Thread: [\[Winners Announced!\] Hack Forums High Quality Member Contest - Open to All](#)

Chvrches - August 14, 2014, 1:43 am

UPDATE: The contest is over! The winners are MeshCollider, TheDubWubCub, and adampelletgun! Thanks to everyone for participating.

Are you a high quality member of Hack Forums?
Do you regularly contribute original, well constructed ideas to the threads you post in?
If you answered yes to either, this is the contest for you!

As a user that lurks significantly more than they participate, I greatly enjoy reading HQ tutorials, opinions, and experiences on HF.

Members that take the time to communicate clearly and effectively on relevant issues often go unappreciated.

I'd like to change that, so I am holding this contest; a contest for HQ members that provide valuable contribution to this site.

So without further ado, I will layout the rules for this competition.

To enter this contest, you must nominate yourself, or be nominated by another member.

Using the following format, provide a maximum of five contribution to Hack Forums that you believe best represent your/the users HQ.

All contributions must have been within the last 6 months. Nothing from 4 years ago please.

Code Username (If it's not yours, please also post a link to their profile):

Most frequented sections:

Your contributions to HF: (Links to any specific threads if applicable)

Any additional info you would like to share (500 Character max):

This contest is open to anyone meeting the eligibility requirements posted below.

Feel free to post anything that you feel makes you a HQ member, but if you claim something very unique, please provide adequate explanation in the additional information section.

Actions that I specifically hold in high regard are:Tutorials

High Quality Services (Even more so if provided freely to the community)

Intelligent Contributions to SRPP

Eligibility:

You must not have any current or past scam reports, except ones in which you were completely cleared off any wrongdoing.

You must be an active member with an account at least 6 months old.

You must constantly strive for correct grammar in your posts. The occasional error is okay, but blatant disregard for the English language will result in disqualification.

Prizes: Three, $10 prizes will be awarded to the members I deem to have contributed the most, impressed me, or just because I like what they did.

Remember, it's my money, please don't bitch if you don't think the person I chose deserved it as much as you did.

Deadline: The deadline for this contest is August 21st, at 12:00 PM Pacific Time.

Have all entries submitted well before that time, as I will be assessing entries during the contest, and the more time I have to go over you, the more time I have to see what you have to offer.

I will update the usernames of members that I see have entered. Please don't message me that your username isn't on the list unless it's been 24-hours since I've updated it, and it looks like I obviously missed your post.

Besides that, good luck everyone!

About Me:

Well I join HF as a skid who just wanted to hack everyone. But as I matured, I learnt that my greater desire was to be as helpful as I can be. I then recently started coding about 7 months ago, and since then I've loved it, and I always try use my skills to help members. I am constantly in the coding sections (mainly vb.net and c#) trying to help members with their code.

My Contributions to HF:

I spend most of my time in the VB.NET section helping members with coding, and in some occasions I code entire projects for members for free.

Here is a compiled list of my most proudest contributions to HF.

Now here is a list of programs I've coded for members or the community entirely for free.

Spoiler \(Click to View\)

Although this program looks simple, it's not. It loads everything dynamically from a database at runtime. I could show u via TV if you wish.

Why I would like to win this money?:
I would most likely use it to help others somehow.

Thanks hope I could win something :D
