Thread: DOX FORMATTING TOOL | CHEAP | PRICE NEGOTIABLE | HELP OMC GROW!

SIM-2015410 - August 5, 2014, 11:58 pm

Hello Everyone,

Today I want to introduce a tool I recently coded for formatting doxxes!

If you are collecting a lot of information about someone, it can get out of hand without some way to structure, edit, remove and add new data.

That is where the dox tool comes in!

My Dox Tool allows you to structure doxes by categories containing elements. Each element can be either an image, a value (like a name, address, age, etc) or an extended multi-line piece of information.

Anything the program doesn't currently contain, you can request me to add it in and I will do it ASAP.

Functionality: Add, rename, delete categories

Add, rename, delete elements Choose an element to be either value, image or extended information

Display the image you have added Save the dox to a custom .dox file for later editing

Load previous doxxes from a .dox file Export the dox in a formatted text file

Runs on .NET framework 2 for maximum portability and compatibility 2 formatting options

Infinite updates, and free requests for new features. Just PM me!

I only accept OMC for this program in an attempt to grow the coins value and usability.

The dox tool can be purchased for a negotiable amount. The amount will be cheap though! It is up to you!

Plus, there is a FULL REFUND GUARANTEE. If you buy the software and it doesn't work, or you are not happy with it for some other reason, I will do my best to resolve the issue. But if I can't, then you can have the full purchase price back!

MeshCollider has all rights to this software, and if you purchase it, you may not resell it or leak it.

Thanks!

I would like to leave a vouch for Mesh! He's one of the most HQ members I know.
