worked for me. I always considered them scams.

Sounds interesting, I feel as if this can be farmed. I have found plenty of reviews on the app saying it is legit. Also, I mean the apps you download can be easily un installed even if it wasnt legit. Going to give this a try and get back to you guys.
