I train complete noobs into veterans in just a few days, weeks, months, years. It depends how much you pay attention.

I taught this guy whatever I knew 3 years ago. What he did, you ask?

I taught another dude C++. Now I'm selling his CSGO cheats.

I've been in: Team INTRA, Team Digi7al, Pernicious Developers, PonySec, etc etc.

I've been interviewed here, and I've been mentioned here. Take it as a certificate from me, as a proof that I'm not going to waste your time. Don't take it as me bragging. That's the last fucking thing I'm doing here.

My skype: REMOVED

My XMPP: REMOVED

Why am I doing this: I hate paying for hacking tutoring with a passion. So I'm doing it myself. Nobody around here is good enough to teach anyway, so why the fuck would you spend cash on this

What I teach:

Website development and security - Code injections and prevention, mapping out vulnerabilities, doing recon and information gathering, privilege escalating and chaining attacks, finding 0days(SOON)

Networking - Fundamentals. Protocols, OSI model, TCP/IP model, working with servers/clients, handling distributed packets and multiplexing (SOON), security (DDoS and such).

Programming - Low level, High level, Scripting, Logical thinking, pseudo code. Also list of languages I know below.

Computing - CPU Arch, Processes, UNIX & Windows in-depth, Malware analysis, Reverse Engineering, Hardware and troubleshooting.

Cryptography - Checksums, hashing theory, popular algorithms, RSA, CBC, substitution encryptions, iterations etc

What I DON'T teach:

Phishing (Making fake pages).Because it's stupid. There's nothing to teach about a PHP script. It's also unethical.

Skipping surveys (Skipping functionality of websites)Usually you can't actually do that. It's also stupid.

Social Engineering (SE'ing products, teaching human psychology)This ability can compromise a lot in short time. I don't trust you.

RATing or Keylogging or BotnetsSkid shit. I don't teach how to click buttons, I teach you to open your mind.

Crypting (Making stuff undetected / UD / FUD)People wanting this usually have no idea what it takes. Troublesome topic as well.

eWhoring (Pretending you're a little slut for money)Because I'm not a stupid whore.

DDoSing / DoSing (Taking down stuff)Abused easily.

Doxing (Gathering information out of stuff)Abused easily.

Port Forwarding (Opening ports for RATs)I'm not technical support

Jacking accounts (Using stupid methods to attain accounts on social medias and such)I still have a tiny bit of self respect

Asking help within these topics will get you straight out removed.
Also, I'm not going to hack you anything. I'm a strict WH.

Languages I know:

HTML, CSS, PHP, SQL, C, C++ - Very decent.

8086 x16 ASM - Average at best.

Python - Started learning. Minimal at best.

I'm familiar with OOP development, obfuscated development, P2P/P2S development and networking related, working with APIs, working with protocols, low-end development (Kernel, syscalls, shell), front-tier development(WinAPI/Win32 GUI)

I am NOT a certified programmer nor a fully fledged one. I am NOT going to do your programming homework.

How do I teach?

You tell me what you want to know, I tell you where to learn it. If I know it, I explain it. I could go explaining everything but you'll end up spoon-fed. Not good.

Why do you need to ask somebody to teach you python or C# ?! There are literally thousands of tutorials and resources on the internet and a few thousand more at your local library... you will not learn a programming language without practice and a bit of self-initiative.

I mean what do you actually expect that to learn in a few skype sessions? I understand if you have a problem and you wish to ask a specific question. But stuff like "can you teach me language XY" is just a total waste of time...

But stuff like "can you teach me language XY" is just a total waste of time...I agree. I just throw in a tutorial and let them continue. If it's a language I know, I can throw some extra explanation if they're facing issues.

just found out about HF, currently all I really know how to do is;

SQL (havij and mole)

I've taken some ruby classes over the summer, might re-take them since I forgot most of it, would you recommend any other language than this? Once I get some decent knowledge on the language, i'll consider asking some questions so I don't have to 20 question you.

Thanks in advance if you can shoot an answer.

Hi Sonder. 1st post so can't PM.

I have a challenge and its a big one..... me! I'm complete noob, might as well be a new born.

I don't even know how to use skype. I'm not totally dumb and I'm a quick learner.

Think it's an understatement to think that you're not busy, so give me a shout if you can help me learn the basic's of coding, hacking, development, hydra and brutforce

The broad term of hacking means to revolutionize known concepts, and innovate. I teach that.

Stupid people everywhere buy lessons from "experts" that can't do shit nor explain shit besides making you click buttons. RAT mentors teaching you to drag folders and upload files. Why is this still a thing? Because the absolute majority of this forum is lazy beyond comprehension. Fast reward with no work process nor learning curve is the only thing driving your head, hence you're bound to fail once you actually start using these little gears in your head and realizing you actually know nothing.

Unskid yourself, unfuck yourself, actually know stuff. Join this.

I'm in exam block for finals right now and was wondering if I could have some mentorship afterwards. It's been running for almost a year, I'm pretty sure it'll still be here in about 2 weeks c:

Hey man I added you on skype and ready to learn!

salesh - June 11, 2015, 4:02 am

Hi friend, check pm , i sent you message :)

Th3PonyWizard - June 11, 2015, 4:05 am

I have answered several PM's.

