Did any one play Diablo 2-LOD

I played this game everyday from the age of like 6-16.

I loved this game. Sucks that diablo 3 is awful.

Anth?ny - August 26, 2014, 7:52 am

Diablo 2 was my first PC game ever played. I got it when i got my first laptop. That game was the fucking bomb. Diablo 3 isn't that bad anymore. At first when it was released it was a let down. With all the new content i really don't know why people would complain.

.waste - August 26, 2014, 12:30 pm

First game I ever played, and I still play it actively. I highly recommend it. Now, I play it on Median XL: Ultimative, the biggest mod for the game. It has died out over the past few years, but its still a decently sized community and its easy to make friends. If you want to join, you don't even need to own a legal version of the game. Unless you want to play Battle.net's servers on the vanilla game.

NotUsingAnymore - August 26, 2014, 3:12 pm

I have played all the Diablo games. And to me they have all been good enough.

Diablo II was a great game yes. But now after the updates Diablo III is actually good, just sad they abandoned the idea that making Inferno difficulty nearly impossible, it's a bit easy.

Of course there are people who have played it and disliked it but majority of the people haven't played it recently or are just the typical bandwagoners who always follow others.

I've played it every now and then. I also own Reaper of Souls.

Anth?ny - August 26, 2014, 10:45 pm

Ya i mean sure blizzard blew the hype. Everyone hated it solely based on release. It deserves a second shot but won't get it. Since path of exile stole a lot of the player base. I also got Reaper of souls yesterday.

Diablo II was the first PC game I actually put time and effort in. One of my favorite games for PC.

Diablo II > Diablo III.

played only a little bit of d2 but with the new d3 update coming up this friday it should be a bit more fun :)

Vanilja - August 27, 2014, 11:06 pm

Agreed. Not for all parts tho.

Btw, how many of you knew that they started to develop D3 in 2000 already? It was never finished.

What if D3 was like that? Instead the current version.

D2 is much better than D3. The pvp is what kept me in and the trading system was the best trading system on any game.

Just asking. If I dislike a game I don't play it that much.

flexxit - August 29, 2014, 9:09 am

Blizzard suck balls with this d3. I have bought D3 and RoS, firstly I bought d3 on premiere and I sell it month later, gameplay was boring and there was nothing to do. Next I bought D3 and RoS and I was hoping that maybe blizz repair some shits like legend drop, and make some playable gameplay but no, it was like previously. D3 it's terrible game, PoE is generally similar like old d2 have dark climate and it's fun to play in HC mode.

Terrible thing in d3 is that you can't do runs on bosses like in d2 baal runs, tristram runs on low level, cow runs and killing a cow king :) that was fun. You always knew that legends will drop from bosses (maybe not always but often) and there where one rules "hand faster than eyes" :))

You actually get too many Legendaries in Diablo III now. So I can't see the big problem there.

If you can't see the changes since the release of Diablo III then you haven't played it. You haven't even read the features that RoS offered else you would have seen that there are some new things to do.

Okay :)

It may just be me who is weird. But I don't try to force myself to like a game :) Either I like a game or not, I may give it a couple of days if I am unsure, just to make sure but I will not play it for longer if I still don't like it.

RLY? Yeah i played in RoS when it have premiere and there won't be so many legendaries from drop (1 or 2 hours smash mobs for legendaries) sick man, i expect from game to gave me fun not torture and wasting my time.

Now I don't know what diablo 3 represents but I'am confident that drops legendaries from bosses would be better than search all over the map for legendaries.

Even on WoW you have instances that you know what drop will be from killing a boss :) like an old good diablo 2

Everyone is entitled an opinion, you just came to the instant conclusion that he was bad just because he disliked it. I still play D2 from time to time and have lot of fun with it, but i rather play D3 now because of my friends playing, it's a good game if you don't want anything to in-depth and just want to run around killing shit.

D2 is better you are correct d3 was a failed game for what they could of made it.

Mischievous Bot - September 10, 2014, 5:10 pm

LoL, as for me, I was playing D2 sooooo much before but got over it and I lately tried it back and I just can't do it anymore...

I wonder what's so fun in following bots over different games that does the same boss with same enemies until you level. o.o But I SERIOUSLY enjoyed the game.

And I really like Diablo 3 for forcing us to farm that hard to get our gear that actually changes the spells which I think is pretty damn cool.

Hopsin - September 10, 2014, 5:11 pm

I agree D2 is and will always be so much better than D3 I had D3 pre-ordered got the XPAC and I still play D2 and spend more money on D2 now than I will ever on D3 the PVP is horrible in D3 was a huge turn off for me

Yup I was in 5th grade when Diablo 3 was supposedly being made, 8 or so years later here comes D3 but yet they fucked it up. I remember because this is when Runescape was still considered RS2 and they had just added farming into the game,

And for all those people saying someone doesn't like D3 because they aren't good at it, you SIR are DUMB. Diablo 2 takes WAY more skill and WAY more time to level and get through all the acts. Half the people that say D3's better than D2 probably sucked ass at D2 and had to play a game like D3 where you basically get handed all your gear. Seems like nowadays people have to play games where they basically get handed all the armour and weapons to be the best at the game. Whatever happened to actually working to be good at a game? I mean damn look at WoW and Diablo now, both of them are getting so ridiculous it's not even fun to play anymore.

And whoever said they were #1 for armour and hp, I can tell you now your bsing cause pretty sure my boy is still holding that spot from now and when the exp came out.

Diablo 2 was also easy mate :)

Some people may have found Diablo 3 "hard" right after launch because you almost never saw good items there.

