Thread: [\[Photoshop\]\[Best Method On HF\] How to Make Your Own Signature With A Shine Effects](#)

Mix - August 31, 2014, 5:31 pm

This Tut Is Made By Me Is My First but There Will be many To Come I Dont Know If Someone Has Already made One But If they have i Want To Beat it, So lets Get Started!

Step 1:

Start A New Project And Make It Around 600 By 200 (Remember The Max Size Is 650 By 200 Be Careful!)

Spoiler \(Click to View\)

Step 2:

Use The Text Tool And Type Something Like Your Name Or A word You Want To Add This Effect too.(I recommend Using The Inside Shadow effect As It Makes The Shine Look Smoother And Alot Nicer)

Mine.

Spoiler \(Click to View\)

Step 3:

You Need To Create A Line With A 45 degree angle clockwise and add some white glow effects to it or I have A Download to A .Png Of Mine You Can Pick

Download The Shine .png - <https://www.mediafire.com/?gm4imafvmg9yeh5> Spoiler \(Click to View\)

Place The Image On Your Project And To The next step!

Mine - Spoiler \(Click to View\)

Step 4:

Now we add the shine to the text So Hold Alt With the layer (The Shine png Or your one) To the Text By Hovering Over The Layer But Not On Top But Just By The Line You Should See A Box With A Arrow Pointing Down.

Also Make Sure The text Is A Smart Layer

Should look Something Like This: Spoiler \(Click to View\)

Step 5:

Lets Start the animation. First You Need To Add the Timeline View Its In The Windows Tab. Once That Is Done Move The Shine Png or Your One To The Left Of the text Then Add A Frame With The Tool that looks Like Then Move the Shine To the far Right Of The text So You Cant See It Again.

Now Click the icon That looks like  And Then Add 35 Around frames Like this Spoiler (Click to View)

You Should get Something Like This:

Hope this Helped People Out I have Put Alot Time Into this So I hope It Was Worth It.

Zen???????????????? - September 25, 2014, 12:25 pm

It's a nice tutorial but in my opinion you don't go through every available option.

You should explain in depth how to make a nice shine effect instead of including your own in case people already don't know how.

At least I didn't think the shine effect was explained well.

Keep in mind, the more frames you add the smoother the shine effect will be.

Max file size on HF is 500K but I doubt it will exceed that with this simple effect so it doesn't hurt to throw a bit more frames in there.

You can always make your own line, instead of using a premade one.

Just create a similar shape with the rectangle tool and apply a gaussian blur to the line.

Eh, I wouldn't bother opening AE for a simple shine effect.

OT: Not a bad tutorial for the begginers. You can also create your own shine by creating a rectangle, cropping it so it looks a bit blurry, and then reducing the opacity. Rotate it a bit, and there you go.

Thanks you for the effort OP.
