Hey HF,

Is it possible to get a database of a website? and any spacial users good at it?

I can pay for it...Details will be sent via PM.

There are many spacial users who can get the database of the webiste you have in mind.
Head over to the SQLi section, there are many users who can help you there.

But 1 more thing to add, that the website is client login based. Registration is only done by the admin.
