Thread: HF ALS Icebucket challenge. Yes or No?

Majinferno - August 17, 2014, 7:59 pm

Got the idea of making a thread tomorrow. It will basically be the ALS Ice bucket challenge, but instead of choosing people on a social network, you will nominate someone from HF. Same rules apply and we could even add all of the video challenges to one big YouTube playlist.

How does this sound? Leave a yes or no on the poll to voice your opinion. Any ideas or extended input can go below.

Take care

Update #1: Perhaps Video submissions can be in the form of a Gif if a user is not down to upload a yT video.

Update #2: Feel free to support the cause on your own accord, but if this is to be, the only purpose is to raise awareness to the cause. In no way shape or form will someone be required to donate if they fail to answer a nomination.

Yes, no, maybe? Who knows, do you even think any of the so called "popular" users of HF are even up for this? My guess, most likely not.

I'd be down for doing this 100%. It's a shame really because the majority wouldn't, even if this could be a pretty good turnout in raising awareness. ?

I nominate PrettyKitty, and Ninetales.
I'm too classy for buckets.

Popularity is not really my main target here. I'm looking for a large community fueled event, but I won't make it unless the community is up for it.

I still have some rules to think about so if anyone has suggestions that would be great.

Aslong as I don't get nominated good luck. It's still winter here and too cold.

iDuL - August 17, 2014, 8:19 pm

If this were around in 2010 Lounge I would've been nominated second next to my boy Glamour.

Cross your fingers. If this happens someone might just read that.

I saw a couple firefighters get electrocuted by doing this.. which is ironic, because they're firefighters, but nonetheless, be safe & have fun everyone.

People waste water while people in other third world countries die from not having any?

Just start a new hype dude, boiling water challenge. I'm sure it will be trending by tomorrow.

Yea.. and when you save water those third world country guys would have more ?!

I think is a good idea because spreading awareness is the most tricky part. Not that is done
ALS-Guys can go and collect some money^^

Also, in the last 2 weeks there were more than 3 million $ donated to ALS-Organisations, which only happened, because lots of people got aware of this disease !!

Wasn't aware this thread was still going. Someone went ahead with my idea, so I guess this poll is done. If you guys have any input or funny ice challenge related stuff, be my guest.
