markeloff - August 17, 2014, 1:39 pm

He changed his name and scammed someone too, sadly that member is not going to open a scam report I think...

Nygma - August 17, 2014, 1:39 pm

Legit scam report, hope you get it resolved bud.

Thomas Jefferson - August 17, 2014, 2:17 pm

There should be a feature where a member who has 3, or more scam reports he/she should be given a banner to wear above his name saying "Deal with Caution" It really could help. The vast majority of users barely care to check UID, or have no knowlge how to check it. I am really sick and tired of seeing scums like this walk away scotch free.

Fredo Santana - August 17, 2014, 4:27 pm

He keeps scamming to then uses scammed money a small portion gives away to get positive rep.

Thomas Jefferson - August 18, 2014, 6:53 am

That member has many scam reports already, sorry for your loss.

Fredo Santana - August 18, 2014, 8:19 am

He keeps using some of the stolen money to give away to get more rep.

Fredo Santana - August 28, 2014, 12:43 pm

He is still scamming some people are lazy to post reports other are still posting this is ridiculous.

Ya he's still trying to scam btc with his 92gbps botnet spots lol

Can't be very supreme if he has to use all his time trying to steal from people online all day.

? TAQ ? - August 30, 2014, 4:54 pm

He's been a low down dirty person ever since I met him about 2-3 years ago. Had his friend hit me offline every 2 minutes with a booter, because I embarrassed him on the game called runescape.

Fredo Santana - August 31, 2014, 12:39 am

LMAO XD i can believe it he's just trash.

Fredo Santana - September 13, 2014, 6:42 am
