Thread: SIMPLE CODING SERVICE | HELPING OMC GROW

SIM-2015410 - August 1, 2014, 8:36 pm

Hey everyone,

I am providing my services as a coder for simple projects you want done, really cheaply. I will negotiate prices per project, but they will be less than $5 OMC for most jobs.

I will not code large projects like RATs, crypters, booters, etc, except in special circumstances. This service is for smaller projects such as tools, etc.

I will also not be coding to specific regulations (i.e. for homework assignments). I will code how I deem best/easiest.

I only accept OMC for this service because the primary purpose of this service is to expand the services available in the omnicoin community.

Previous projects requested by members:

* I have coded a simple password list tool which is extremely helpful when using SentryMBA and other cracking tools.

I can also give you coding tutorials, help and advice if you like. Please check out my activity in the coding section (especially Java) as proof of my credibility.
