why you do not create a round button radial in your theme or gauge ?

<https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=3450299> = Source?

If it isn't known as the source, it probably should be... I think credit should be given to the OC, if possible... Was looking it up to see if there were others shared, practically the only alternative here on HF is a VLC volume control (which is more of a slider than a "knob")... I thought I remembered another "knob" control, but it must have been from codeproject or something... There aren't a "ton" of these but there are others floating around the web, OP. BlackCap always makes quality controls such as this however... :)