Now people can say it's "hard" if they set the "difficulty" much higher than what their characters can handle.

Also I really doubt Diablo III was made to be a hard game to do. Nor was Diablo II.

Also assuming people are bad at a game because they prefer another over it is pathetic. It's all preferences and opinions nothing else.

Some people may have liked Diablo II more than III or the other way around. But say they are bad at the game because of that is stupid.

People may have thought Diablo II was harder because they were younger. And people always have a glorified view imprinted in their mind of their "favorite" games when they were younger. Nostalgia.

Not directed towards you SmaTTeR:

One last thing about the Diablo III they threw away. They didn't give enough information so you can get a real idea of the game. Only some few statements and few screenshots. Nothing else.

A lot of people found the current Diablo III to look sick as hell from screenshots and videos before release. Look at them now.

A game or an idea can only be judged by playing it nothing else.

SmaTTeR - January 8, 2015, 12:01 pm

Yeah dude I was mad young when D2 first came out, but it was still THE SHIT even not knowing what your doing lol. It's not so much that D2 is "Harder" then D3, it's the fact that the gear actually took time to find in D2. And I liked how you had that certain way and places to go to level up the fastest, like doing diablo runs after 25 and you shot up in levels like crazy. Either way my opinion on it is they should have made more of a approach like Path of Exile did, and honestly I think PoE blows D3 out the water. I feel like every new RPG tries to copy WoW.

You can thank the community that gear is handed out like candy now. Blizzard only got complaints about how hard it was to find decent gear.

There are also specific "runs" in D3 were you actually can get leveled up faster.

PoE is just a Diablo 2 rip off. If you tried the early stages you would have seen how they basically tried to copy the Diablo 2 style. So to me don't ever compare PoE to Diablo. A pathetic rip off. And yes I did try it.

Also no matter what Blizzard would get complaints. Now it is not too similar to Diablo 2. But if they had made it too much like Diablo 2 people would complain about the lack of new ideas and shit.

SmaTTeR - January 8, 2015, 1:29 pm

Yeah it was a rip off, that was the whole point of PoE... Did you not know that? You are def retarded if you think the guys of PoE would say they didn't rip it off of D2, and PoE is 10x harder then D3 will ever be. They wanted to make basically D2 all over just with better graphics because everyone complained about D2 graphics being outdated. And I know this I've already wasted time on D3, sold the account and went back to D2. And all blizzard is doing is dumbing down every RPG game they make so little kids can play it just so they can make more money. No longer about the best choice for the game, all about the money. That's why a lot of games went to shit. Except warcraft, warcraft always been a bad ass game.

EDIT: That's MY opinion, not gonna sit here and argue. I've played the shit out of all 3 games, end of the day d2 will always be the legend game ;).

Where exactly did PoE developers say that PoE was meant to be a Diablo 2 rip off? You do know that when they used some of the same menus and assets they could basically have had been sued especially with such a statement. They didn't really upgrade the graphics much, the animations were shit, the art was still too similar. Not much improvements. None actually. Of course it's easy to see it's a rip off/clone, but when did they actually say it?

PoE isn't hard, just quit the bullshit. It is as easy as all other games in the genre.

Anyway I love that you admit you love games that have little to no originality.

Your logic about Blizzard is quite flawed. If they were a money hungry company, then wouldn't they already have made a lot more games? By your logic they should have had at least 6 more games out now. They did something which you fail to understand which is they targeted a wider audience. Beside the changes they have done was for the community. Have you even played it withing the last year? Or after RoS? I guess not, the only real negative thing is that right now you get gear way too fast. But that was because of all the complaining shit heads. Also you fail to realize another thing, Blizzard added the different difficulty levels for a reason, think it's too easy? Just make it harder.

SmaTTeR - January 8, 2015, 3:22 pm

Dude your talking to the guy that still plays Counter-Strike 1.6 lolol. I LOVE the old school games still to this day, I don't think anything could beat them tbh. I wish I could get some people to play D2 with me, either the Apoc priv server or just closed bnet.

And only thing that really bothered me about PoE was the terrible lighting even with brightness all way up... But I am blind as without contacts lol.

You still play d2 by chance?

I also love old games. Currently I am planning to make a youtube channel mostly for old games. Or generally games but I play a lot more old games.

It's not often I play Diablo II, I admit that. It's probably way too long time ago. I mainly played it with one of my friends but he chose to only play LoL and CS:GO, then I just found it a bit boring to play Diablo II. I did load up Diablo I not long time ago. Graphics are shit, but the actual game wasn't too bad. Since you mentioned CS1.6, I also play that from time to time. But generally the CS franchise has become a bit boring to me. I played them way too much.

By the way with old, I don't mean I play all type of old games. There are still some I find pretty boring.

Jelaous - February 4, 2015, 5:28 pm

Back in the day when I was just getting into computer games I was introduced to Diablo II, which had just released and was the brand new game hype. Entering the PC Club it was 90% Diablo 2, and the other 10% people checking their email. I spent countless hours in D2, and I am currently playing it although singleplayer for the fun of running a hardcore playgroup trough Hell. As a huge fan of the franchise I got D3 by preorder, played it for a few days beating the game on Inferno(was it the last diff in D3?) and the game was just no more fun(tho in D2 you could do so much less, hey, 15 years later I'm still playing it.) so I dropped it and tried to get back into it a couple of times when they added new features that would revieve the game. Still the only Blizzard game I regret purchasing, and I own them all except Reaper of Souls, reasons obvious.
