Thread: You WILL become wealthy and successful. I will guide you to your dreams. Read thread.

Visi0n - August 31, 2014, 5:28 pm

I don't think the group section is appropriate for this as it isn't a HF group as of yet and may soon or never be and also will not attract the right audience over there. I don't feel like this is suitable for the Skype, Omegle or whatever section because this isn't a social group.

I will call this group SOTR (Survival of The Richest); this is because of how the group works and I will explain this in the next section. I am looking for a group of people who desire to be successful and have a lust for money. If you lack self motivation or are lazy, this group is not for you. This group is for people who want a wealthy and successful life - people who's dreams are big and are willing to do anything to accomplish this - I'm not talking hundreds of thousands or even tens of thousands... I am talking millions.

The group is called SOTR for a good reason. Every week, there will be a set goal. The goal is a certain amount of money that the members will have to earn each week. For example, one week the goal will be $50, the next week $75, the week after $100 and then goes up and up and up until there are no members left and then recruitment will start again. If there are no members left then this is a pity; this won't happen though and most likely, the group will refresh every year. To stay in the group, you must achieve the goal regularly and if you don't achieve the goal for 3 consecutive weeks, you will be kicked (vacations, etc are accounted for and you will not be kicked as long as you notify me before).

The sole nature of SOTR will keep you earning because you desire to stay in the group. Each week, I will give you guys ideas on how you can make that money, but of course, you can set up businesses or do whatever you want to stay in the group. There is of course a price to pay to be in the group and that is 10% of your earnings if you reach the goal every week, if you don't reach your goal and can't pay, it's disappointing but you won't be kicked unless it happens for 3 consecutive weeks. I will be motivating you guys and I will be free to chat to you guys 1 on 1.

The group will be a Skype group so that you can all discuss together; I'm looking for about 30 - 50 members.

You will be allowed to use blackhat methods but I strongly discourage it.

If you wish to apply, here is the application:

Code Real name:

Real name: Can't disclose
Skype name: Canonsx130
Date of Birth: 04-03-1987
Location (country/state): India
Are you currently earning money online (y / n): Yes
If yes, how long have you been earning for?: A year probably
If yes again, how much have you earned in the past week?: None
Do you have a dream of becoming successful and wealthy, if so, tell me about it: Yes. I have always wanted to make some extra cash which is always helpful for online goods and anything else that catches my interest. I'm also hoping it would be a good source for saving some good cash. I have the time and determination to make cash and help out others in the process.
