Thread: A Simple & Sublime 3P1C Feature Suggestion \(Increased Maximum PM Recipients\)

Oak - August 3, 2014, 4:42 pm

If 3P1C (+ Ub3r?) members could send PMs to more than five (10+?) people, it would make many of our lives a whole lot easier by allowing for quicker and larger PMs.

As far as I know, it's as simple as changing the group perms via MyBB. Could be more than that, but I'm not sure how difficult it could get.

A simple feature for early 3P1C adopters (who are eagerly awaiting your projects) to tide themselves over? <3

Eclectic - August 3, 2014, 4:46 pm

That is a pretty nice nifty idea there. Good thinking, I'm sure it wouldn't be very hard at all.

Cryptic™ - August 3, 2014, 5:27 pm

I would like to see this, would help me a lot. I run into the 5 recipients per PM issue daily.

webdev77 - August 3, 2014, 6:29 pm

Would be nice and I doubt this would really be abused (although I could be wrong?). Anyone who wants to abuse will sit there and send five at a time now anyways. Would be useful for quite a few people here.

ZuGgY - August 3, 2014, 6:31 pm

Doesn't sound like a bad idea to me.

I'd like to see staff + admin + other members' input on this

B0$$ - August 3, 2014, 6:31 pm

Increase time delay from 30 to 60 seconds! Problem solved for any abuses~ !

Mr. Fedora - August 3, 2014, 6:32 pm

I didn't even know you could send to more than 1 person...

I'm in the same boat as you...

Has this always been a feature?

Guantoress - August 3, 2014, 6:35 pm

This would be nice, though preferably only for UB3Rs because UB3R is the only one where you actually have to truly be accepted into, vs the other two (L33T & 3PIC) which anyone can get and abuse.

Cryptic™ - August 3, 2014, 6:43 pm

(Aug 3, 2014 06:33 PM)Jay???? Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) Has this always been a feature?

Yes, AFAIK 5 is the default in myBB.

mybb.com Wrote: You can send private messages to more than one recipient (up to a administrator-set limit based on your user group, which is shown to you on the compose PM page). Autocomplete is enabled in this field. Separate more than one username by a comma.
Definitely a setting that can be changed by Omniscient.

xploD - August 3, 2014, 8:15 pm

Sounds like a good idea actually, would also make 3p1c more appealing.

Pillows - August 3, 2014, 8:16 pm

I can see this being used a lot in contests and giveaways. So I support this idea.

This, and group leaders. I feel like it would be really useful in those situations. Oh, and birthday PMs.

Nivarka - August 4, 2014, 4:42 am

I can see this being a feature I would use frequently.

+1 Support

Lis?hén - August 4, 2014, 4:43 am

You can actually send message to 5 person OP ;p

Darkwin - August 4, 2014, 4:45 am

Honestly if anything that should be a Ub3r feature reason being 3pic is cheaper and anyone can get it. Also since its so cheap it can easily be abused by new members who signup, buy 3pic and spam.

A-Are you serious? Then what is the point? Makes it less work but the longer wait time is just dumb. I would rather send two PMs and shorter wait time due to any replies I would get.

That is true. Maybe add an requirement like 1k minimum posts? So they would have to buy L33T, get 3P1C, and get 1k posts that arent so LQ that they will get banned for post whoring and LQ posts.

Yes we are well aware of that. Thank you for stating the obvious. The OP requests that the limit be increased to hopefully 10.

Canon - August 4, 2014, 4:57 am

If it's implemented for ub3r+3p1c members (members who have both groups), then support. I feel that to avoid abuse of this feature (since 3p1c doesn't need you to be approved), Omni should implement it for people who hold both groups, not just one or the other.

MaZe. - August 4, 2014, 5:00 am

This would be nice, maybe Omni will see this and think about it.

Talu - August 4, 2014, 8:16 am

Good suggestion, this is a pretty nice idea.

Mr Royal - August 6, 2014, 6:57 am

Not interesting for me but I could see this come handy for OP or group leaders or whoever spams the shit out of people. (hehe)

Bringing this back up for you ;)

Hopsin - August 6, 2014, 7:14 am

If it gets accepted, it would be great!

Rosetti - August 6, 2014, 7:55 am

If that became a new feature that would be pretty sweg.

Hey man here is a free vpn just for you(and ever other ub3r just check my rep i am a rep whore)... yeah definety not running tcpdump, 100% trust worthy???.(Mr X you know this was you) or hey man can you help me with a small mbtc loan...if you reply to that saying"no who the fuck are you" they try to act as if they are your friend a long time ago ???

or even:

Hey i am doing a free giveaway of 10 cents to ub3r members, not repwhoring at all, i mean my rep is totally not bought. Come on give me your paypal address so i can dox you and then blackmail you in the future?

