New to hackforums, new to keyloggers. I was told to use Shadow Keylogger that it was a great keylogger but it is not really what I want. This is what I'm going for----

Keylogger on USB stick

Plug USB in computer

Autorun the Keylogger in background, saving every few minutes into a word file on the USB

Unplug the USB without having to type the password.

All while being undetected. If this is possible with Shadow Keylogger would someone help me? If not kindly point me in the right direction.
