Thread: Reasons Indians never pay

davemarrola - August 30, 2014, 3:57 pm

It's commonly known that Indians never pay. Here are some big reasons:

1) Most people forget that India is a third world country. Just because Indian citizens own computers and cell phones with internet doesn't mean they're rich. $1 US is the same as 60.50 Indian rupee. If you sell a photo pack for $10, it's only $10 to you, but this is 605 Indian rupee. The average YEARLY income in India is about $5,000 US. Indians can't afford the luxury that so many of us Westerners take for granted. Your photo pack could easily be a day's worth of wages for an Indian, who would rather spend that money on commodities he needs for survival rather than your photo pack that will provide 5 minutes of pleasure.

2) Because India isn't a wealthy nation, the people know what it's like to be poor and be required live frugally. Indians are well aware that porn is free on the internet, and they aren't going to pay for something when they know free alternatives exist.

3) Culturally, Indian's mistreat women. India has very high crime rates against women, including violent crimes and sex crimes. The courts are often broken and corrupt, and very frequently criminals get let go. Basically, in the West, men view women generally as equals. Indians culturally view women as second class citizens, and you're nothing more to them than a quick nut.

Hope this helps you guys understand why Indians never pay, and further reiterates why it's important to block all Indians immediately. Good luck out there whores ?

They don't pay because they can't even afford a front door.

Dont be too racist however. This has nothing to do with race or ethnicity. The same points apply to many other third world countries. India just is a big country with lots of people and many of them have internet access. Thats why you will meet lots of Indians if u do ewhoring.

I have received many payments from Indians. They lived in UK, Canada and USA however.

If u want to learn something how women are treated in India read the following Reddit thread. It is long but contains many interesting posts written by indians and non indians alike. Recently we have seen in the news people protesting against womens maltreatment. Things are changing there too but it takes time.

Oh yeah? After stealing/ruling from us for 200 years, don't you think this is gonna be the condition?

Good post OP, I knew India's economy and general infrastructure was in a poor state but I had no idea yearly salaries were that low, intriguing.

Too many clueless kids will spout casual racism on here without knowing anything at all, don't even acknowledge their ignorance.