Crake - August 6, 2014, 7:08 pm

I've never experienced this as an issue, so I wouldn't personally support it. Nonetheless, it could benefit some.

Cyrus - August 7, 2014, 7:13 pm

This would be a great feature for 3P1C UB3R's. ?

Imperious1 - August 7, 2014, 7:14 pm

Sounds like a great idea. I currently see no reason to purchase 3P1C because I don't receive any extra abilities.

Roger Waters - August 7, 2014, 9:17 pm

I think that this should be an ub3r feature, and the amount for 3p1c-only users to be raised to five. I can see something happening with spammers happening more often since the 3p1c upgrade is automatic and doesn't have any prerequisites to be upgraded to it.

SIM-1676753 - August 8, 2014, 7:13 pm

I'm all for this. It would be a lot nicer than 5. Perhaps make it an update perk or something?

630 - August 8, 2014, 11:51 pm

That would be pretty helpful. I support this idea.

Aquilaane - August 8, 2014, 11:54 pm

Would be a nice idea.

Oak - August 13, 2014, 5:34 pm

I'm not sure where this suggestion stands, but it would still be a superb addition to those early 3P1C / Omnicoin adopters imho.

Ventures - August 13, 2014, 5:35 pm

Definitely agree with this. I hope this is implemented.

Lynchings - August 13, 2014, 7:15 pm

I think this would be a useful feature without being too insane. Plus it gives people one more reason to buy 3p1c.

Roger Waters - August 13, 2014, 7:15 pm

This sounds pretty cool, it would be useful and another incentive for those who are considering upgrading to 3p1c.

clark.dll - August 13, 2014, 8:37 pm

I see this benefiting both group owners and members.

Good idea.

adampelletgun - August 14, 2014, 11:09 am

I fully support this suggestion.

Designer - August 15, 2014, 2:19 am

One of the reasons I stopped giving to this community was because 5 PM's per time was getting annoying.

Alright.. Maybe not entirely, but I still agree.

Oak - August 20, 2014, 2:49 pm

I am sure Omniscient has been busy, thus this suggestion shall probably not be seen for some time.

Of all of my suggestions, I'd say that this one would be the most important, as it could make a huge difference for a wide variety of members.

Justin Timberlake - August 20, 2014, 2:53 pm

Damn right about that Sir, this would've helped out with so many giveaways! Probably the same for group recruitments.

Great suggestion High King.

Rote - August 20, 2014, 5:02 pm

Agreed. Would be great to contact a large number of people who have bought a product to inform them of a change.

Oak - September 7, 2014, 12:49 am

I believe this suggestion was popular with most every reader, so I'm hoping it may receive an official response relatively soon. Coming from current group leader who is going to have to send a group-wide PM shortly, a higher cap would be exceptional. As far as I know, this is simple to implement and every day sooner it might come could mean a lot to those who spend great amounts of time on the forum. With the recent implementation of the "Last Visit" column for Group Leaders (a similar level of time requirement) as my precedent, I could see this being another worthwhile addition.

Robust - September 7, 2014, 1:35 am

Agreed, this would be a nice future to encourage 3p1c purchases and good for product announcements, group leaders and mass messaging generally.

Oak - October 12, 2014, 1:41 am

With all of the efforts toward OMC, this would really make 3P1C more worthwhile in the meantime. Seeing as group-wide private messages take forever when it goes five at a time, even ten would be an extensive boon.

SIM-2015410 - October 12, 2014, 1:50 am

I quite like this idea, I can see it would be very useful in numerous situations. Thank you Sir. I would like to see Omniscient's view on this.

Oak - October 14, 2014, 12:38 pm

I'd say that out of all of my suggestions, this would be both the easiest to implement and a critical asset to the current value of 3P1C/OMC. Thank y'all for your agreement with my idea, it could make a sizeable difference.

Wool - October 14, 2014, 12:42 pm

Yep, you have my support on this one. Easy to implement and totally worth it.

Inkling - October 14, 2014, 12:54 pm

Yeah I like this idea actually. It would be a great addition to 3P1C.

Would be very useful for group announcements or giveaways.

Cyber Saint - October 14, 2014, 1:25 pm

I can't wait for an official response to see if my wish is about to come true.

I support this, 110% and I hope it gets added.

Fox™ - October 14, 2014, 1:56 pm

I'd like this.

I've had 3p1c since the first week or two, and I've wanted to see more stuff.

Raddify - October 14, 2014, 1:58 pm

I actually never sent a message to more than 1 person at a time.

Omniscient - October 14, 2014, 3:21 pm

This is something I won't do. Too much possibility for abuse from a low-cost upgrade.
