Thread: Work Swapping Sub-Section | Education Nation

Autocorrect - August 25, 2014, 11:10 pm

I was just contemplating the idea of having a sub section within Education Nation in which users can swap assignments, essays, coding projects, etc.

It would make a lot of people's working lives easier as someone may have strengths in a subject which you don't.

Thoughts? This is my first suggestion on here by the way. ?

I like your suggestion, but you could just make a thread for swapping work there. I don't think that section gets enough activity for a sub section.

Perhaps a stickied thread by a trusted user or a staff member? ?

This could actually go beyond education nation, and apply to the marketplace as a whole. Graphics services, coding services, hacking services, members could swap skills and benefit each other.

That's what I thought - do you think this could work?
