Thread: Custom TabControl

Nervo - August 8, 2014, 6:35 am

This is my custom made TabControl I was using in one of my projects which didn't go well so I don't have any use of it currently.

I hope you like it since it's the first time I did something in GDI.

That looks very nice. Very clean and professional. Keep it up Buddy.

Cisteriaso - August 8, 2014, 6:59 am

Thanks a lot, looks really good, great colours.

Nervo - August 8, 2014, 7:24 am

Thanks for your feedback guys, I really appreciate it.

looks nice man, it looks simple but beautiful, keep up the good work.

Josh? - August 8, 2014, 8:04 am

Erm... What?

Maybe make it scroll instead?

Simple and beautiful is my style hehe, thanks man.

LOL I never thought of that, will take a look later.

Btw. Why would anyone have that much tabpages?

LOL I never thought of that, will take a look when I come home.

Btw. Why would anyone have that much tabpages?

Personally, I'm looking for a vertical tab control that:

A) Has a scroll bar when more tabs than 1 vertical line can hold

B) (Probably will never find one), but a button that is always there at the bottom that no tab can be behind

Basically, I'm making a web browser. If a user has tonnes of tabs, well you have an issue.

I didn't release the theme on this forum, but the Pastebin page already has over 200 hits, and the prying eyes of skids are everywhere these days. I'm not accusing him or anything. Just asking.

I made a gradient version of the iTalk theme I found on Deviant Art. You asking me too?

I have never seen your theme before, it looks like we have the same taste in graphics lol. The only thing that is similar is that blue thing.

u mean aeon tabcontrol <https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=2541240>

anyway why u use bmp (Graphics.FromImage)

Code Public Class Tb
Inherits TabControl

Sub New()
    SetStyle(ControlStyles.UserPaint Or ControlStyles.AllPaintingInWmPaint Or ControlStyles.Opaque Or ControlStyles.ResizeRedraw, True)
    'SetStyle(ControlStyles.Selectable, False)

Nice man. Also, another suggestion would be instead of those 2 buttons, just automatically make the tabs smaller (like in Google Chrome). That would be sexy as fuck.
