Autopost - August 24, 2014, 2:37 am

So it's only 50c for a 10+ report? How does that make sense?

Autocorrect - August 24, 2014, 2:48 am

(Aug 24, 2014 02:37 AM)Autopost Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) So it's only 50c for a 10+ report? How does that make sense?

It's $0.50 for every page after 10.

Reports that large are unlikely, though.

vitafortis - August 24, 2014, 7:29 am

Not to correct you, but fix your pricing. $0.50 for 10+ pages is different than $0.50 per page for 10+ pages. Just saying.

If you're so good at writing, how come there is a grammatical error in your first sentence?

No need for the last comma, it's useless.

That's continued with a dash to "prove" which makes improve... Lol ?

The average kid knows that.

EDIT- I mean the dash is commonly used to continue typing a word when you run out of space on a line.

The average kid knows that.

The last comma in the first sentence is completely useless. It adds nothing to the sentence but an odd stoping spot.
