I am very impressed with his work and I would never hesitate to purchase his GFX design services if needed again and I think he will be. He is very prompt on returning messages and got to work on my project within minutes. Everyone else I contacted to do a project for me took between 2-5 days to even accept my contact request on Skype or even to reply to my pms regarding the project and when they did Vague was already 90% done with the project. He had given me a very reasonable price on all the work he did for me and anyone else would have charged me at least 20$ more for the project and god knows how long they would even take to do it. He finished it in less than 24 hours even with working on multiple projects at the time and I even told him he could take his time on it. His work is very HQ and is more skilled then 90% of these wannabe artists on this forum. Thanks again for the great service.