I can drop a huge vouch for pony here. Known him for a little while now, and he's such a great person and learner. You won't be disappointed by his 'services'. If you need to learn something, and you're able to put work into it yourself, pony is your go-to guy. He'll either teach you himself, or show you where to learn. Any questions you'll have, he's there to answer and explain.

Spoiler (Click to View) Don't waste his time if you're expecting to get everything handed to you on a silver platter.

Thanks for being around, pony. You're extremely appreciated.

litek555 - June 11, 2015, 5:53 am

Just added you at Skype m8!

farux - June 12, 2015, 8:59 pm

Added you on skype wizard. I won't have advanced questions (yet) but mostly want someone to chat with and make sure I'm heading in the right direction for where I want to be in the future.

whiteteck - June 12, 2015, 11:09 pm

thank you bro for your post will get back to you soon

Th3PonyWizard - June 13, 2015, 6:21 am

Temporarily closed until I finish off some matters.

Anybody who added me beforehand OR discussed the lessons with me, can add me and continue as normal.

I am pressed in time.

I'm back for a bit - can talk

Zixem - June 14, 2015, 12:34 pm

vouch for this guy, he's a great mentor & a good friend.

I highly recommend to anyone who is looking for hacking lessons to take this opportunity.

Maxiim - June 14, 2015, 2:09 pm

Don't forget to update when you are available, I could need some mentoring

Rushax - June 14, 2015, 5:52 pm

Going to send you a PM but in a rush atm.

Feel as though I'd like your opinion on how I can go on/in the right direction.

Thanks.

tigerdad - June 14, 2015, 7:58 pm

I just know java, core java knowledge, was preparing for certification as well. but now thinking a bit different. please help. thanks.

In my time of living I learnt so many things, subjects, languages, concepts, methods, ways, and information it would take you your whole life-span to only reach a half. I'm 17 and I'm already more knowledgeable than you'll ever be.

Th3PonyWizard - June 27, 2015, 7:09 am

I got a little bit more time now.

MyNan - June 27, 2015, 7:13 am

VOUCH for pony! Has taught me a lot about web exploitation in the past and always helps me if I'm ever struggling with someone. He's also a nice guy to chat to and always tried his best to make room for people. Also,

[26/06/2015 12:33:40] Sonder: I skip eating and showering to make them presenatations

[26/06/2015 12:33:41] Sonder: =_ =

This guy is highly recommended by me.

Th3PonyWizard - June 28, 2015, 12:19 am if I am banned for whatever reason - I will still teach at Skype. This thread goes nowhere until I stop it. Doesn't matter who tries to stop me - nobody will do it. I'm the first one and the last one in HF that gives an actual shit and that's not going to change. Still doing this.

Hoodie+ - June 28, 2015, 2:38 am

Looking forward to have a "teacher" ?

Th3PonyWizard - July 2, 2015, 11:30 am

Closed until further notice. I AM NOT HELPING ANYMORE

Th3PonyWizard - July 8, 2015, 12:32 pm

I think I can finally say I'm closing this for good. That's it. I'm off now. I'm gone and done. I want to progress on my life, I don't want to remain stuck where I am, sitting 8 hours per day answering questions and helping people. I absolutely loved doing this. I loved every minute of it. I raised projects, made groups for studying, I saw as somebody got a job just because of what I taught him. I saw somebody else earn thousands, employing what I taught him. A different guy used this service, he's now programming for cash and bought my signature. Go. Get up. Archive something. I may have finished doing this, but others still help. This forum is dedicated to helping those who really need help (And it's not fair for me to steal everybody to my Skype account) - Even if you're surrounded with horrible threads asking how to hack facebook, deep down inside you strive, you hunger, you NEED to know more than that. You must know more about how things work, how they function, how they tick, how A connects to B and make C, how C minus B returns to A, and when it doesn't (One-Way Functions!). If you truly want to know, you WILL sit down and learn as you wish, procrastination is merely an excuse for you to put away your true desires as you're simply, unknowingly, scared of just how amazing you can be once you truly put your mind towards achieving it.

I accepted thousands of requests.
Hundreds replies me back.
Dozens did not give up and kept moving forward singulars are now making it happen.
Time for me to gtfo and do my own thing instead of staying behind and making sure everybody else moves. It's been a blast.

Thread will remain open unless nobody replies.

rootsh3ll - July 8, 2015, 12:39 pm

Wow! you are a great soul man!
seeing and doing things differently!
hats off to you dear friend!
Keep up the good work :)

Thanks for the Good Work! :)

Ok I can help teach you. 2 pesos per hour but 15 pesos for the deposit. All sales are final, no chargebacks, no bitching. I will teach you how to use Havij on subdomains, ddos with CMD, and then I'll show you how to netcut your parents phones. Teaching you how to knock servers off with LOIC will cost an extra 10 pesos, but it is definitely worth it.
